RAILROAD STRIKE CALLED OFF

Moscow Is Willing To Discuss "Peace" With United States

Soviet Agrees With American Proposal

LONDON, Tuesday, May 11 (AP)—The Moscow radio said early today the Russian government has agreed with a United States proposal for "discussion and settlement" of existing differences between the two nations.

The broadcast disclosed a diplomatic exchange between the two countries concerning relations between the wartime allies.

A Russian statement dated May 9, the radio said, followed a United States note, sent by Ambassador Walter B. Smith to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov May 4, which warned Russia against expecting any change in American foreign policy.

The radio's paraphrase of Smith's statement said the recently formed "European Union of Nations and the United States of America, alarmed at the tendencies of Soviet policy, had united for mutual defense."

The broadcast, while expressing the Russian's willingness to discuss Soviet-American differences, gave no hint of when or how representatives of the two countries would get together.

The Russian statement, according to the radio, rejected American contentions that Soviet policy was at the root of worsening Russian-American relations.

Text Of U. S. Note Broadcast

The radio broadcast the text of the American note which Smith wrote so there "will be no misunderstanding." Its main points were:

1. United States policy, which "has become sufficiently definite of late," is supported by a majority of Americans and "will continue to be pursued energetically in the future."

2. "Internal political situations such as, for instance, the forthcoming (American) elections" have no influence at all on this policy.

3. The United States government has "no hostile or aggressive intentions" toward Russia.

4. "An economic crisis will not in any way touch the industrial capacity of the United States of America x x x ."

The American note closed with the assurance that the door to discussion of American-Russian problems stands open.

The main points of the Russian note were:

1. Russia has a "positive attitude" toward improving Soviet-American relations.

2. Russia "is in agreement with" the United States proposal for "discussion and settlement" of existing differences.

U. S. Contention Rejected

3. Russia rejects the United States contention that "the cause of the present unsatisfactory state of Soviet-American relations and the strain in the international situation is the policy of the USSR in Eastern Europe and the increase in influence of the Soviet Union."

4. Soviet relations with Eastern European countries have improved considerably since the war by means of mutual aid and friendship pacts aimed at a repetition of aggression by Germany and her possible allies.

5. Similarly, "It is known that the United States is also pursuing a policy of strengthening its relations with neighboring countries — for instance with Canada, Mexico and the other countries of America."

6. This Soviet policy will continue.

7. Russia has not interferred in the evolution of "democratic changes" within Eastern European countries.

Sforza Doesn't Aspire To Head Italian Republic

ROME, Tuesday, May 11 (AP)—Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, apparent leading candidate for the Italian presidency, has asked that his name be withdrawn, it was reported reliably early today.

Sources close to the 74-year-old Foreign Minister said Sforza told leaders of Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democratic Party that he preferred to withdraw rather than be elected.

The Parliament failed yesterday in two hotly-contested ballots to elect a president of the new republic. The vote was scheduled to be resumed later this morning.

On the second ballot yesterday, Sforza recorded a substantial gain over Enrico De Nicola, who has announced that he does not want the office. The Communist-dominated Popular Front was backing De Nicola.

Union Asks Steel To Expand Plants, Clear Bottleneck

Declares "Phony" Increases Created

BOSTON, May 10—(AP)—The CIO steel workers today demanded that the nation's steelmakers expand their basic plants to produce at least 10,000,000 more tons a year and blasted the industry as the country's "real bottleneck."

Officers of the CIO's biggest union charged the steel industry in the past two years has created "phony" production increases "aimed at raising its profit level, not at increasing total production."

They said:

"Steel is the real bottleneck in a whole network of industries.

Wage "Freeze" Attempts Hit

The annual report of the officers of the union, headed by CIO National President Philip Murray, also attacked American business in general for what the union called trying to "freeze" wages in a time of "fantastic" profits.

And the report announced that along with its economic battles the union is opening "a second front" politically—"a deadly serious assault in the political arena on the political lackeys of business who would happily destroy organized labor."

Keynoting that second front in this election year, the report declared.

"The Eightieth Congress is a constant reminder to workers that they must vote on election day to protect the spirit of enlightened Americanism of the New Deal years.

Pay Issue Remains Clouded

"Failure of the people to vote is clearly an invitation to disaster at the hands of the servants of corporate wealth and bigotry."

The report, prepared for Tuesday's opening of the union's biennial convention of 3,200 delegates, did not give definite answer to the top question which the convention is expected to decide—the 1949 wage demands when contracts with 1,583 firms expire next April 30.

Major steel companies rejected interim pay demands last month and announced price cuts to "fight inflation."

The officers' report said net profits after taxes for the steel industry will total "more than $600,000,000 in 1947" and said stockholders could expect a net worth return of 11 per cent compared to "a six per cent return generally considered reasonable."

Condon To Pass Up Atom Secrets Pending Check

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Dr. Edward U. Condon has "voluntarily agreed" not to learn any more atomic secrets until the Atomic Energy Commission double-checks his case, the new Secretary of Commerce, Charles Sawyer, announced today.

Sawyer, at the same time, declared there are no reasonable grounds for believing Condon disloyal. Condon, head of the government Bureau of Standards, has been under fire by the House Un-American Activities Committee which called him "one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

U. S. Uses New Approach In Relations With Russia

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP) — President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall apparently have launched a new, direct approach aimed at settling American-Russian differences.

This was disclosed tonight through a Moscow broadcast of an exchange of notes between the two countries.

America had told the Russians, Moscow said, that this country has "no hostile or aggresive intentions" toward their country.

The Russians in turn, Moscow broadcast, are in agreement with a United States proposal "for discussions and settlement" of existing differences between the two nations.

The exchanges of notes between the two nations apparently was "a high level" action.

One diplomatic official concerned with American relations with Soviet Russia said the Moscow radio's announcement of the exchange of notes was the first we had heard of it.

The American note, Moscow said, was delivered last week by Ambassador Walter B. Smith. The Russian reply was dated May 9.

The State department, however, was silent for the time being on whether the United States is, prepared to accept Moscow's offer to open discussions looking to a settlement of American Soviet differences.

A spokesman declined immediate comment on the announcement. Reporters were summoned to the State Department where it was planned to announce the complete text of the exchange.

Truman Makes Farm Problem Political Issue

Will Ask Long-Range Measures This Week

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP) — President Truman seized upon the farm problem as a 1948 campaign issue today with plans for a message to Congress this week on long-range agricultural legislation.

The idea originated with retiring Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and was put in final shape at a White House conference of Democratic leaders just after Anderson formally left the Cabinet to run for the Senate.

Anderson has told friends he believes such a plea to Congress would put the Republicans "on the spot."

Mr. Truman officially accepted Anderson's resignation today and almost immediately summoned his party's congressional leaders to a 45-minute session.

Emerging from that meeting, Senate Democratic Leader Barkley told reporters the message will go to the Capitol "within a few days."

Congress Cut Farm Funds

Barkley said Mr. Truman will ask for "adequate appropriation" to continue the government farm program "particularly on soil conservation."

He recalled that the President, in his budget message, asked for $300,000,000 for soil conservation in the year beginning July 1, and Congress cut the sum to $225,000,000.

Mr. Truman "feels strongly" that the $300,000,000 is the minimum for the work, Barkley added.

He said the President did not go into full details of the forthcoming message, and no specific figures on price supports were discussed.

The Senator said the price support program is being carried on now under the executive's war powers, and Mr. Truman will ask specifically for its extension.

The communication will also deal with any other farm powers expiring this year which need Congress' attention, Barkley said.

Message Due "This Week"

No specific date for the message was named but Barkley said it will come "this week." Mr. Truman will not deliver it in person.

Barkley said a successor for Anderson was not even discussed.

Anderson's idea seems to be that farmers should be convinced that:

(a) They have grown prosperous under Democratic administrations, and

(b) No other political party can make that claim.

Mr. Truman may have been thinking of the (a) part of this plan when he said in formally accepting Anderson's resignation:

"Thanks to your wise policies the farmers of the nation enjoy today the greatest prosperity in history. . . Every American farmer can bear witness to the benefits which have accrued from our administration."

The (b) part of the plan already has been stressed by Anderson.

He thinks the Republican-controlled Congress probably will refuse to act on any appeal from Mr. Truman for a long-range farm plan.

Violence Lessens In Southern Korea

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday, May 11 (AP) — Communist-directed violence took at least 25 lives yesterday in futile attempts to disrupt the South Korean election, but the night passed in unexpected quiet.

An overwhelming total of more than 6,000,000 voters—approaching 90 per cent of those registered—ran the Communist gauntlet and voted for a projected 200-member National Assembly in the first election in 4,000 years of Korean history.

Weekend violence starting Friday sent the death toll to at least 76 with scores injured and many arrested. Bombs hurled into polling places destroyed some ballots.

Korean police had expected the greatest Communist effort to be directed at destroying ballot boxes after the polls closed. Instead, violence trailed off during the day. This capital was calm under an overnight curfew.

Boxes which could not be delivered to district counting headquarters before dark were being brought in today.

Byrnes Will Offer Bill To Legalize Some Gaming

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10 (AP) — State Senate President Joseph R. Byrnes (D-Balto 5th) said tonight he would introduce a bill in the special session of the General Assembly to legalize raffles, chance wheels and other devices at benefit carnivals and bazaars.

Gov. Lane today called the special session for May 25.

Sen. Byrnes said his bill simply would permit "what has been done for years and years."

The "red flag" warning by Judge Herman M. Moser in the recent Knights of Columbus lottery case, he declared, cut a source of income from veterans posts, volunteer fire departments, religious and fraternal groups and others.

Lane Calls Assembly Session For May 25

Will Decide If State Employes Get Raise

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10 (AP) — Maryland's General Assembly will meet in a special session May 25 to decide whether state employes should receive a 10 per cent cost-of-living pay raise.

Gov. Lane called the session today, after conferring with leaders of the Legislature and state officials.

His announcement put to rest speculation that has bubbled since the first hint six weeks ago that an extraordinary session was in the wind.

Lane said the estimated cost of hiking most employes' pay was $2,101,654.

He reported a total of 6,429 positions on state employment rosters would be affected. None have been marked for a raise since the last general increase in September, 1946.

The scale for another 2,697 positions has been boosted in the meantime, the report of a special committee which probed the need for raises disclosed.

Miles Committee Urged Hikes

Of the latter, about 800 would be eligible for smaller cost-of-living checks to bring their total gain to 10 per cent. These have received only slight raises since 1946.

State Treasurer Hooper S. Miles headed the committee which recommended the 10 per cent raises.

The Governor concluded a lengthy statement on the impact of a larger payroll on state finances with this comment:

"After carefully considering the recommendations of Mr. Miles' committee and the advice of the Bureau of Revenue Estimates and the Budget Bureau, I believe that the state is in a financial position to absorb the cost of the salary increases recommended, but I am, also, convinced that the state is not in a financial position at this time to assume any greater burden.

"I shall recommend to the extraordinary session x x x that appropriations be made to implement the recommendations of the committee for a general increase to become effective July 1, 1948, and to make available funds to support actions already taken by the Standard Salary Board."

Other Bills Ready For Hopper

The Governor said the estimated cost included $949,249 from general funds and $800,260 from special funds. To continue raises approved by the salary board, another $277,820 would be added to general funds and $74,325 to special funds.

Whether the money would be appropriated in a lump sum for parceling out by the Board of Public Works or to individual departments is a matter for the Budget Bureau and Comptroller's office to settle,

Dixie Demos Will Act If Party OKs Civil Rights Plan

Meeting Would Be Held In Birmingham

JACKSON, Miss., May 10 (AP)—Dixie states' rights Democrats today voted to call a conference in Birmingham, Ala., in July to take "all necessary and appropriate actions" if the national party convention approves the civil rights program.

The convention here adjourned its half-day session after adopting this resolution by unanimous vote. It was presented by Horace C. Wilkinson, Birmingham, an Alabama presidential elector, and chairman of the convention's resolutions committee.

Georgia's delegation led by State Democratic Committee Chairman James Peters, withdrew from the convention anticipating this resolution, but remained as "observers." Peters said in an interview he did not feel he could speak for his state's voters on the resolution.

Wilkinson said in an interview the Birmingham conference would be able to do "anything the American people can do in a convention."

The resolution provides that the chairman of today's conference, Gov. Ben Laney, of Arkansas, may set the date of the Birmingham conference, but suggests July 17.

Delegates to the Birmingham conference will be selected by the State Democratic Executive Committees, and each state will be allowed as many delegates as it has presidential electors.

Today's convention was keynoted by South Carolina Gov. J. Storm Thurmond who told the convention the South has been "stabbed in the back" by President Truman's civil rights program.

Gov. Thurmond asserted the South should serve an ultimatum on the national party that southern voters "will not be bound to support the nominees (of the party) if such nominees or the party itself should advocate the so-called federal civil rights program."

Reds March On Mukden

NANKING, May 10 (AP)—A half million Communist troops were reported marching towards Mukden today.

A Chinese government spokesman predicted a "decisive battle" for that biggest Manchurian city.

Jewish Troops Win Battle For Vital Highway

Jerusalem Slated To Become Refuge

JERUSALEM, May 10 (AP)—Jewish sources said their troops battered through all Arab resistance tonight and opened the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem highway, vital convoy lane of Jerusalem's hungry Jews.

Haganah engineers moved up behind Jewish commando forces using bulldozers and dynamite to blast the Arabs out of positions in the rocky hills along the road.

Jewish reports said their commandos rooted Arabs out of Bab El Wad gorge on the winding mountain road, and then swept over the craggy hilltops to mop up clots of Arab resistance.

The first convoy in three weeks is scheduled to rumble over the road tomorrow morning, from Jerusalem to Tel Aviv, past bullet-scarred rocks where Arabs and Jews have fought bitterly for possession of the highway. A Jewish Agency spokesman announced the trucks would roll and it was expected a food convoy will move out towards Jerusalem from Palestine's coastal plains.

Arab Stonework Levelled

Jewish engineers, poised for five days waiting for the signal to move in, battered Arab stonework down once resistance was broken.

While the battle raged 10 miles west of Jerusalem, the International Red Cross awaited a written request from Arab and Jewish authorities to convert the Holy City into a neutral zone.

Jacques De Reynier, a Red Cross representative, told a news conference the organization already had received verbal assurances of cooperation from Arab and Jewish leaders.

If the Red Cross plan is placed in operation, Jerusalem and its suburbs would become like a giant hospital area, "a place of refuge which all may enter, respected by all armies," De Reynier said. The plan would entail disarming all Jewish and Arab fighters in the city. A temporary cease fire, agreed to Saturday by the Jews and Arabs, now prevails in Jerusalem.

Two crack Haganah brigades and some aircraft made up the Jewish force in the highway fighting which swirled around the Bab El Wad gorge, site of previous bitter battles.

Arabs Move To Higher Ground

Having abandoned the series of massive stone barriers they erected across the highway at the bottom of the gorge, the Arabs are trying to hold the adjacent high ground.

An Haganah officer at the scene predicted the entire area would be cleared of Arabs during the night and the first convoy could move tomorrow. Other danger points in the road have come under Jewish control recently. The highway is the lifeline for 100,000 Jews in Jerusalem.

A Jewish engineer corps is standing by at Jewish-occupied Abu Ghosh, five miles from the fighting zone, ready with tools and materials to clear away the barriers and

Lewis Asks New Anthracite Pact

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—It was the hard coal operators' turn today to get the bad news from John L. Lewis.

Lewis told them that, come July 10, he intends to end the contract covering 80,000 anthracite workers.

Without saying what his demands would be, Lewis suggested that wage conferences begin May 20. The present contract—which says either party can end it with a 30-day notice—was drafted in 1946.

Today's 60-day notice conforms with the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, and is similar to a notice the soft coal operators got on April 30.

But there the similarity ends.

Lewis usually starts the soft coal discussions by setting off a few sticks of verbal dynamite.

To the hard coal owners he said: "We will be glad to have your answer or suggestions. . ."

The notice was given in a letter to Ralph E. Taggart, chairman of the anthracite operators committee.

Most of the news was in two typical, non-stop Lewis sentences. The first sentence had 88 words, the second 87.

In addition to wages, Lewis said the contract should affect:

"Hours, rules, practices, differentials, inequalities, compensation and occupational disease laws, welfare, health, safety and all other pertinent matters appertaining to the anthracite industry."

Three Superforts Begin World-Girdling Trip

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Three B-29 Superforts left California today to circle the globe, the Air Force announced.

The planes headed east from the Castle Air Force base at Merced aiming for Okinawa where they will train with units of the Far East command.

After training, they will return to Merced by way of Japan and Alaska.

Unions' Resistance Is Finally Overcome By U. S. Court Order

Goldsborough Acts Following Seizure

WASHINGTON, May 10—The nationwide railway strike was called off tonight. Trains will run tomorrow.

It took the force of two branches of government, the executive and judiciary, to overcome the resistance of three unions which had set a strike for 6 a. m. tomorrow in pushing their demands for wage raises.

First, President Truman proclaimed seizure of all the roads in the name of the government to avert "a nationwide tragedy."

Second, Secretary of the Army Royall was turned down on his personal request to the union leaders to keep their men at work.

Finally, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, the same judge who has proved to be the legal nemesis of John L. Lewis, issued a restraining order telling the union chiefs:

Cancel the strike order and do nothing to encourage a walkout.

The unions—the engineers, firemen and switchmen — thus faced possible heavy penalties for contempt if they failed to comply. They announced that they had sent out telegrams cancelling the strike that would have tied up America's rail transportation system.

The long hours of tenseness and anxiety were over.

Ross Makes Announcement

About 9:30 p. m. EST, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announced.

"John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, has just received official word from the rail union leaders that the threatened strike has been called off.

"After the court order was served on the union leaders, their committees held a meeting and voted to rescind the 6 a. m. strike order."

David B. Robertson, of the firemen's union, speaking for the group, told Steelman that messages were going out immediately "notifying the railroad workers of the action just taken."

A little earlier, a press relations man for the firemen announced to a hotel lobby full of reporters, camera men and radio broadcasters that the three unions would comply with the court order.

Judge Goldsborough, who issued the order restraining the strike is the same jurist who fined John L. Lewis $20,000 and the United Mine Workers $1,400,000 for not calling off a strike quickly enough this year.

Marshals who served the papers on the union leaders—Robertson of the firemen, Alvanley Johnston of the engineers and A. J. Glover, Jr., of the switchmen—said they accepted service good-naturedly.

Emergency Is Cited

In asking for the restraining order, the Justice Department spoke of the emergency facing the nation, as did Mr. Truman in proclaiming government seizure.

The government petition said that the strike, if permitted to occur, "will imperil national health and safety."

It asked that the unions, their officers or other agents be enjoined "from in any manner encouraging, ordering, engaging in or taking any part in a threatened strike" and "from in any manner interfering with or affecting the orderly continuance of work in the railroad system."

Mediators Strive To Avert Walkout At Chrysler Corp.

DETROIT, May 10 (AP) — A strike threat still hung over the Chrysler Corporation tonight after government mediators sought to head off a walkout of 75,000 Chrysler employes Wednesday.

The mediators and spokesmen for both the company and the CIO United Auto Workers seemed hopeful of averting a major blow to the automobile industry in final bargaining sessions Tuesday.

But their optimism was not coupled with any progress reports from two brief conferences today.

"They have not offered one cent," said Norman Matthews, the UAW's national Chrysler director, as he emerged from the day's discussions.

Conferees Agree On 70-Group Air Force Measure

Draft-Training Bill Nears Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee today agreed on legislation providing $822,000,000 to get a modern 70-group Air Force started.

This means that the program will go to the White House, despite Secretary of Defense Forrestal's objection that it is so large as to throw the armed services out of balance.

The program calls for about 6,800 active combat planes, with 8,100 in storage. This compares with about 5,500 combat planes in the present 55-group force, with 7,500 in storage.

However, these figures do not tell the whole story. The new program calls for the purchase of many thousands of new planes to replace more obsolete ones in service.

Defense Bill Nears Floor

Meantime a combination draft and military training bill neared final approval by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It is scheduled for quick Senate consideration after its introduction as a committee bill.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) announced the settlement of differences on the bill containing funds for the 70-group program. These differences did not involve the 70-group program, but centered on other features of the bill.

The bill, previously passed overwhelmingly by both the Senate and House, provides more than $3,000,000,000 in cash and contract authorization for the armed services.

Most of these funds originally were set up in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. Under the bill as passed, the money can be used right away.

The administration did not ask for the $822,000,000 for a 70-group Air Force. Congress decided it should be provided anyway.

Ratification Certain

The program agreed upon by the conference committee is subject to Senate and House ratification before it goes to the White House, but such ratification is considered a foregone conclusion.

The Senate armed services committee labored this morning on its draft-training bill.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) told reporters only "about three" items in the measure remain to be passed on. He predicted formal approval by tomorrow for the measure which would:

Require registration of all men 18 through 25 and doctors through 45.

Authorize a two-year draft of men 19 through 25.

And provide a year's military training, with the regular forces but not as a part of them, for 18-year-olds.

5,000-Ton Motorship Sinking Near Honolulu

HONOLULU, May 10 (AP) — The 5,000-ton motorship Alaska is sinking between the islands of Hawaii and Maui, the Coast Guard reported today.

The Coast Guard said it was possible the vessel's crew had abandoned ship.

Three vessels were rushing to the scene, about 115 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Javelin Flung By Fellow Athlete Kills Midshipman

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10—(AP)—Midshipman George J. Eliopolus, 23, died today 20 minutes after a javelin flung by a fellow athlete pierced his neck, Navy officials reported.

Eliopolus, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Eliopolus, Rawlins, Wyoming, and a Naval Academy track athlete and varsity basketball player, was working out at Thompson Stadium when the accident occurred.

Capt. E. B. (Whitey) Taylor, Navy athletic director, said the second class midshipman was "struck in the neck by a javelin that slipped from the hands of Midshipman George B. Stone."

The academy said Stone is from Kingsport, Tenn.

Taylor said he didn't think the spear traveled more than 15 yards. Eliopolus himself pulled it from his neck, but collapsed immediately afterward.

Stone, a second classman, was "hospitalized suffering from shock," Capt. Taylor reported.

Navy Trainer Billy Fallon and others near the scene immediately rushed to the wounded midshipman's assistance. He received emergency treatment on the spot. Medical officers got there within four minutes, Taylor said.

They gave Eliopolus oxygen while in the ambulance on his way to the academy infirmary, but he died before he got there.

Lt. Comdr. Robert Kennington, gym medical officer, said death was due to internal hemorrhage.

Stone and Eliopolus had been working out together. Eliopolus was on the Navy basketball team for the past two seasons and was considered a likely starting prospect on the five this fall.

Weather Forecast

Soviet Agrees With American Proposal

LONDON, Tuesday, May 11 (AP)—The Moscow radio said early today the Russian government has agreed with a United States proposal for "discussion and settlement" of existing differences between the two nations.

The broadcast disclosed a diplomatic exchange between the two countries concerning relations between the wartime allies.

A Russian statement dated May 9, the radio said, followed a United States note, sent by Ambassador Walter B. Smith to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov May 4, which warned Russia against expecting any change in American foreign policy.

The radio's paraphrase of Smith's statement said the recently formed "European Union of Nations and the United States of America, alarmed at the tendencies of Soviet policy, had united for mutual defense."

The broadcast, while expressing the Russian's willingness to discuss Soviet-American differences, gave no hint of when or how representatives of the two countries would get together.

The Russian statement, according to the radio, rejected American contentions that Soviet policy was at the root of worsening Russian-American relations.

Text Of U. S. Note Broadcast

The radio broadcast the text of the American note which Smith wrote so there "will be no misunderstanding." Its main points were:

1. United States policy, which "has become sufficiently definite of late," is supported by a majority of Americans and "will continue to be pursued energetically in the future."

2. "Internal political situations such as, for instance, the forthcoming (American) elections" have no influence at all on this policy.

3. The United States government has "no hostile or aggressive intentions" toward Russia.

4. "An economic crisis will not in any way touch the industrial capacity of the United States of America x x x ."

The American note closed with the assurance that the door to discussion of American-Russian problems stands open.

The main points of the Russian note were:

1. Russia has a "positive attitude" toward improving Soviet-American relations.

2. Russia "is in agreement with" the United States proposal for "discussion and settlement" of existing differences.

U. S. Contention Rejected

3. Russia rejects the United States contention that "the cause of the present unsatisfactory state of Soviet-American relations and the strain in the international situation is the policy of the USSR in Eastern Europe and the increase in influence of the Soviet Union."

4. Soviet relations with Eastern European countries have improved considerably since the war by means of mutual aid and friendship pacts aimed at a repetition of aggression by Germany and her possible allies.

5. Similarly, "It is known that the United States is also pursuing a policy of strengthening its relations with neighboring countries — for instance with Canada, Mexico and the other countries of America."

6. This Soviet policy will continue.

7. Russia has not interferred in the evolution of "democratic changes" within Eastern European countries.

Sforza Doesn't Aspire To Head Italian Republic

ROME, Tuesday, May 11 (AP)—Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, apparent leading candidate for the Italian presidency, has asked that his name be withdrawn, it was reported reliably early today.

Sources close to the 74-year-old Foreign Minister said Sforza told leaders of Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democratic Party that he preferred to withdraw rather than be elected.

The Parliament failed yesterday in two hotly-contested ballots to elect a president of the new republic. The vote was scheduled to be resumed later this morning.

On the second ballot yesterday, Sforza recorded a substantial gain over Enrico De Nicola, who has announced that he does not want the office. The Communist-dominated Popular Front was backing De Nicola.

Union Asks Steel To Expand Plants, Clear Bottleneck

Declares "Phony" Increases Created

BOSTON, May 10—(AP)—The CIO steel workers today demanded that the nation's steelmakers expand their basic plants to produce at least 10,000,000 more tons a year and blasted the industry as the country's "real bottleneck."

Officers of the CIO's biggest union charged the steel industry in the past two years has created "phony" production increases "aimed at raising its profit level, not at increasing total production."

They said:

"Steel is the real bottleneck in a whole network of industries.

Wage "Freeze" Attempts Hit

The annual report of the officers of the union, headed by CIO National President Philip Murray, also attacked American business in general for what the union called trying to "freeze" wages in a time of "fantastic" profits.

And the report announced that along with its economic battles the union is opening "a second front" politically—"a deadly serious assault in the political arena on the political lackeys of business who would happily destroy organized labor."

Keynoting that second front in this election year, the report declared.

"The Eightieth Congress is a constant reminder to workers that they must vote on election day to protect the spirit of enlightened Americanism of the New Deal years.

Pay Issue Remains Clouded

"Failure of the people to vote is clearly an invitation to disaster at the hands of the servants of corporate wealth and bigotry."

The report, prepared for Tuesday's opening of the union's biennial convention of 3,200 delegates, did not give definite answer to the top question which the convention is expected to decide—the 1949 wage demands when contracts with 1,583 firms expire next April 30.

Major steel companies rejected interim pay demands last month and announced price cuts to "fight inflation."

The officers' report said net profits after taxes for the steel industry will total "more than $600,000,000 in 1947" and said stockholders could expect a net worth return of 11 per cent compared to "a six per cent return generally considered reasonable."

Truman Makes Farm Problem Political Issue

Will Ask Long-Range Measures This Week

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP) — President Truman seized upon the farm problem as a 1948 campaign issue today with plans for a message to Congress this week on long-range agricultural legislation.

The idea originated with retiring Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and was put in final shape at a White House conference of Democratic leaders just after Anderson formally left the Cabinet to run for the Senate.

Anderson has told friends he believes such a plea to Congress would put the Republicans "on the spot."

Mr. Truman officially accepted Anderson's resignation today and almost immediately summoned his party's congressional leaders to a 45-minute session.

Emerging from that meeting, Senate Democratic Leader Barkley told reporters the message will go to the Capitol "within a few days."

Congress Cut Farm Funds

Barkley said Mr. Truman will ask for "adequate appropriation" to continue the government farm program "particularly on soil conservation."

He recalled that the President, in his budget message, asked for $300,000,000 for soil conservation in the year beginning July 1, and Congress cut the sum to $225,000,000.

Mr. Truman "feels strongly" that the $300,000,000 is the minimum for the work, Barkley added.

He said the President did not go into full details of the forthcoming message, and no specific figures on price supports were discussed.

The Senator said the price support program is being carried on now under the executive's war powers, and Mr. Truman will ask specifically for its extension.

The communication will also deal with any other farm powers expiring this year which need Congress' attention, Barkley said.

Message Due "This Week"

No specific date for the message was named but Barkley said it will come "this week." Mr. Truman will not deliver it in person.

Barkley said a successor for Anderson was not even discussed.

Anderson's idea seems to be that farmers should be convinced that:

(a) They have grown prosperous under Democratic administrations, and

(b) No other political party can make that claim.

Mr. Truman may have been thinking of the (a) part of this plan when he said in formally accepting Anderson's resignation:

"Thanks to your wise policies the farmers of the nation enjoy today the greatest prosperity in history. . . Every American farmer can bear witness to the benefits which have accrued from our administration."

The (b) part of the plan already has been stressed by Anderson.

He thinks the Republican-controlled Congress probably will refuse to act on any appeal from Mr. Truman for a long-range farm plan.

Lane Calls Assembly Session For May 25

Will Decide If State Employes Get Raise

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10 (AP) — Maryland's General Assembly will meet in a special session May 25 to decide whether state employes should receive a 10 per cent cost-of-living pay raise.

Gov. Lane called the session today, after conferring with leaders of the Legislature and state officials.

His announcement put to rest speculation that has bubbled since the first hint six weeks ago that an extraordinary session was in the wind.

Lane said the estimated cost of hiking most employes' pay was $2,101,654.

He reported a total of 6,429 positions on state employment rosters would be affected. None have been marked for a raise since the last general increase in September, 1946.

The scale for another 2,697 positions has been boosted in the meantime, the report of a special committee which probed the need for raises disclosed.

Miles Committee Urged Hikes

Of the latter, about 800 would be eligible for smaller cost-of-living checks to bring their total gain to 10 per cent. These have received only slight raises since 1946.

State Treasurer Hooper S. Miles headed the committee which recommended the 10 per cent raises.

The Governor concluded a lengthy statement on the impact of a larger payroll on state finances with this comment:

"After carefully considering the recommendations of Mr. Miles' committee and the advice of the Bureau of Revenue Estimates and the Budget Bureau, I believe that the state is in a financial position to absorb the cost of the salary increases recommended, but I am, also, convinced that the state is not in a financial position at this time to assume any greater burden.

"I shall recommend to the extraordinary session x x x that appropriations be made to implement the recommendations of the committee for a general increase to become effective July 1, 1948, and to make available funds to support actions already taken by the Standard Salary Board."

Other Bills Ready For Hopper

The Governor said the estimated cost included $949,249 from general funds and $800,260 from special funds. To continue raises approved by the salary board, another $277,820 would be added to general funds and $74,325 to special funds.

Whether the money would be appropriated in a lump sum for parceling out by the Board of Public Works or to individual departments is a matter for the Budget Bureau and Comptroller's office to settle,

Dixie Demos Will Act If Party OKs Civil Rights Plan

Meeting Would Be Held In Birmingham

JACKSON, Miss., May 10 (AP)—Dixie states' rights Democrats today voted to call a conference in Birmingham, Ala., in July to take "all necessary and appropriate actions" if the national party convention approves the civil rights program.

The convention here adjourned its half-day session after adopting this resolution by unanimous vote. It was presented by Horace C. Wilkinson, Birmingham, an Alabama presidential elector, and chairman of the convention's resolutions committee.

Georgia's delegation led by State Democratic Committee Chairman James Peters, withdrew from the convention anticipating this resolution, but remained as "observers." Peters said in an interview he did not feel he could speak for his state's voters on the resolution.

Wilkinson said in an interview the Birmingham conference would be able to do "anything the American people can do in a convention."

The resolution provides that the chairman of today's conference, Gov. Ben Laney, of Arkansas, may set the date of the Birmingham conference, but suggests July 17.

Delegates to the Birmingham conference will be selected by the State Democratic Executive Committees, and each state will be allowed as many delegates as it has presidential electors.

Today's convention was keynoted by South Carolina Gov. J. Storm Thurmond who told the convention the South has been "stabbed in the back" by President Truman's civil rights program.

Gov. Thurmond asserted the South should serve an ultimatum on the national party that southern voters "will not be bound to support the nominees (of the party) if such nominees or the party itself should advocate the so-called federal civil rights program."

Jewish Troops Win Battle For Vital Highway

Jerusalem Slated To Become Refuge

JERUSALEM, May 10 (AP)—Jewish sources said their troops battered through all Arab resistance tonight and opened the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem highway, vital convoy lane of Jerusalem's hungry Jews.

Haganah engineers moved up behind Jewish commando forces using bulldozers and dynamite to blast the Arabs out of positions in the rocky hills along the road.

Jewish reports said their commandos rooted Arabs out of Bab El Wad gorge on the winding mountain road, and then swept over the craggy hilltops to mop up clots of Arab resistance.

The first convoy in three weeks is scheduled to rumble over the road tomorrow morning, from Jerusalem to Tel Aviv, past bullet-scarred rocks where Arabs and Jews have fought bitterly for possession of the highway. A Jewish Agency spokesman announced the trucks would roll and it was expected a food convoy will move out towards Jerusalem from Palestine's coastal plains.

Arab Stonework Levelled

Jewish engineers, poised for five days waiting for the signal to move in, battered Arab stonework down once resistance was broken.

While the battle raged 10 miles west of Jerusalem, the International Red Cross awaited a written request from Arab and Jewish authorities to convert the Holy City into a neutral zone.

Jacques De Reynier, a Red Cross representative, told a news conference the organization already had received verbal assurances of cooperation from Arab and Jewish leaders.

If the Red Cross plan is placed in operation, Jerusalem and its suburbs would become like a giant hospital area, "a place of refuge which all may enter, respected by all armies," De Reynier said. The plan would entail disarming all Jewish and Arab fighters in the city. A temporary cease fire, agreed to Saturday by the Jews and Arabs, now prevails in Jerusalem.

Two crack Haganah brigades and some aircraft made up the Jewish force in the highway fighting which swirled around the Bab El Wad gorge, site of previous bitter battles.

Arabs Move To Higher Ground

Having abandoned the series of massive stone barriers they erected across the highway at the bottom of the gorge, the Arabs are trying to hold the adjacent high ground.

An Haganah officer at the scene predicted the entire area would be cleared of Arabs during the night and the first convoy could move tomorrow. Other danger points in the road have come under Jewish control recently. The highway is the lifeline for 100,000 Jews in Jerusalem.

A Jewish engineer corps is standing by at Jewish-occupied Abu Ghosh, five miles from the fighting zone, ready with tools and materials to clear away the barriers and

Unions' Resistance Is Finally Overcome By U. S. Court Order

Goldsborough Acts Following Seizure

WASHINGTON, May 10—The nationwide railway strike was called off tonight. Trains will run tomorrow.

It took the force of two branches of government, the executive and judiciary, to overcome the resistance of three unions which had set a strike for 6 a. m. tomorrow in pushing their demands for wage raises.

First, President Truman proclaimed seizure of all the roads in the name of the government to avert "a nationwide tragedy."

Second, Secretary of the Army Royall was turned down on his personal request to the union leaders to keep their men at work.

Finally, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, the same judge who has proved to be the legal nemesis of John L. Lewis, issued a restraining order telling the union chiefs:

Cancel the strike order and do nothing to encourage a walkout.

The unions—the engineers, firemen and switchmen — thus faced possible heavy penalties for contempt if they failed to comply. They announced that they had sent out telegrams cancelling the strike that would have tied up America's rail transportation system.

The long hours of tenseness and anxiety were over.

Ross Makes Announcement

About 9:30 p. m. EST, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announced.

"John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, has just received official word from the rail union leaders that the threatened strike has been called off.

"After the court order was served on the union leaders, their committees held a meeting and voted to rescind the 6 a. m. strike order."

David B. Robertson, of the firemen's union, speaking for the group, told Steelman that messages were going out immediately "notifying the railroad workers of the action just taken."

A little earlier, a press relations man for the firemen announced to a hotel lobby full of reporters, camera men and radio broadcasters that the three unions would comply with the court order.

Judge Goldsborough, who issued the order restraining the strike is the same jurist who fined John L. Lewis $20,000 and the United Mine Workers $1,400,000 for not calling off a strike quickly enough this year.

Marshals who served the papers on the union leaders—Robertson of the firemen, Alvanley Johnston of the engineers and A. J. Glover, Jr., of the switchmen—said they accepted service good-naturedly.

Emergency Is Cited

In asking for the restraining order, the Justice Department spoke of the emergency facing the nation, as did Mr. Truman in proclaiming government seizure.

The government petition said that the strike, if permitted to occur, "will imperil national health and safety."

It asked that the unions, their officers or other agents be enjoined "from in any manner encouraging, ordering, engaging in or taking any part in a threatened strike" and "from in any manner interfering with or affecting the orderly continuance of work in the railroad system."

Mediators Strive To Avert Walkout At Chrysler Corp.

DETROIT, May 10 (AP) — A strike threat still hung over the Chrysler Corporation tonight after government mediators sought to head off a walkout of 75,000 Chrysler employes Wednesday.

The mediators and spokesmen for both the company and the CIO United Auto Workers seemed hopeful of averting a major blow to the automobile industry in final bargaining sessions Tuesday.

But their optimism was not coupled with any progress reports from two brief conferences today.

"They have not offered one cent," said Norman Matthews, the UAW's national Chrysler director, as he emerged from the day's discussions.

Conferees Agree On 70-Group Air Force Measure

Draft-Training Bill Nears Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee today agreed on legislation providing $822,000,000 to get a modern 70-group Air Force started.

This means that the program will go to the White House, despite Secretary of Defense Forrestal's objection that it is so large as to throw the armed services out of balance.

The program calls for about 6,800 active combat planes, with 8,100 in storage. This compares with about 5,500 combat planes in the present 55-group force, with 7,500 in storage.

However, these figures do not tell the whole story. The new program calls for the purchase of many thousands of new planes to replace more obsolete ones in service.

Defense Bill Nears Floor

Meantime a combination draft and military training bill neared final approval by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It is scheduled for quick Senate consideration after its introduction as a committee bill.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) announced the settlement of differences on the bill containing funds for the 70-group program. These differences did not involve the 70-group program, but centered on other features of the bill.

The bill, previously passed overwhelmingly by both the Senate and House, provides more than $3,000,000,000 in cash and contract authorization for the armed services.

Most of these funds originally were set up in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. Under the bill as passed, the money can be used right away.

The administration did not ask for the $822,000,000 for a 70-group Air Force. Congress decided it should be provided anyway.

Ratification Certain

The program agreed upon by the conference committee is subject to Senate and House ratification before it goes to the White House, but such ratification is considered a foregone conclusion.

The Senate armed services committee labored this morning on its draft-training bill.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) told reporters only "about three" items in the measure remain to be passed on. He predicted formal approval by tomorrow for the measure which would:

Require registration of all men 18 through 25 and doctors through 45.

Authorize a two-year draft of men 19 through 25.

And provide a year's military training, with the regular forces but not as a part of them, for 18-year-olds.

Condon To Pass Up Atom Secrets Pending Check

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Dr. Edward U. Condon has "voluntarily agreed" not to learn any more atomic secrets until the Atomic Energy Commission double-checks his case, the new Secretary of Commerce, Charles Sawyer, announced today.

Sawyer, at the same time, declared there are no reasonable grounds for believing Condon disloyal. Condon, head of the government Bureau of Standards, has been under fire by the House Un-American Activities Committee which called him "one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

U. S. Uses New Approach In Relations With Russia

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP) — President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall apparently have launched a new, direct approach aimed at settling American-Russian differences.

This was disclosed tonight through a Moscow broadcast of an exchange of notes between the two countries.

America had told the Russians, Moscow said, that this country has "no hostile or aggresive intentions" toward their country.

The Russians in turn, Moscow broadcast, are in agreement with a United States proposal "for discussions and settlement" of existing differences between the two nations.

The exchanges of notes between the two nations apparently was "a high level" action.

One diplomatic official concerned with American relations with Soviet Russia said the Moscow radio's announcement of the exchange of notes was the first we had heard of it.

The American note, Moscow said, was delivered last week by Ambassador Walter B. Smith. The Russian reply was dated May 9.

The State department, however, was silent for the time being on whether the United States is prepared to accept Moscow's offer to open discussions looking to a settlement of American Soviet differences.

A spokesman declined immediate comment on the announcement. Reporters were summoned to the State Department where it was planned to announce the complete text of the exchange.

Violence Lessens In Southern Korea

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday, May 11 (AP) — Communist-directed violence took at least 25 lives yesterday in futile attempts to disrupt the South Korean election, but the night passed in unexpected quiet.

An overwhelming total of more than 6,000,000 voters—approaching 90 per cent of those registered—ran the Communist gauntlet and voted for a projected 200-member National Assembly in the first election in 4,000 years of Korean history.

Weekend violence starting Friday sent the death toll to at least 76 with scores injured and many arrested. Bombs hurled into polling places destroyed some ballots.

Korean police had expected the greatest Communist effort to be directed at destroying ballot boxes after the polls closed. Instead, violence trailed off during the day. This capital was calm under an overnight curfew.

Boxes which could not be delivered to district counting headquarters before dark were being brought in today.

Byrnes Will Offer Bill To Legalize Some Gaming

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10 (AP) — State Senate President Joseph R. Byrnes (D-Balto 5th) said tonight he would introduce a bill in the special session of the General Assembly to legalize raffles, chance wheels and other devices at benefit carnivals and bazaars.

Gov. Lane today called the special session for May 25.

Sen. Byrnes said his bill simply would permit "what has been done for years and years."

Lewis Asks New Anthracite Pact

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—It was the hard coal operators' turn today to get the bad news from John L. Lewis.

Lewis told them that, come July 10, he intends to end the contract covering 80,000 anthracite workers.

Without saying what his demands would be, Lewis suggested that wage conferences begin May 20. The present contract—which says either party can end it with a 30-day notice—was drafted in 1946.

Today's 60-day notice conforms with the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, and is similar to a notice the soft coal operators got on April 30.

But there the similarity ends.

Lewis usually starts the soft coal discussions by setting off a few sticks of verbal dynamite.

To the hard coal owners he said:

"We will be glad to have your answer or suggestions. . ."

The notice was given in a letter to Ralph E. Taggart, chairman of the anthracite operators committee.

Most of the news was in two typical, non-stop Lewis sentences. The first sentence had 88 words, the second 87.

In addition to wages, Lewis said the contract should affect:

"Hours, rules, practices, differentials, inequalities, compensation and occupational disease laws, welfare, health, safety and all other pertinent matters appertaining to the anthracite industry."

Three Superforts Begin World-Girdling Trip

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Three B-29 Superforts left California today to circle the globe, the Air Force announced.

The planes headed east from the Castle Air Force base at Merced aiming for Okinawa where they will train with units of the Far East command.

After training, they will return to Merced by way of Japan and Alaska.

5,000-Ton Motorship Sinking Near Honolulu

HONOLULU, May 10 (AP) — The 5,000-ton motorship Alaska is sinking between the islands of Hawaii and Maui, the Coast Guard reported today.

The Coast Guard said it was possible the vessel's crew had abandoned ship.

Three vessels were rushing to the scene, about 115 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Javelin Flung By Fellow Athlete Kills Midshipman

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10—(AP)—Midshipman George J. Eliopolus, 23, died today 20 minutes after a javelin flung by a fellow athlete pierced his neck, Navy officials reported.

Eliopolus, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Eliopolus, Rawlins, Wyoming, and a Naval Academy track athlete and varsity basketball player, was working out at Thompson Stadium when the accident occurred.

Capt. E. B. (Whitey) Taylor, Navy athletic director, said the second class midshipman was "struck in the neck by a javelin that slipped from the hands of Midshipman George B. Stone."

The academy said Stone is from Kingsport, Tenn.

Taylor said he didn't think the spear traveled more than 15 yards. Eliopolus himself pulled it from his neck, but collapsed immediately afterward.

Stone, a second classman, was "hospitalized suffering from shock," Capt. Taylor reported.

Navy Trainer Billy Fallon and others near the scene immediately rushed to the wounded midshipman's assistance. He received emergency treatment on the spot. Medical officers got there within four minutes, Taylor said.

They gave Eliopolus oxygen while in the ambulance on his way to the academy infirmary, but he died before he got there.

Lt. Comdr. Robert Kennington, gym medical officer, said death was due to internal hemorrhage.

Stone and Eliopolus had been working out together. Eliopolus was on the Navy basketball team for the past two seasons and was considered a likely starting prospect on the five this fall.

Palestine Regime Debated In U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, May 10—(AP)—United Nations delegates opened debate today on creation of a six-man regime for Palestine.

The delegates want some decision by the 58-member special United Nations Assembly before Britain drops her Palestine mandate Friday midnight.

A roughly-drawn resolution was laid before a 12-member sub committee this morning by Finn Moe of Norway.

Moe merely acted as secretary. No delegate officially sponsored the plan but it generally represented views expressed in the sub committee's secret debates last week.

Principal points of the proposal:

1. The Assembly would create a United Nations temporary control commission in Palestine.

2. The Assembly would take into consideration the situation in Palestine, where Jews have virtually enforced by their own arms the boundaries set out in the United Nations partition scheme last November 29.

3. The temporary commission would represent the United Nations in Palestine in all matters not connected with the Security Council's truce order; act as intermediary in moves to carry on local services; see what are the possibilities for eventual agreement between Jews and Arabs; and finally, report on the situation to the regular Assembly meeting in Paris September 21.

State Demo Convention Date Will Be Set Today

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP) — A decision on a date for the Maryland Democratic convention will be made in Washington tomorrow, with Tuesday, June 1, as the likely choice.

Robert Ennis, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, has suggested that date. Party leaders will meet in the offices of Sen. Millard F. Tydings to take action.

European Jews Planning Emigration To Palestine

ROME, May 10. (AP)—Tens of thousands of European Jewish immigrants are planning a mass exodus from Italian ports for Palestine, it was learned today.

They will be led by a front line of youths of fighting age, said Arie Stern, Jewish Agency representative here. In an interview he disclosed plans for emigration of "tens of thousands" of Jews from Germany, Austria and Italy.

The mass movement is expected to begin with proclamation of the Jewish free state, anticipated May 16. It will depend, also, on Jewish seizure and control of entry ports in Palestine.

Illinois Governor's Stand Encourages Taft Backers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 10 (AP)—Gov. Dwight H. Green's proclaimed neutralitz on GOP presidential candidates today encouraged Taft supporters trying to win Illinois' 56 votes at Philadelphia.

Stassen backers, carefully respecting Green's favorite son position, also expressed hope of swinging some Illinois delegates after early balloting.

No official stand on presidential candidates was taken by the 6,000 state Republican workers at their meeting here today. There was scattered speculation about others besides Taft and Stassen.

Contested Election Report May Be Made Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—A report on a contested Maryland senatorial election may be made Wednesday by the Senate Rules Subcommittee, Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said today.

Jenner and Sen. Myers (D-Pa), at a two-hour closed session, prepared a final draft of the report on the contest brought against Sen. O'Conor (D-Md) by D. J. Markey, Republican.

Whether the report will be made to the full committee Wednesday, Jenner told reporters, will depend on whether Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) returns to Washington in time. Bricker is the third member of the subcommittee.

Union's Resistance

Judge Goldsborough issued a restraining order, returnable before him May 19. The unions can argue their case then, but in the meanwhile they are on notice not to strike. To do so would risk contempt of court action. When the order is argued, the government no doubt will ask that the temporary order be made into an outright injunction.

Johnston Says "No, No, No"

Judge Goldsborough's order said that any railroad strike would "imperil national health and safety and interfere and obstruct the effective performance in discharge of vital and necessary government functions, and will frustrate the powers conferred by the constitution and by the acts of Congress upon the Executive branch of the government, and cause the United States of America to suffer irreparable injury for which it has no adequate remedy at law."

President Johnston, of the Engineers, who has been the No. 1 spokesman for the unions, was asked tonight for comment on the restraining order.

"No, no, no," he replied.

Johnston had said once today that the unions "of course" would obey an injunction. Later, but before the order was issued, he said that the maneuver to get an injunction did "not necessarily" mean that the strike was called off.

Before Royall's statement was issued, Johnston told reporters that despite Mr. Truman's appeal for the men to stay on the job, "we are not asking them to go back." This was a little cryptic as the strike hadn't begun.

The Arabs counterattacked for five hours this morning but failed to dislodge the Jews.

Palestine Regime Debated In U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, May 10—(AP)—United Nations delegates opened debate today on creation of a six-man regime for Palestine.

The delegates want some decision by the 58-member special United Nations Assembly before Britain drops her Palestine mandate Friday midnight.

A roughly-drawn resolution was laid before a 12-member sub committee this morning by Finn Moe of Norway.

Moe merely acted as secretary. No delegate officially sponsored the plan but it generally represented views expressed in the sub committee's secret debates last week.

Principal points of the proposal:

1. The Assembly would create a United Nations temporary control commission in Palestine.

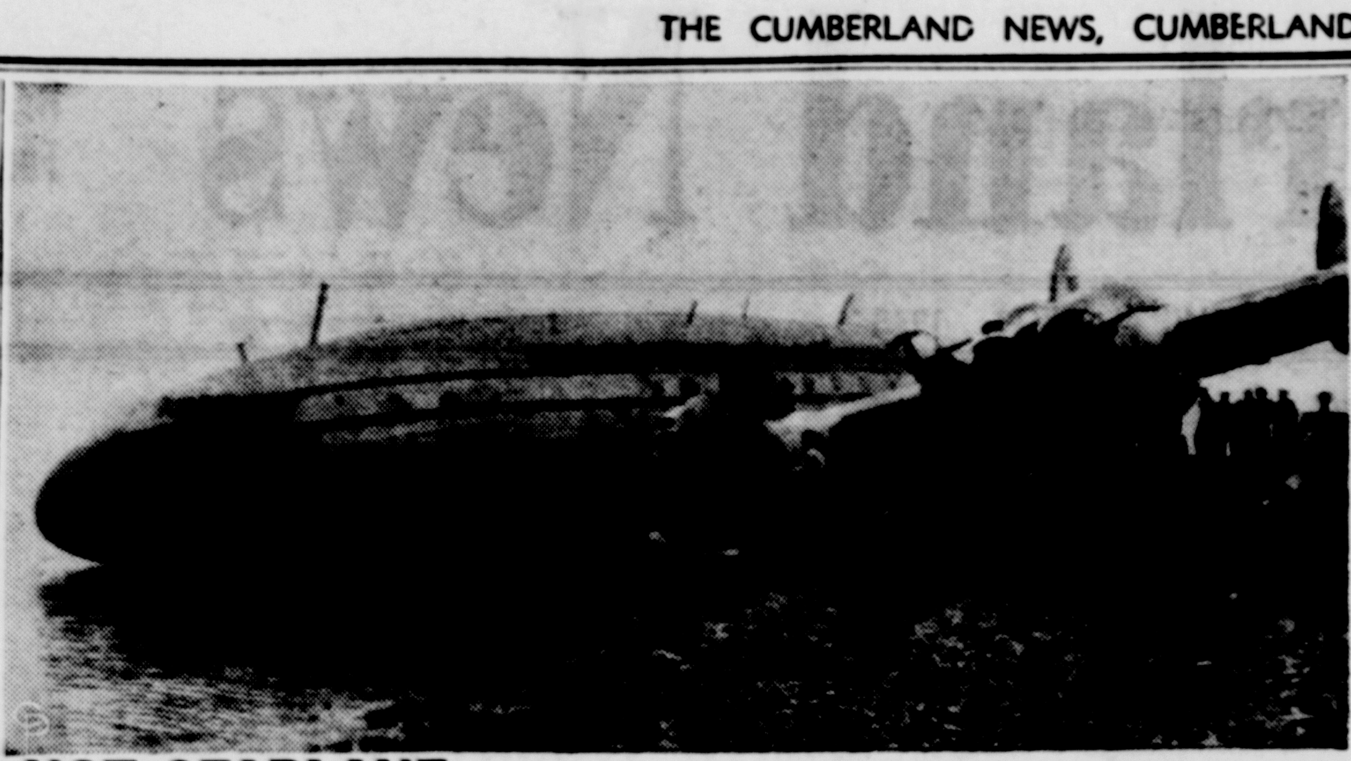
2. The Assembly would take into consideration the situation in Palestine, where Jews have virtually enforced by their own arms the boundaries set out in the United Nations partition scheme last November 29.

3. The temporary commission would represent the United Nations in Palestine in all matters not connected with the Security Council's truce order; act as intermediary in moves to carry on local services; see what are the possibilities for eventual agreement between Jews and Arabs; and finally, report on the situation to the regular Assembly meeting in Paris September 21.

State Demo Convention Date Will Be Set Today

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP) — A decision on a date for the Maryland Democratic convention will be made in Washington tomorrow, with Tuesday, June 1, as the likely choice.

Robert Ennis, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, has suggested that date. Party leaders will meet in the offices of Sen. Millard F. Tydings to take action.



NOT SEAPLANE-- Officials inspect the Constellation Sovereign of the Sky, which was forced to make an emergency landing at LaGuardia Field, New York, when smoke was detected in the pilot's compartment. In attempting a crash landing, the pilot overshot the runway and skidded into Flushing Bay. No one was reported seriously injured.

European Jews Planning Emigration To Palestine

ROME, May 10. (AP)—Tens of thousands of European Jewish immigrants are planning a mass exodus from Italian ports for Palestine, it was learned today.

They will be led by a front line of youths of fighting age, said Arie Stern, Jewish Agency representative here. In an interview he disclosed plans for emigration of "tens of thousands" of Jews from Germany, Austria and Italy.

The mass movement is expected to begin with proclamation of the Jewish free state, anticipated May 16. It will depend, also, on Jewish seizure and control of entry ports in Palestine.

Illinois Governor's Stand Encourages Taft Backers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 10 (AP)—Gov. Dwight H. Green's proclaimed neutralitz on GOP presidential candidates today encouraged Taft supporters trying to win Illinois' 56 votes at Philadelphia.

Stassen backers, carefully respecting Green's favorite son position, also expressed hope of swinging some Illinois delegates after early balloting.

No official stand on presidential candidates was taken by the 6,000 state Republican workers at their meeting here today. There was scattered speculation about others besides Taft and Stassen.

"Preaching" Negro Held In Death Of Fire Chief

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP)—A 39-year-old negro who "preached" from a rooftop in Baltimore was accused today of causing the death of a fire chief who tried to escort him down.

Lorenz A. Dolle, 63, died early this morning of a fractured skull, about 10 hours after police said he was kicked from a ladder and fell 25 feet to the ground.

Held in city jail was William Lane, who was charged with kicking and assaulting Dolle, thereby causing his death. A psychiatric examination was ordered after Magistrate August Kozlosky postponed a hearing until a later date.

Contested Election Report May Be Made Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—A report on a contested Maryland senatorial election may be made Wednesday by the Senate Rules Subcommittee, Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said today.

Jenner and Sen. Myers (D-Pa), at a two-hour closed session, prepared a final draft of the report on the contest brought against Sen. O'Conor (D-Md) by D. J. Markey, Republican.

Whether the report will be made to the full committee Wednesday, Jenner told reporters, will depend on whether Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) returns to Washington in time. Bricker is the third member of the subcommittee.

Union's Resistance

Judge Goldsborough issued a restraining order, returnable before him May 19. The unions can argue their case then, but in the meanwhile they are on notice not to strike. To do so would risk contempt of court action. When the order is argued, the government no doubt will ask that the temporary order be made into an outright injunction.

Johnston Says "No, No, No"

Judge Goldsborough's order said that any railroad strike would "imperil national health and safety and interfere and obstruct the effective performance in discharge of vital and necessary government functions, and will frustrate the powers conferred by the constitution and by the acts of Congress upon the Executive branch of the government, and cause the United States of America to suffer irreparable injury for which it has no adequate remedy at law."

President Johnston, of the Engineers, who has been the No. 1 spokesman for the unions, was asked tonight for comment on the restraining order.

"No, no, no," he replied.

Johnston had said once today that the unions "of course" would obey an injunction. Later, but before the order was issued, he said that the maneuver to get an injunction did "not necessarily" mean that the strike was called off.

Before Royall's statement was issued, Johnston told reporters that despite Mr. Truman's appeal for the men to stay on the job, "we are not asking them to go back." This was a little cryptic as the strike hadn't begun.

The heaviest fighting thus far has been for the Arab village of Beit Mashsir just over a hilltop from the highway. The Haganah command said no attempt has been made to capture the village, but merely to surround it with mortar and machine-gun strongpoints. The Arabs counterattacked for five hours this morning but failed to dislodge the Jews.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Boy, 15, Wants To Meet Girl But His Parents Object

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a boy 15 and would like to meet a girl I see going to and from school every day. She seems awfully nice, but all I know is her last name. She's always with other girls so I can't very well just walk up to her and talk to her. My parents don't like me talking to girls anyhow, and I've never dated one.

What can I do about both these situations?

"Lonesome".

Dear "Lonesome":

I assume that you also attend the same school as this girl, and so it doesn't seem as if it should be too hard to get acquainted with her. Can't you and some of the boys you know work together on this? You say she is always with other girls, so why couldn't you and some of the boys join forces in inviting her group for a soda or something after school as a beginning? Isn't there some one of your friends who knows this girl's full name and would be understanding enough to help you out so that you could write her a note some time and invite her to go to some school affair with you?

Of course this would bring you up against the second problem you mention, that of your parents' attitude toward your having girl friends. It seems to me that at 15 you should be allowed a little freedom in this respect. Have you tried asking some of your boy friends to the house so that your parents can get acquainted with them? If they hear the other boys talking about their dates, they may get used to the idea and realize that you should be having dates, too.

Rep. Beall Supports Bill Giving States Their Own

Congress has set out to nullify an Administration move at the expense of the states. The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill giving the states clear title to the submerged lands off their shores.

The original Administration move by former Interior Secretary Ickes to lay claim to the tidewater lands was a bald-faced grab for power. It ignored nearly a century of precedent, during which every administration tacitly conceded that the states held title to submerged lands. It was a typical act by a Government that regarded states rights as a useful doormat and nothing more.

This claim was upheld by the Supreme Court which ruled that the Federal Government had paramount rights in, full dominion and power over the disputed lands, and that the states did not hold title to them. The pending decision was given by President Truman as an excuse for vetoing a previous bill which would have reasserted the state's rights.

In effect the present legislation would nullify the Supreme Court's ruling. It passed the House by the overwhelming vote of 257 to 29, more than enough to kill a veto. And it should. The only argument for Federal title, outside pure selfish interest, is that the country needs in times of crisis, the vast oil lands which occupy some tidal areas. The present bill, however, contains a clause which would protect the Government in such a case, providing for obtaining oil by purchase or condemnation in wartime or when necessary for the national defense.

Fortunately for the country, the state of mind that started the whole argument is no longer quite so prevalent in Washington. The Senate should have no difficulty in agreeing with the House in this matter.

Representative J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth Congressional District, backed the measure in an address on the House floor. He pointed to the fact that, "under the common law and civil law, the States' sovereignty and authority over and title to said lands has been long acknowledged, affirmed and respected by the Federal Government whose powers were expressly delegated to it by the States at the time of the formation of our Government."

By his vote he upheld his belief in States' Rights, which has long been championed by Maryland.

Where Are Members Of The Communist Party Now?

The Communist Party has announced, through its "secretary," William Z. Foster, that if Congress passes the Mundt Bill, requiring all party members to register, it will "go underground." It will, according to Foster, defy the law requiring it to turn the names of members over to the FBI.

What difference would that make? The Communist Party, if it is not wholly underground, already has more burrows than a groundhog. It has a few members who, like Foster and Earl Browder, acknowledge membership and speak as Communists. Such acknowledged Communists, as long as they work in the open, can do relatively little harm.

But most of the Party's dirty work is done by Communists, fellow-travelers and dupes who deny all connection with the party and cry "redbaiter" at anybody who tried to expose their connections.

If the party officially went underground, there would be very little change in its activities. And it might be harder to catch them than it is now.

This dilemma illustrates the difficulty of drafting a satisfactory law to curb those Communist conspiracies that gain control of labor unions and various "front" organizations, fool innocent but gullible persons, and eventually hope to work the same game on the government itself.

Forcing Communists out into the open is a good idea but hard to implement. But their tactics are well known. And it might be possible to draft a law forbidding anyone from using those tactics within any political or social organizations.

Political Currents In The Southern States

While the Northern states have been absorbed in presidential and gubernatorial primaries, the Southern states have had parallel engrossments. Senator Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, the Wallace vice presidential candidate, was arrested in Birmingham, Alabama, for disorderly conduct in entering a Negro Youth Conference hall through the wrong door. In a Democratic primary, it looked as if Alabama would send a split delegation to the national convention; it was certain that eleven electors would be free to vote for any person they choose after the November election.

Meanwhile, the Tennessee Democrats voted down in convention a motion to instruct their national convention delegates to vote against President Truman's nomination. Texas Democrats held two barbecues, and under the direction of Governor Jester were told, said the Southern Weekly, that, as in the nursery rhyme, "they could go out to swim all right, but not go near the water." In other words, theirs was a "sham battle" and it was up to them to support the choices of their national convention. The Texas weekly concludes: "If a Southwise movement against the nominee of the Democratic National Convention develops, and if it has competent leadership, it may win the support of a majority of the mass of the voters of Texas. If not, then the only recourse is to vote Republican."

David L. Cohn, social historian, declares in his new book "Where I Was Born and Raised," that the Truman Civil Rights program has already resulted in a Southern revolt which might well become a revolution. Asserting that no one can view the Negro's position without a troubled conscience, or that of the Southern whites without sympathy, he urges that if American Democracy is to survive in the long run, each side will have to yield much to the other, but "out of conviction rather than compulsion."

If the Tennessee woman who has just awakened after a 12-year sleep will look things over carefully, she will discover she didn't miss much during her long nap.

Movie actresses in Hollywood are carrying potted plants in their bustles, offsetting the male habit of carry Four Roses on the hip.

Dr. Van Dellen

Liver extract and folic acid are excellent remedies for pernicious anemia but their effect is not curative; unless medication is continued forever, the condition returns. But this is a small price to pay for remaining alive and healthy, as in the past the malady always proved fatal.

The need for adequate treatment is worthy of emphasis because there is more to pernicious anemia than abnormalities of the blood. If neglected, certain nerves in the spine degenerate and should this process advance too far, little can be done to rectify the situation. The early signs of a neurological complication consist of numbness, tingling, and tenderness in the extremities. Such symptoms must be considered a warning that more liver is demanded; otherwise the individual stands a chance of losing the use of his arms and legs as in time, paralysis will ensue.

Liver extract protects against nerve involvement. In this respect, folic acid is not as valuable and cannot replace liver, even though it is capable of increasing the blood count. The failure of folic to prevent or alleviate nerve deterioration was not disappointing especially since the substance could be taken in tablet form rather than hypodermically. Consequently, if the patient uses this preparation, frequently examinations are essential should numbness and tingling of the extremities develop, it is necessary to switch to liver extract.

Many victims of pernicious anemia find it difficult to receive periodic liver injections. Some live a long distance from the physician's office; others are influenced by is no reason why the sufferer cannot is no reason why the sufferer conna take his own "shots" in much the same way as the diabetic gives himself insulin. By learning all there is to know about the disease, the pernicious anemia patient can decrease his visits to the medico and thus hold down expenses. But, like the diabetic, he must always be on the alert and if weakness, fatigue, or numbness are noted, no time should be lost in visiting his doctor.

It makes little difference whether folic acid or liver extract is employed but the latter is essential if early nerve symptoms are present. For the first few weeks large doses are required; thereafter, the amount is reduced, depending upon the individual and the symptoms. In some instances the blood will remain normal with one injection of liver every two or three weeks.

It is no longer necessary to eat large quanties of liver because concentrated extracts are 70 times more effective when employed hypodermically. A diet that is liberal in meat, green vegetables, and fruit is recommended by the number of calories depends upon the weight—more than the thin and less for the obese. If this regimen is followed, the ailment does not present a serious hazard; it is far easier to live with than many other disorders.

In studying the blood, limits have been set up in order to determine its condition. For example, if the red cells fall below 4,000,000, a certain type of anemia is said to exist; if the count is above this figure, the disorder is not present. Borderline cases obviously are found at the dividing line. As a rule, symptoms are not present.

RESISTANCE TO DRUGS

L. K. writes: Have there been any experiments that indicate whether or not the microbes which penicillin attacks can become resistant so that the drug is useless?

Reply

Yes, this phenomenon has been noted. Apparently some of the stronger strains of organisms become resistant to penicillin so that the preparation is no longer effective. When this occurs another antibiotic, such as streptomycin, is tried.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The home of a Brooklyn teacher was shot up on the eve of a mathematics exam. Those Brooklyn students are probably the kind who shoot first because someone's going to ask questions later.

Right before the shooting, the teacher got an anonymous call warning her to pass every one in the mathematics exams. . . or she'd be subtracted.

In that class if a student raises his hand and is ignored, the teacher has to raise both hands.

Teaching is getting so risky. . . if the history instructor wanted to lecture about General Sherman, she'd do it from a Sherman tank.

That history teacher asked one student, "Who assassinated Lincoln?" and the student answered "I'm no stool pigon."

Those teen-age trigger men enrolled in the drawing class and they were disappointed. They all dropped out when the instructor told them it had nothing to do with drawing guns.

Of course, at that school they don't have graduation exercises. . . the seniors highjack the diplomas.

Those rootin' tootin' shootin' kids from Brooklyn expect to go to college, too. That's why Columbia University played it safe and hired General Eisenhower to be its' president.

President Truman Extremely Touchy About Renomination; Turns Down State Department Recommendations To South Pacific Commission; Racial Issue

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 10—President Truman has become so touchy about his own renomination that it even enters into job appointments pertaining to the distant islands of the South Pacific.

Sometime ago the State Department selected two men to serve as U. S. representatives on the new South Pacific Commission and to work with Australia, France, England and other countries in helping the war-torn Pacific Islanders. The two men were Paul Smith, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, a Republican; and Richard Wells, New York attorney, a Democrat. Both are able, conscientious citizens, Smith having fought all over the South Pacific.

The State Department thought it had made a good selection. However, it reckoned without President Truman and his friend, the ebullient Ed Pauley, who made $1,000,000 gambling on the Commodity Market while working for the government. Just as Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the White House doctor, continues close to Truman despite his commodity gambling, so Pauley also ambles in and out of the White House whenever he wishes.

So when Pauley heard that Paul Smith was to be appointed to the South Pacific Commission, he called on Truman, told him that Smith's San Francisco Chronicle had opposed his (Pauley's) appointment to be Undersecretary of the Navy, and demanded that Smith be vetoed.

Simultaneously the State Department began to get intimations from the White House that Truman didn't like the Democratic Commissioner, Richard Wells.

The Touchy White House

At the State Department's suggestion, Wells had played down the fact that he had such rock-bottom Democrats behind him as Congressmen Carl Vinson of Georgia and Pat Drewery of Virginia. Instead he listed as his chief backer a former Assistant Secretary of State, Adolf Berle. Berle, once a strong Truman man, more recently joined the Roosevelt boys (and a few million other people) in hoping Truman would not run for re-election.

Suddenly, therefore the State Department phoned Wells, asked whether he shared Berle's views about Truman. Was he likely to come out against Truman? And what were his exact relations with Berle? The White House, it was explained, was touchy on the subject.

Wells, who is not an intimate of Berle's answered all this to the satisfaction of the State Department, and was told to get his passport, typhoid inoculation and be ready to leave San Francisco for Sydney, Australia, on May 8.

Meanwhile a strange silence settled over the White House. The State Department could get no commissions of appointment for either Wells or Smith. Appointment to the South Pacific Commission pays no salary. To serve is an act of pure patriotism. Yet the State Department could not get Mr. Truman's OK.

Friendship And South Pacific

Finally, Undersecretary Lovett went to the White House, reminded the President that the two commissioners had to be in Australia by May 11.

Next day a luncheon guest at the White House was Judge Sam Rosenman, now acting as Truman's unofficial brain-truster. Testily, Truman remarked that he had the papers on his desk making Paul Smith and Richard Wells South Pacific Commissioners. Smith, he said, was out because he was no friend of Ed Pauley's. Wells, he added, was a friend of Adolf Berle's.

Then the President proceeded to launch into a tirade against that so-and-so Berle. "I am not," he declared, "going to throw any bones to the Berle boys." And he asked Sam if he knew a good man to serve on the South Pacific Commission instead.

Rosenman replied that at the moment he didn't but later submitted the name of his law partner, Milton Shalleck. Milton had been appointed Judge Rosenman's law clerk at the instance of Jimmy Hines, the pailed Tammany leader who had given Rosenman his start as Bill-Drafting Commissioner in the New York Legislature.

So Milton Shalleck is now enroute to the South Pacific. With him as co-commissioner, is Felix Keesing, an Anthropology professor of Stanford University. Anthropology doesn't happen to enter into the economic and social problems of the South Pacific. But much more important is the fact that Keesing is a friend of Pauley's.

Queried by the New York Times just after his appointment, Shalleck said he had never been to the Pacific, knew nothing about the Pacific, had no interest in the Pacific. However, he is for the renomination of Harry Truman.

Race Problem In Mississippi

This column, reporting on certain race incidents in Mississippi, recently stated that the President's civil-rights message unfortunately had resulted in a reign of terror for Negroes in Mississippi.

Since then Congressmen Williams and Abernethy of Mississippi have been good enough to bring certain facts to my attention which show that some of the previous reports were incomplete or erroneous. For instance, while two Negroes were badly beaten up by the police of Jackson, Miss., yet both Negroes had criminal records, and in one case the Negro bystanders came to the aid of the White policeman. Obviously the policeman was conducting no reign of terror.

In the case of two incidents in Kosciusko, that city has an excellent reputation for law, order and fairness to the Colored race.

Furthermore, the Supreme Court of Mississippi recently leaned over backward to give a fair trial to a Negro, Sandy Magee, accused of killing a White man. Three times the Court reversed a lower court's decisioned which gave Magee the death sentence.

In view of the above, it is only fair to correct my previous mistaken impression about the treatment of Negroes in Mississippi which I am delighted herewith to do.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Profession and Performance

It is about time to take a second look at the portrait of the President officially painted for the world. This portrait depicts a man whose reverses have caused him to forget politics, and to think only of the job in hand. The President, it is said, is running for reelection by tending exclusively to the national knitting, without any of those little compromises, dodges or special arrangements which are customary when politicians have their eyes on the ballot boxes.

Unfortunately, the record is not in accord with the portrait, as three recent incidents, all in spheres of vital policy making, all too clearly indicate. The most recent of these incidents was the appointment of Major General John H. Hilldring as "special adviser to the Secretary of State on Palestine."

Since the shift in American policy on Palestine, the American Zionists have conducted a powerful double drive, to secure the dismissal of officials in the State Department whom they regard as enemies, and the appointment of men they consider friendly. They were within their rights in so doing. The President was equally within his rights in desiring that one of his Palestine advisory staff should command the confidence of the Jewish leaders.

• — • — •

The way in which Hilldring was named, however, is reminiscent of the most unfortunate earlier Presidential ventures in free-wheeling policy making. Long prior to the appointment of General Hilldring, the White House proposed to Secretary of State George C. Marshall that Hilldring be brought back into the State Department. Both Marshall and Under Secretary Robert Lovett showed little enthusiasm, tactfully expressing doubts as to Hilldring's availability because of his poor health. So far as they knew, nothing further was being done in the matter.

Yet meanwhile emissaries of the White House, among whom David K. Niles apparently figured, were independently urging Hilldring to accept the post. In the end, Hilldring gave his consent; his appointment was gazetted, and Secretary Marshall and Under Secretary Lovett learned they had acquired a new Palestine adviser from the morning paper.

Delicate negotiations to secure at least a temporary Arab-Jewish truce in Palestine were then in progress. Only one point remained in dispute. Probably no truce could in the end have been secured, since there was inevitably sharp disagreement on this remaining point in dispute, which was the extent of Jewish immigration during the truce period. In any case, the Hilldring appointment had an immediate adverse effect on this effort. The last, admittedly very faint hope of truce was killed by this new spasm of the Administration's schizophrenia on Palestine.

It is of course within the President's power to alter American Palestine policy again. Certainly the present hideous and dangerous mess is all but impossible to defend. The trouble is that Palestine policy, such as it is, has not really been changed by the Hilldring appointment. The net result of the appointment, or rather of the method of the appointment, has merely been to create the impression of fuzziness, lack of will and uncertainity of purpose. Nothing could have been more risky. Nothing could have been more unjust to Secretary Marshall. And in the last analysis, nothing could have been more unjust to the Zionists, who have simply been thrown a political sop in the form of Hilldring, and have thus been encouraged to feel false hopes.

In a rather different way, the President's awareness of what is often wrongly regarded as practical politics has also lately been manifested in the conduct of the European Cooperation Administration. The first effort of the White House was to name a Democrat—almost any Democrat—to the administrator's post now occupied by Paul Hoffman. This was frustrated by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who insisted on the choice of Hoffman. The President's strong feelings about E.C.A. appointments were further disclosed after Hoffman had been chosen and confirmed. The White House tried to induce Hoffman to take nominees of its own for several key jobs, including that of European ambassador-at-large now occupied by Averell Harriman. And when Hoffman proposed as his deputy administrator one of the ablest members of the President's own sub-cabinet, Under Secretary of Commerce William Foster, the President replied that he would not appoint any more Republicans.

Finally, there is the complex matter of the Atomic Energy Commission nominations. It is almost impossible to admire any one's behavior on this issue, which involves the future security of the United States, yet is now shot with politics. But it must be admitted that he present row was almost openly invited by the President. He made no effort in advance of renominating the members of the A.E.C. to secure the support of the two key Republican Senators, Vandenburg and Bourke B. Hickenlooper. He did not even consult with them. Then, when Senator Hickenlooper protested, the White House planted a news story charging the Senator with "political" motives, creating a sharp grievance. Trouble inevitably followed.

The sorry result is that the very scientists who most want Lilienthal and his colleagues continued in office for full terms do not absolve the President of blame. They think, in fact, that he remembered the pleasure of his former victory over the Senate on Lilienthal. They think he invited a fight in the hope of repeating this success. This sort of thing looks pretty picayune, in a President of the United States.

Drive Is On To Weaken The Taft-Hartley Labor Statute

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 10 — The drive is on to weaken the Taft-Hartley law. Gullible members of Congress are listening to propaganda cleverly devised by the National Labor Relations Board to do away with the elections under which the "union shop" is established.

The argument is that the labor board's machinery is "bogging down" because of the multiplicity of elections. Another contention is that, because the workers in 95 per cent of the cases vote for the "union shop," elections are superfluous. This is tantamount to saying that, because a state votes Democratic or Republican 95 per cent of the time, there is really no use in holding an election.

The excuse that it is expensive for the labor board to conduct elections is also rather far-fetched. Everybody who knows anything about labor-union matters is aware of the fact that the change-over from the now prohibited "closed shop" to the newly authorized "union shop" has caused a congestion of elections. This was expected. Once, however, those unions which now have a "closed shop" status have effected the transition, and once those unions which have for a long time maintained the "union shop" comply with the Taft-Hartley law's provisions, the number of election cases will dwindle.

It is significant also that in almost all the elections held thus far — about 95 per cent — the machinery was exercised by the consent of both the employers and the union. This indicates that the employer was satisfied that the union members really wanted the "union shop" and did not offer any of the challenges in procedure permissible under the law.

Established System Legalized

Thus the unions themselves would never have made test cases unless they were sure of the result. So the overwhelming number of elections in which the "union shop" is voted merely means that the established system in many instances is being legalized. This does not in any way indicate what would happen in the overwhelming number of instances in which there are neither "closed shops" nor "union shops." It was for this purpose that congress insisted that the workers themselves should decide the issue of compulsory unionization.

As a matter of fact, the House of Representatives in its original bill last year wanted to cut out the "union shop" too. There is nothing more repugnant to American civil rights than to say to a worker that he must join a union as a condition of retaining his job. The only difference really between the "union shop" and the "closed shop" is that in the latter the stipulation that a worker must join a union is made before a worker is hired, whereas in the case of a "union shop" he may be hired as a nonunion man but must agree to join the union within 30 days after his employment if a "union shop" exists in the plant.

Whichever way one looks at it, compulsory unionization is contrary to American civil rights. As a practical matter, there are often "logical" arguments behind the "union shop" and the "closed shop" principle, but they are no more logical than the arguments of certain big corporations that a monopoly is a better way to conduct business than by means of competition.

Senator Ives, of New York, Republican, who helped to keep the present New Deal members in service on the National Labor Relations Board, has introduced the new legislation. He gives the usual excuses for the abolition of the elections on "union shops." He says that it is causing "great administrative difficulty." He argues that the labor board is cluttered with election petitions and that the unions are voting for "union shops" by large majorities. Senator Ives, however, does not want to do away with the right of the employees to abandon a "union shop" whenever they feel that they want to get out of the shackles of the "union shop" arrangement. This does not by any means offer a remedy in the situations where a minority of the employees themselves are dragooned into voting for a "union shop" against their will through the old-fashioned union elections. The virtue of the labor board election is that it is secret and it is conducted impartially. There is no such thing as coercion in it. Many a so-called strike vote has been taken by labor unions in union halls where individuals are subject to penalties or punitive action if they do not vote as the majority does.

Election Is Democratic Process

It may be expensive to conduct elections, but it is the democratic process. The spending of $1,500,000 for elections is not as expensive as the spending of many millions of dollars for strikes which grow out of ill feeling inside the plants, and particularly the development of friction which results from the imposition of compulsory unionization.

The unions, too, would be making a mistake in abolishing the "union shop" elections. At present, when an impartial election is conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, it is a convincing demonstration of the way the majority feels in a plant. The mere fact that the unions vote overwhelmingly in certain instances for a "union shop" is a demonstration of truth to the employer that the employees really want the "union shop." Under the law it is not necessary for the employer to agree to accept a "union shop," but an election frequently offers him convincing proof of the will of the employees. To abolish the election merely means more labor strife and more suspicion on the part of employers that the employees are not expressing their true wishes when labor leaders come in to demand the "union shop" without having had an election to indicate the will of the workers.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Newsprint and ERP

Lord Rothermere recently raised the question of more newsprint for Great Britain. Certainly one of the most serious shortages in all the world is that of paper. If the truth is to be known to the people, there should be a great many newspapers, magazines and all sorts of vehicles of expression. The shortage of newsprint gives a tremendous advantage to those who are plentifully supplied, particularly governments, and handicaps those in the opposition. Lord Rothermere raised sharply the issue that if we wish to agitate for our theories of a free society in Europe, then the European newspapers, particularly the British, must have more newsprint.

Unfortunately, most of the newsprint today comes from Canada—one country. Newsprint from Finland and Scandinavia is scarce and the price is foul. Even the Canadian price is out of line and in the United States some newspapers are forced to buy in the Black Market at impossible prices to keep going at all. Some of the British newspapers own mills in Canada but they have no dollars to pay for what they get there.

They criticize the American newspapers for using too much, but it seems that that is immaterial, for their complaint thus far has only been that they lack the dollars to buy in Canada. Now they expect to get the dollars from Paul Hoffman, head of ECA, alias ERP.

In a period of shortage, therefore, it will be the American dollars, taken from our taxes, that will produce an increased newsprint scarcity for the American newspaper. The increase for Great Britain from Canada and Newfoundland will be 33,000 tons per year, paid for out of ERP dollar balances, and while it is likely that American newspapers may not complain to much about that, there is a fear that this is only a beginning, with other ERP countries making similar demands.

Americans would like to know precisely how these dollar balances, which we are handing to Europe as a gift, will be used.

In an official statement, Paul Hoffman "disclosed that figures obtained from official Canadian sources indicate newsprint production in Canada and Newoundland during 1948 will be approximately 4,875,000 tons, of which 285,000 tons will be consumed in Canada. Shipments to the United States are expected to be 3,960,000 tons. The proposed shipments to the United Kingdom from Canada and Newfoundland will be about three percent of the Dominion's output for the next fiscal year. . ."

It seems that much of this problem could be solved if the trade between Great Britain and Scandinavia could be stimulated by an exchange of British coal for Scandinavian pulpwood. England has a machine capacity to produce between 900,000 and 1,000,000 tons of newsprint annually. Of this capacity 700,000 tons is lying idle, because the British are unable to purchase pulpwood, which used to come mostly from Russia, Poland and Scandinavia.

Before the war, Great Britain used 1,325,000 tons, of which they imported 375,000 from Canada and Newfoundland. If they put their present idle machinery to work, they could easily fill that amount. Today the British only consume 325,000 tons of newsprint and the impression is general that that reduction in consumption, while the machinery is idle, is not unrelated to socialist politics.

They could obtain the pulpwood from Canada and Newfoundland for their newsprint mills at a cheaper cost than newsprint from the same countries. Thus far, the British government has not encouraged the import of pulpwood. In fact, Sir Eric Bowater, largest manufacturer of newsprint paper in the world, so admitted on March 11, 1948, in the annual report to his company.

It will be a serious mistake for Great Britain or any ERP country to use American money to compete with American newspapers for the supply of this essential but scarce commodity. It will create suspicion over all ERP arrangements. It is starting off with the wrong foot. Much sounder would be the import of pulpwood to put the idle British mills to work. Why should any mills be idle when there is such a shortage in this commodity and when pulpwood is available?

Now that dollars can be used—our dollars—they ought to buy the wood and let their own machines produce the paper they truly require.

Rep. Beall Supports Bill Giving States Their Own

Congress has set out to nullify an Administration move at the expense of the states. The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill giving the states clear title to the submerged lands off their shores.

The original Administration move by former Interior Secretary Ickes to lay claim to the tidewater lands was a bald-faced grab for power. It ignored nearly a century of precedent, during which every administration tacitly conceded that the states held title to submerged lands. It was a typical act by a Government that regarded states rights as a useful doormat and nothing more.

This claim was upheld by the Supreme Court which ruled that the Federal Government had paramount rights in, full dominion and power over the disputed lands, and that the states did not hold title to them. The pending decision was given by President Truman as an excuse for vetoing a previous bill which would have reasserted the state's rights.

In effect the present legislation would nullify the Supreme Court's ruling. It passed the House by the overwhelming vote of 257 to 29, more than enough to kill a veto. And it should. The only argument for Federal title, outside pure selfish interest, is that the country needs in times of crisis, the vast oil lands which occupy some tidal areas. The present bill, however, contains a clause which would protect the Government in such a case, providing for obtaining oil by purchase or condemnation in wartime or when necessary for the national defense.

Fortunately for the country, the state of mind that started the whole argument is no longer quite so prevalent in Washington. The Senate should have no difficulty in agreeing with the House in this matter.

Representative J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth Congressional District, backed the measure in an address on the House floor. He pointed to the fact that, "under the common law and civil law, the States' sovereignty and authority over and title to said lands has been long acknowledged, affirmed and respected by the Federal Government whose powers were expressly delegated to it by the States at the time of the formation of our Government."

By his vote he upheld his belief in States' Rights, which has long been championed by Maryland.

Where Are Members Of The Communist Party Now?

The Communist Party has announced, through its "secretary," William Z. Foster, that if Congress passes the Mundt Bill, requiring all party members to register, it will "go underground." It will, according to Foster, defy the law requiring it to turn the names of members over to the FBI.

What difference would that make? The Communist Party, if it is not wholly underground, already has more burrows than a groundhog. It has a few members who, like Foster and Earl Browder, acknowledge membership and speak as Communists. Such acknowledged Communists, as long as they work in the open, can do relatively little harm.

But most of the Party's dirty work is done by Communists, fellow-travelers and dupes who deny all connection with the party and cry "redbaiter" at anybody who tried to expose their connections.

If the party officially went underground, there would be very little change in its activities. And it might be harder to catch them than it is now.

This dilemma illustrates the difficulty of drafting a satisfactory law to curb those Communist conspiracies that gain control of labor unions and various "front" organizations, fool innocent but gullible persons, and eventually hope to work the same game on the government itself.

Forcing Communists out into the open is a good idea but hard to implement. But their tactics are well known. And it might be possible to draft a law forbidding anyone from using those tactics within any political or social organizations.

Political Currents In The Southern States

While the Northern states have been absorbed in presidential and gubernatorial primaries, the Southern states have had parallel engrossments. Senator Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, the Wallace vice presidential candidate, was arrested in Birmingham, Alabama, for disorderly conduct in entering a Negro Youth Conference hall through the wrong door. In a Democratic primary, it looked as if Alabama would send a split delegation to the national convention; it was certain that eleven electors would be free to vote for any person they choose after the November election.

Meanwhile, the Tennessee Democrats voted down in convention a motion to instruct their national convention delegates to vote against President Truman's nomination. Texas Democrats held two barbecues, and under the direction of Governor Jester were told, said the Southern Weekly, that, as in the nursery rhyme, "they could go out to swim all right, but not go near the water." In other words, theirs was a "sham battle" and it was up to them to support the choices of their national convention. The Texas weekly concludes: "If a Southwise movement against the nominee of the Democratic National Convention develops, and if it has competent leadership, it may win the support of a majority of the mass of the voters of Texas. If not, then the only recourse is to vote Republican."

David L. Cohn, social historian, declares in his new book "Where I Was Born and Raised," that the Truman Civil Rights program has already resulted in a Southern revolt which might well become a revolution. Asserting that no one can view the Negro's position without a troubled conscience, or that of the Southern whites without sympathy, he urges that if American Democracy is to survive in the long run, each side will have to yield much to the other, but "out of conviction rather than compulsion."

If the Tennessee woman who has just awakened after a 12-year sleep will look things over carefully, she will discover she didn't miss much during her long nap.

Movie actresses in Hollywood are carrying potted plants in their bustles, offsetting the male habit of carry Four Roses on the hip.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Liver Or Folic Acid In Pernicious Anemia

Dr. Van Dellen

Liver extract and folic acid are excellent remedies for pernicious anemia but their effect is not curative; unless medication is continued forever, the condition returns. But this is a small price to pay for remaining alive and healthy, as in the past the malady always proved fatal.

The need for adequate treatment is worthy of emphasis because there is more to pernicious anemia than abnormalities of the blood. If neglected, certain nerves in the spine degenerate and should this process advance too far, little can be done to rectify the situation. The early signs of a neurological complication consist of numbness, tingling, and tenderness in the extremities. Such symptoms must be considered a warning that more liver is demanded; otherwise the individual stands a chance of losing the use of his arms and legs as in time, paralysis will ensue.

Liver extract protects against nerve involvement. In this respect, folic acid is not as valuable and cannot replace liver, even though it is capable of increasing the blood count. The failure of folic to prevent or alleviate nerve deterioration was not disappointing especially since the substance could be taken in tablet form rather than hypodermically. Consequently, if the patient uses this preparation, frequently examinations are essential should numbness and tingling of the extremities develop, it is necessary to switch to liver extract.

* * *

Many victims of pernicious anemia find it difficult to receive periodic liver injections. Some live a long distance from the physician's office; others are influenced by is no reason why the sufferer cannot is no reason why the sufferer conna take his own "shots" in much the same way as the diabetic gives himself insulin. By learning all there is to know about the disease, the pernicious anemia patient can decrease his visits to the medico and thus hold down expenses. But, like the diabetic, he must always be on the alert and if weakness, fatigue, or numbness are noted, no time should be lost in visiting his doctor.

* * *

It makes little difference whether folic acid or liver extract is employed but the latter is essential if early nerve symptoms are present. For the first few weeks large doses are required; thereafter, the amount is reduced, depending upon the individual and the symptoms. In some instances the blood will remain normal with one injection of liver every two or three weeks.

It is no longer necessary to eat large quanties of liver because concentrated extracts are 70 times more effective when employed hypodermically. A diet that is liberal in meat, green vegetables, and fruit is reccommended by the number of calories depends upon the weight—more than the thin and less for the obese. If this regimen is followed, the ailment does not present a serious hazard; it is far easier to live with than many other disorders.

ON THE FENCE

G. W. writes: What is borderline anemia?

Reply

In studying the blood, limits have been set up in order to determine its condition. For example, if the red cells fall below 4,000,000, a certain type of anemia is said to exist; if the count is above this figure, the disorder is not present. Borderline cases obviously are found at the dividing line. As a rule, symptoms are not present.

RESISTANCE TO DRUGS

L. K. writes: Have there been any experiments that indicate whether or not the microbes which penicillin attacks can become resistant so that the drug is useless?

Reply

Yes, this phenomenon has been noted. Apparently some of the stronger strains of organisms become resistant to penicillin so that the preparation is no longer effective. When this occurs another antibiotic, such as streptomycin, is tried.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The home of a Brooklyn teacher was shot up on the eve of a mathematics exam. Those Brooklyn students are probably the kind who shoot first because someone's going to ask questions later.

Right before the shooting, the teacher got an anonymous call warning her to pass every one in the mathematics exams. . . or she'd be subtracted.

In that class if a student raises his hand and is ignored, the teacher has to raise both hands.

Teaching is getting so risky. . . if the history instructor wanted to lecture about General Sherman, she'd do it from a Sherman tank.

That history teacher asked one student, "Who assassinated Lincoln?" and the student answered "I'm no stool pigon."

Those teen-age trigger men enrolled in the drawing class and they were disappointed. They all dropped out when the instructor told them it had nothing to do with drawing guns.

Of course, at that school they don't have graduation exercises. . . the seniors highjack the diplomas.

Those rootin' tootin' shootin' kids from Brooklyn expect to go to college, too. That's why Columbia University played it safe and hired General Eisenhower to be its' president.

President Truman Extremely Touchy About Renomination; Turns Down State Department Recommendations To South Pacific Commission; Racial Issue

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 10—President Truman has become so touchy about his own renomination that it even enters into job appointments pertaining to the distant islands of the South Pacific.

Sometime ago the State Department selected two men to serve as U. S. representatives on the new South Pacific Commission and to work with Australia, France, England and other countries in helping the war-torn Pacific Islanders. The two men were Paul Smith, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, a Republican; and Richard Wells, New York attorney, a Democrat. Both are able, conscientious citizens, Smith having fought all over the South Pacific.

The State Department thought it had made a good selection. However, it reckoned without President Truman and his friend, the ebullient Ed Pauley, who made $1,000,000 gambling on the Commodity Market while working for the government. Just as Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the White House doctor, continues close to Truman despite his commodity gambling, so Pauley also ambles in and out of the White House whenever he wishes.

So when Pauley heard that Paul Smith was to be appointed to the South Pacific Commission, he called on Truman, told him that Smith's San Francisco Chronicle had opposed his (Pauley's) appointment to be Undersecretary of the Navy, and demanded that Smith be vetoed.

Simultaneously the State Department began to get intimations from the White House that Truman didn't like the Democratic Commissioner, Richard Wells.

The Touchy White House

At the State Department's suggestion, Wells had played down the fact that he had such rock-bottom Democrats behind him as Congressmen Carl Vinson of Georgia and Pat Drewery of Virginia. Instead he listed as his chief backer a former Assistant Secretary of State, Adolf Berle. Berle, once a strong Truman man, more recently joined the Roosevelt boys (and a few million other people) in hoping Truman would not run for re-election.

Suddenly, therefore the State Department phoned Wells, asked whether he shared Berle's views about Truman. Was he likely to come out against Truman? And what were his exact relations with Berle? The White House, it was explained, was touchy on the subject.

Wells, who is not an intimate of Berle's answered all this to the satisfaction of the State Department, and was told to get his passport, typhoid inoculation and be ready to leave San Francisco for Sydney, Australia, on May 8.

Meanwhile a strange silence settled over the White House. The State Department could get no commissions of appointment for either Wells or Smith. Appointment to the South Pacific Commission pays no salary. To serve is an act of pure patriotism. Yet the State Department could not get Mr. Truman's OK.

Friendship And South Pacific

Finally, Undersecretary Lovett went to the White House, reminded the President that the two commissioners had to be in Australia by May 11.

Next day a luncheon guest at the White House was Judge Sam Rosenman, now acting as Truman's unofficial brain-truster. Testily, Truman remarked that he had the papers on his desk making Paul Smith and Richard Wells South Pacific Commissioners. Smith, he said, was out because he was no friend of Ed Pauley's. Wells, he added, was a friend of Adolf Berle's.

Then the President proceeded to launch into a tirade against that so-and-so Berle. "I am not," he declared, "going to throw any bones to the Berle boys." And he asked Sam if he knew a good man to serve on the South Pacific Commission instead.

Rosenman replied that at the moment he didn't but later submitted the name of his law partner, Milton Shalleck. Milton had been appointed Judge Rosenman's law clerk at the instance of Jimmy Hines, the pailed Tammany leader who had given Rosenman his start as Bill-Drafting Commissioner in the New York Legislature.

So Milton Shalleck is now enroute to the South Pacific. With him as co-commissioner, is Felix Keesing, an Anthropology professor of Stanford University. Anthropology doesn't happen to enter into the economic and social problems of the South Pacific. But much more important is the fact that Keesing is a friend of Pauley's.

Queried by the New York Times just after his appointment, Shalleck said he had never been to the Pacific, knew nothing about the Pacific, had no interest in the Pacific. However, he is for the renomination of Harry Truman.

Race Problem In Mississippi

This column, reporting on certain race incidents in Mississippi, recently stated that the President's civil-rights message unfortunately had resulted in a reign of terror for Negroes in Mississippi.

Since then Congressmen Williams and Abernethy of Mississippi have been good enough to bring certain facts to my attention which show that some of the previous reports were incomplete or erroneous. For instance, while two Negroes were badly beaten up by the police of Jackson, Miss., yet both Negroes had criminal records, and in one case the Negro bystanders came to the aid of the White policeman. Obviously the policeman was conducting no reign of terror.

In the case of two incidents in Kosciusko, that city has an excellent reputation for law, order and fairness to the Colored race.

Furthermore, the Supreme Court of Mississippi recently leaned over backward to give a fair trial to a Negro, Sandy Magee, accused of killing a White man. Three times the Court reversed a lower court's decisioned which gave Magee the death sentence.

In view of the above, it is only fair to correct my previous mistaken impression about the treatment of Negroes in Mississippi which I am delighted herewith to do.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Profession and Performance

It is about time to take a second look at the portrait of the President officially painted for the world. This portrait depicts a man whose reverses have caused him to forget politics, and to think only of the job in hand. The President, it is said, is running for re-election by tending exclusively to the national knitting, without any of those little compromises, dodges or special arrangements which are customary when politicians have their eyes on the ballot boxes.

Unfortunately, the record is not in accord with the portrait, as three recent incidents, all in spheres of vital policy making, all too clearly indicate. The most recent of these incidents was the appointment of Major General John H. Hilldring as "special adviser to the Secretary of State on Palestine."

Since the shift in American policy on Palestine, the American Zionists have conducted a powerful double drive, to secure the dismissal of officials in the State Department whom they regard as enemies, and the appointment of men they consider friendly. They were within their rights in so doing. The President was equally within his rights in desiring that one of his Palestine advisory staff should command the confidence of the Jewish leaders.

* * *

The way in which Hilldring was named, however, is reminiscent of the most unfortunate earlier Presidential ventures in free-wheeling policy making. Long prior to the appointment of General Hilldring, the White House proposed to Secretary of State George C. Marshall that Hilldring be brought back into the State Department. Both Marshall and Under Secretary Robert Lovett showed little enthusiasm, tactfully expressing doubts as to Hilldring's availability because of his poor health. So far as they knew, nothing further was being done in the matter.

Yet meanwhile emissaries of the White House, among whom David K. Niles apparently figured, were independently urging Hilldring to accept the post. In the end, Hilldring gave his consent; his appointment was gazetted, and Secretary Marshall and Under Secretary Lovett learned they had acquired a new Palestine adviser from the morning paper.

Delicate negotiations to secure at least a temporary Arab-Jewish truce in Palestine were then in progress. Only one point remained in dispute. Probably no truce could in the end have been secured, since there was inevitably sharp disagreement on this remaining point in dispute, which was the extent of Jewish immigration during the truce period. In any case, the Hilldring appointment had an immediate adverse effect on this effort. The last, admittedly very faint hope of truce was killed by this new spasm of the Administration's schizophrenia on Palestine.

* * *

It is of course within the President's power to alter American Palestine policy again. Certainly the present hideous and dangerous mess is all but impossible to defend. The trouble is that Palestine policy, such as it is, has not really been changed by the Hilldring appointment. The net result of the appointment, or rather of the method of the appointment, has merely been to create the impression of fuzziness, lack of will and uncertainity of purpose. Nothing could have been more risky. Nothing could have been more unjust to Secretary Marshall. And in the last analysis, nothing could have been more unjust to the Zionists, who have simply been thrown a political sop in the form of Hilldring, and have thus been encouraged to feel false hopes.

In a rather different way, the President's awareness of what is often wrongly regarded as practical politics has also lately been manifested in the conduct of the European Cooperation Administration. The first effort of the White House was to name a Democrat—almost any Democrat—to the administrator's post now occupied by Paul Hoffman. This was frustrated by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who insisted on the choice of Hoffman. The President's strong feelings about E.C.A. appointments were further disclosed after Hoffman had been chosen and confirmed. The White House tried to induce Hoffman to take nominees of its own for several key jobs, including that of European ambassador-at-large now occupied by Averell Harriman. And when Hoffman proposed as his deputy administrator one of the ablest members of the President's own sub-cabinet, Under Secretary of Commerce William Foster, the President replied that he would not appoint any more Republicans.

* * *

Finally, there is the complex matter of the Atomic Energy Commission nominations. It is almost impossible to admire any one's behavior on this issue, which involves the future security of the United States, yet is now shot with politics. But it must be admitted that he present row was almost openly invited by the President. He made no effort in advance of renominating the members of the A.E.C. to secure the support of the two key Republican Senators, Vandenburg and Bourke B. Hickenlooper. He did not even consult with them. Then, when Senator Hickenlooper protested, the White House planted a news story charging the Senator with "political" motives, creating a sharp grievance. Trouble inevitably followed.

The sorry result is that the very scientists who most want Lilienthal and his colleagues continued in office for full terms do not absolve the President of blame. They think, in fact, that he remembered the pleasure of his former victory over the Senate on Lilienthal. They think he invited a fight in the hope of repeating this success. This sort of thing looks pretty picayune, in a President of the United States.

Drive Is On To Weaken The Taft-Hartley Labor Statute

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 10 — The drive is on to weaken the Taft-Hartley law. Gullible members of Congress are listening to propaganda cleverly devised by the National Labor Relations Board to do away with the elections under which the "union shop" is established.

The argument is that the labor board's machinery is "bogging down" because of the multiplicity of elections. Another contention is that, because the workers in 95 per cent of the cases vote for the "union shop," elections are superfluous. This is tantamount to saying that, because a state votes Democratic or Republican 95 per cent of the time, there is really no use in holding an election.

The excuse that it is expensive for the labor board to conduct elections is also rather far-fetched. Everybody who knows anything about labor-union matters is aware of the fact that the change-over from the now prohibited "closed shop" to the newly authorized "union shop" has caused a congestion of elections. This was expected. Once, however, those unions which now have a "closed shop" status have effected the transition, and once those unions which have for a long time maintained, the "union shop" comply with the Taft-Hartley law's provisions, the number of election cases will dwindle.

It is significant also that in almost all the elections held thus far — about 95 per cent — the machinery was exercised by the consent of both the employers and the union. This indicates that the employer was satisfied that the union members really wanted the "union shop" and did not offer any of the challenges in procedure permissible under the law.

Established System Legalized

Thus the unions themselves would never have made test cases unless they were sure of the result. So the overwhelming number of elections in which the "union shop" is voted merely means that the established system in many instances is being legalized. This does not in any way indicate what would happen in the overwhelming number of instances in which there are neither "closed shops" nor "union shops." It was for this purpose that congress insisted that the workers themselves should decide the issue of compulsory unionization.

As a matter of fact, the House of Representatives in its original bill last year wanted to cut out the "union shop" too. There is nothing more repugnant to American civil rights than to say to a worker that he must join a union as a condition of retaining his job. The only difference really between the "union shop" and the "closed shop" is that in the latter the stipulation that a worker must join a union is made before a worker is hired, whereas in the case of a "union shop" he may be hired as a nonunion man but must agree to join the union within 30 days after his employment if a "union shop" exists in the plant.

Whichever way one looks at it, compulsory unionization is contrary to American civil rights. As a practical matter, there are often "logical" arguments behind the "union shop" and the "closed shop" principle, but they are no more logical than the arguments of certain big corporations that a monopoly is a better way to conduct business than by means of competition.

Senator Ives, of New York, Republican, who helped to keep the present New Deal members in service on the National Labor Relations Board, has introduced the new legislation. He gives the usual excuses for the abolition of the elections on "union shops." He says that it is causing "great administrative difficulty." He argues that the labor board is cluttered with election petitions and that the unions are voting for "union shops" by large majorities. Senator Ives, however, does not want to do away with the right of the employees to abandon a "union shop" whenever they feel that they want to get out of the shackles of the "union shop" arrangement. This does not by any means offer a remedy in the situations where a minority of the employees themselves are dragooned into voting for a "union shop" against their will through the old-fashioned union elections. The virtue of the labor board election is that it is secret and it is conducted impartially. There is no such thing as coercion in it. Many a so-called strike vote has been taken by labor unions in union halls where individuals are subject to penalties or punitive action if they do not vote as the majority does.

Election Is Democratic Process

It may be expensive to conduct elections, but it is the democratic process. The spending of $1,500,000 for elections is not as expensive as the spending of many millions of dollars for strikes which grow out of ill feeling inside the plants, and particularly the development of friction which results from the imposition of compulsory unionization.

The unions, too, would be making a mistake in abolishing the "union shop" elections. At present, when an impartial election is conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, it is a convincing demonstration of the way the majority feels in a plant. The mere fact that the unions vote overwhelmingly in certain instances for a "union shop" is a demonstration of truth to the employer that the employees really want the "union shop." Under the law it is not necessary for the employer to agree to accept a "union shop," but an election frequently offers him convincing proof of the will of the employees. To abolish the election merely means more labor strife and more suspicion on the part of employers that the employees are not expressing their true wishes when labor leaders come in to demand the "union shop" without having had an election to indicate the will of the workers.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Newsprint and ERP

Lord Rothermere recently raised the question of more newsprint for Great Britain. Certainly one of the most serious shortages in all the world is that of paper. If the truth is to be known to the people, there should be a great many newspapers, magazines and all sorts of vehicles of expression. The shortage of newsprint gives a tremendous advantage to those who are plentifully supplied, particularly governments, and handicaps those in the opposition. Lord Rothermere raised sharply the issue that if we wish to agitate for our theories of a free society in Europe, then the European newspapers, particularly the British, must have more newsprint.

Unfortunately, most of the newsprint today comes from Canada—one country. Newsprint from Finland and Scandinavia is scarce and the price is foul. Even the Canadian price is out of line and in the United States some newspapers are forced to buy in the Black Market at impossible prices to keep going at all. Some of the British newspapers own mills in Canada but they have no dollars to pay for what they get there.

They criticize the American newspapers for using too much, but it seems that that is immaterial, for their complaint thus far has only been that they lack the dollars to buy in Canada. Now they expect to get the dollars from Paul Hoffman, head of ECA, alias ERP.

In a period of shortage, therefore, it will be the American dollars, taken from our taxes, that will produce an increased newsprint scarcity for the American newspaper. The increase for Great Britain from Canada and Newfoundland will be 33,000 tons per year, paid for out of ERP dollar balances, and while it is likely that American newspapers may not complain to much about that, there is a fear that this is only a beginning, with other ERP countries making similar demands.

Americans would like to know precisely how these dollar balances, which we are handing to Europe as a gift, will be used.

In an official statement, Paul Hoffman "disclosed that figures obtained from official Canadian sources indicate newsprint production in Canada and Newoundland during 1948 will be approximately 4,875,000 tons, of which 285,000 tons will be consumed in Canada. Shipments to the United States are expected to be 3,960,000 tons. The proposed shipments to the United Kingdom from Canada and Newfoundland will be about three percent of the Dominion's output for the next fiscal year. . ."

It seems that much of this problem could be solved if the trade between Great Britain and Scandinavia could be stimulated by an exchange of British coal for Scandinavian pulpwood. England has a machine capacity to produce between 900,000 and 1,000,000 tons of newsprint annually. Of this capacity 700,000 tons is lying idle, because the British are unable to purchase pulpwood, which used to come mostly from Russia, Poland and Scandinavia.

Before the war, Great Britain used 1,325,000 tons, of which they imported 375,000 from Canada and Newfoundland. If they put their present idle machinery to work, they could easily fill that amount. Today the British only consume 325,000 tons of newsprint and the impression is general that that reduction in consumption, while the machinery is idle, is not unrelated to socialist politics.

They could obtain the pulpwood from Canada and Newfoundland for their newsprint mills at a cheaper cost than newsprint from the same countries. Thus far, the British government has not encouraged the import of pulpwood. In fact, Sir Eric Bowater, largest manufacturer of newsprint paper in the world, so admitted on March 11, 1948, in the annual report to his company.

It will be a serious mistake for Great Britain or any ERP country to use American money to compete with American newspapers for the supply of this essential but scarce commodity. It will create suspicion over all ERP arrangements. It is starting off with the wrong foot. Much sounder would be the import of pulpwood to put the idle British mills to work. Why should any mills be idle when there is such a shortage in this commodity and when pulpwood is available?

Now that dollars can be used—our dollars—they ought to buy the wood and let their own machines produce the paper they truly require.

Spiritual Nourishment

Within a month I have twice visited the National Gallery of Art at Washington, D. C. It is one of the most beautiful buildings and undoubtedly the most beautiful Art Gallery in America. It was the gift of Mr. Andrew W. Mellon to the nation, including his priceless collection of paintings. Great benefactors have since added materially to the collection, so that it promises, not perhaps to be the biggest, but one of the finest in all this world.

Currently the great collection of German paintings have been on exhibition—202 of them—and it has been a rage privilege to view them. About a million people have seen them, and I sincerely hope they may be sent about the country so that many millions may see this group that is beyond all material worth. The collection, of course, is in charge of the U. S. Army, brought from the salt mines of Germany to America merely for safe keeping, and to be returned to their rightful owner when safe to do so.

There are 15 Rembrandts alone, a number of Frans Hals, two Vermeers, with the five that Mr. Mellon contributed to the Gallery, that are in themselves worth a trip to Washington to see! But the collection as a whole is impossible to briefly describe. People have come from all over this continent to view this exhibition, and although they belong to another nation they are the inheritance of us all.

To spend a day in this great Gallery is spiritual nourishment, and no one should visit the National Capital without some time spent in this sanctuary of beauty. Nothing in this world is quite so soothing to the soul as to look upon great art—not even Nature can speak so various a language—silently.

It has been suggested that the German group of paintings be sent across the country, and a small charge made to see them, the money to be given to the hungry children of Germany—an excellent idea. I believe a Bill is before Congress to make such an arrangement possible. I wonder what the thoughts of the creators of this great art would be if they but knew that their masterpieces were now orphans on a troubled and war-torn earth!

The destruction and desolation that war has brought about to art and beauty alone are sufficient to condemn it forever. Every single item of immortal art is an illustration from God's text-book.

Twiggtown Club Has Anniversary, Exhibit, Program

The Twiggtown Homemakers Club celebrated its fourth anniversary and National Home Demonstration Week with a covered dish luncheon, and received reports by Miss Maude A. Bean on coming activities. The celebration was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Austin D. Twigg. Luncheon was served buffet style and eaten at small tables placed throughout the house. Partners were found by matching names of famous men and their wives.

After lunch a display of sewing was arranged by Mrs. Marvin Hinkle, clothing chairman. Exhibits included dresses and aprons, children's clothing, quilts, slip covers and crocheted center pieces. Members wore dresses made from patterns used in the county sewing kit and told amusing stories of the difficulties encountered in making them. Criticism and suggestions for changes in the patterns were made and illustrated. Mrs. Hinkle reported 17 patterns had been ordered and used by the club.

The afternoon session opened with the group singing of "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," which is the Homemakers song for the month. Mrs. J. Nelson Willison, president, reported on the recent meeting of the Allegany County Council of Homemakers Clubs. Miss Bean announced that a food school for Nutrition chairmen will be held by Miss Margaret McPheters, University of Maryland Extension Service, on May 18 and a frozen food demonstration May 20. She also outlined plans for the Musical Vesper Service to be held in Constitution Park on June 3, and announced that the goal of 182 Allegany County homemakers is to attend the RWSC at College Park, June 14-19.

Mrs. George R. Bottenfield, Art chairman, gave a brief account of the painting of the portrait of Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of extension, which will be presented to the University of Maryland during the RWSC next month. Mrs. Marshall G. Wilson, Jr., Membership chairman, reported attending a Membership tea held recently at Miss Bean's apartment, and reviewed briefly instructions given the chairmen, of the duties in keeping in touch with members and assisting hostesses in greeting members as they arrive.

Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Recreation chairman, was introduced by Mrs. Willison with the quotation, "Before a woman can have birds in her garden, first she must have birds in her heart." Mrs. Miller spoke as a true bird lover, giving three reasons why homemakers and others should be interested in birds. First, she said, birds are a continual source of beauty, the beauty of color, sound and motion. She cited the gorgeous color of the blue bird, the cardinal and the gold finch, the latter sings as it flies; the flute like song of the wood thrush early in the morning and late in the evening; the story of the buzzard, whose graceful motion lifts the heart of a watcher.

Her second point was that children like birds, even the very small child, and that studying them is a common bond for the whole family. In the third place, she pointed out that birds are great protectors of crops, including orchards, grain fields, vegetable gardens, and cotton fields of the south, by destroying harmful insects. They do eat some fruit and grain, she admitted, but more than pay for what they eat. In summing up she said that in Maryland there are laws to protect song birds and more and more feeding stations are being established to help them through cold winters. But still more legislation is needed to prevent extermination of hawks and owls on which bounties are still being paid, yet these birds help the farmers greatly by destroying small rodents.

Mrs. Willison reviewed the lesson on International Relations entitled, "The Need of Religion in a Program of Peace." These lessons are prepared for the Homemakers Clubs of Maryland by the state chairman of International Relations, Mrs. Clifton G. Crouse. In her summary Mrs. Willison said that there is a need of political leaders with the deep religious conviction of Washington and Lincoln, that in a war torn world of many nationalities, without a common language, religion and church may be the common interest which will draw them together in peace. She reported a revival of Bible study, especially in Germany, France and Hungary. Europe, she said, is ripe for evangelism and the church means more to men than before the war.

The new Homemakers Creed was read by Mrs. P. W. Bottenfield; a short program of readings in honor of Mother's Day was given by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Wade Rice, Mrs. L. H. Chambers, Mrs. Edith Bowman and Mrs. Twigg. Visitors included Mrs. Claude T. Jett, county president; Mrs. J. W. Davis, president, Mrs. Walter Taschenberger, Mrs. Miller, of the Spring Gap Club. The June meeting of the club will be held June 12 at the home of Mrs. Bowman, Hinkle Road.

Girl Scouts Work On Clothing Kits For Overseas

Girl Scout Troop 5 is the first Girl Scout troop in Cumberland to complete two kits in the "Clothing for Friendship" campaign of the national organization, Mrs. A. N. Correll, executive director, announced. If the promise made last November is to be fulfilled, she points out, every Girl Scout and Brownie Scout troop in the United States will need to contribute two kits, each contributing a complete wardrobe for a girl or a boy. The promise to needy children in Europe and Asia was 100,000 kits by December 1, 1948.

Troop 5 is composed of scouts who are 11 years of age. Most of the girls attend Columbia Street School. The girls have collected clothing from their own homes and from friends. A few donations have been made by adults who are interested in the project and in the troop. Each kit is a complete layette for a baby from birth to 6 months old.

Many other Cumberland scouts have clothing kits in the process of preparation, Mrs. Correll reports. Troop 1, with Mrs. Dora Parsons, leader, has been sorting and repairing garments which have been donated. Calls come in daily from people who have children's clothing in good condition that they will give. Troop 1 sews on the buttons, tapes and other bits that may be missing.

All troops are finding that the biggest problem is underwear, socks, nightgowns and pajamas. It will be necessary to buy new material to make nightgowns and pajamas. Gifts of money are being used for this purpose. Some people who have no children are helping in this way.

The first clothing kit to be sent to Philadelphia, where it will be reshipped by the Friend's Service committee, was the Juliette Low Representatives', under the leadership of Mrs. John Whittaker. These girls earned the money for material for the layette, which was made by Mrs. A. M. Spioch and Mrs. Whittaker. The group is now working on a kit for an older child.

Girl Scouts Work On Clothing Kits For Overseas

Girl Scout Troop 5 is the first Girl Scout troop in Cumberland to complete two kits in the "Clothing for Friendship" campaign of the national organization, Mrs. A. N. Correll, executive director, announced. If the promise made last November is to be fulfilled, she points out, every Girl Scout and Brownie Scout troop in the United States will need to contribute two kits, each contributing a complete wardrobe for a girl or a boy. The promise to needy children in Europe and Asia was 100,000 kits by December 1, 1948.

Troop 5 is composed of scouts who are 11 years of age. Most of the girls attend Columbia Street School. The girls have collected clothing from their own homes and from friends. A few donations have been made by adults who are interested in the project and in the troop. Each kit is a complete layette for a baby from birth to 6 months old.

Many other Cumberland scouts have clothing kits in the process of preparation, Mrs. Correll reports. Troop 1, with Mrs. Dora Parsons, leader, has been sorting and repairing garments which have been donated. Calls come in daily from people who have children's clothing in good condition that they will give. Troop 1 sews on the buttons, tapes and other bits that may be missing.

All troops are finding that the biggest problem is underwear, socks, nightgowns and pajamas. It will be necessary to buy new material to make nightgowns and pajamas. Gifts of money are being used for this purpose. Some people who have no children are helping in this way.

The first clothing kit to be sent to Philadelphia, where it will be reshipped by the Friend's Service committee, was the Juliette Low Representatives', under the leadership of Mrs. John Whittaker. These girls earned the money for material for the layette, which was made by Mrs. A. M. Spioch and Mrs. Whittaker. The group is now working on a kit for an older child.

Calumet Farm's Coaltown May Not Get In Preakness

Three Colts Show Themselves Ready

BALTIMORE, May 10 — (AP) — While Calumet Farm was forced to renew its game of hide-and-seek with Coaltown, three other colts showed themselves ready today to oppose Citation in Saturday's Peakness.

Calumet's plans to send up Coaltown from Kentucky as insurance for Citation ran afoul of the threatened railroad strike. The second half of the Kentucky Derby winning combination was supposed to leave for Pimlico Wednesday night.

But the unsettled rail situation might leave him high and dry. Trainer Jimmy Jones said he had no idea what the plans would be, but he expressed himself against air transportation for Coaltown.

At Louisville, Ben Jones, general manager of the Warren Wright stable, said he would not allow Coaltown to get caught in a strike.

"We'll just have to wait and see," said Ben.

Bovard Wins Survivor Stakes

Meanwhile, Bovard, Mount Marcy and Vulcan's Force stretched their legs in good style in today's Survivor Stakes. They finished in that order to increase their chances of going after the $100,000 Peakness pot.

Bovard's victory especially enhanced his outlook and stamped the three-year-old son of Bahram as a starter likely to give Citation a tussle.

Bovard, owned by Sylvester W. Labrot, Jr., Annapolis, tangled once before with Citation in the Chesapeake Stakes. He finished a creditable second despite his old tendency to lug in toward the rail.

Bovard won the mile and sixteenth Survivor race by four lengths over Mount Marcy. The C. V. Whitney colt, running as an entry with Vulcan's Forge, came down from New York after two victories, and a second in the Wood Memorial.

He covered today's route over a fast track in one minute, 45 seconds, rewarding $2 supporters at the mutuels with $7.60 to win and $2.20 to place. The Whitney colt returned $2.20 to place. There was no show betting.

New Entries Possible

Bovard's three victories this year, including the Louisiana Derby, all have been at more than one mile so he should be in his element in the mile and three sixteenths Peakness.

Calumet's trouble with Coaltown increased prospects for a fair sized field, at least temporarily. When Calumet first decided after the Derby to keep Coaltown out of the Peakness, there was a rush of owners to get in.

When Ben Jones reversed his stand a few days ago there was a trend in the opposite direction, and several owners called off their Peakness plans.

Besides the trio in today's Survivor Stakes, starters still listed include William Hellis's Salmagundi and King Ranch's Better Self. There might be more, now that Coaltown is uncertain.

While he wouldn't say Coaltown definitely was out, Jones said "we aren't taking any chances on having any of our horses tied up with a strike."

Railroad Plans Bridge Changes

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad plans to remove the center girder of the Washington Street bridge and place buffer curbs on each side, leaving a 26-foot wide driveway between the buffers, City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer informed the Mayor and Council yesterday.

City officials agreed to accept the plan if the railroad provides lighting on the bridge. The span is now lighted by nearby street lights.

Action Follows Accidents

Rizer reported he has had several discussions with E. J. Clopton, Cumberland division engineer, concerning the proposed improvements. Rizer said the railroad wants to begin the project as soon as possible.

Public agitation for improvements to the bridge began after several serious accidents happened on the span.

Marcus R. Reinhard requested the council to allow a railroad siding to be built for Baltimore and Ohio tracks across city-owned property between Paca and Beall Streets for commercial purposes.

The request was referred to City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan and Engineer Rizer.

Routine Reports

Twenty-three cases of communicable diseases were reported in Cumberland during April, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city health officer, told the council in his monthly tabulation.

These cases were listed:

Scarlet fever, five; venereal diseases, four; pneumonia, four; mumps, three; chickenpox and typhoid fever, two each; diptheria, tuberculosis and gastro-enteritis, one each.

Dr. Frantz listed 176 births, 59 deaths and four stillbirths during April. Twenty-six dogs and 12 cats were destroyed, he added.

When the order was placed, the company said it would probably be six months before the signs could be delivered. That period will be up June 1. Cost of the signs will be $2,000.

The action came after Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan asked Rizer when the street signs were to be installed.

Council Authorizes City Pension Study

Following a motion by Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, the Mayor and Council yesterday decided to request an actuarial survey to determine the cost of pensions for all city employes not attached to the Police and Fire Departments.

This action followed a suggestion last week by State Sen. Robert B. Kimble that the city ask the State Employes' Retirement System to have its actuarial firm survey the city employes not now under a pension fund.

On motion of Commissioner Buchholtz, council voted to send official condolences of the city to Mrs. Edith A. Griminger, widow of Samuel E. Griminger, veteran city clerk, who died last week of a heart attack.

Council fixed the sewer rate of that part of Valentine Avenue donated to the city by the Valentine family at 85 cents a lineal foot.

Fort Cumberland Unit No. 13, American Legion Auxiliary was given permission to sell poppies on streets May 22.

Permits Granted To Build House, Garage

Two building permits for construction work estimated to total $8,000 were granted yesterday to Miss Mary E. Clauson, Route 1, city, in the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

One permit was granted for construction of a two-story six-room house at 749 Fayette Street, at an estimated cost of $7,400. The 34 by 25-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick walls and an asphalt shingle roof.

Miss Clauson also received a permit to build a garage at the rear of the same lot, estimated to cost $600. The one-story concrete block structure will measure 12 by 20 feet, with an asphalt shingle roof. The contracting firm which will build both the house and garage is John G. Buckley and Son.

A permit was granted to Miss Ellen Rinker, 627 Elm Street, to enclose a back porch, 6 by 9 feet, with frame walls. Work will be done by James H. Hamilton at an estimated cost of $100.

Naval Reserve Working Minus Two Regular Men

The Naval Reserve headquarters in the Postoffice building announced yesterday that the current campaign drive to secure more enlistments was progressing, even though they were working shorthanded.

Two men are absent from the office, according to Lt. Cmdr. Walter N. Hedrick. One man, Albert M. Stevens, DCWC, has departed for Seattle, Wash., for a 30-day leave and Storekeeper First Class Lewis L. Millholland, Bowling Green, is confined to the Bethesda Naval Hospital for a minor operation.

Hawkers, Circus Measures Passed

The Mayor and Council yesterday passed an ordinance requiring hawkers and peddlers of fresh fruit and vegetables, who are not bona fide producers or growers of the products being sold, to obtain licenses from the city clerk.

A previous ordinance covering hawkers and fruit and vegetable peddlers was killed by the Mayor and Council 13 months ago.

Four Groups Named

The new ordinance classifies the hawkers and peddlers into four groups, setting up license fees for each group, as follows:

Cass 1, selling from horse-drawn wagon—$25 a day, $30 a year.

Class 2, selling from truck weighing not more than a half ton—$25 a day, $30 a year.

Class 3, selling from truck weighing from one half ton to one ton—$25 a day, $100 a year.

Class 4, selling from truck weighing one ton and more—$25 a day, $200 a year.

All bona fide growers or producers must register with the city clerk and pay a fee of 50 cents before they are permitted to peddle in the city, according to the ordinance.

Will Issue Cards

The city clerk will issue a registration card to all persons registering as growers and producers.

Violators of the new ordinance are subject, upon conviction, to fines of from $5 to $100 or jail terms of from five to 100 days.

In a second ordinance passed by the council, the city called upon all circuses and carnivals to apply to the city clerk for a permit to show in Cumberland, and the application must be made 30 days before the date of the showing.

All applications received by the city clerk must be referred to the chief of police, who will investigate "the reputation and character" of the circus or carnival. The chief of police will report his findings to the mayor and council, which shall decide whether or not the permit is to be issued.

Permits will be issued without charge by the city.

Upon conviction, violators of this ordinance are liable to fines of from $10 to $100, if the carnival or circus be unincorporated. If it is a corporation, the show may be stopped immediately by the police.

Elmer L. Brooks, Jr., Oldtown Road, has been enlisted in the Cumberland area Marine Reserve, according to an announcement by Lt. Edward Walker, in charge of the local office. Brooks was enlisted as a private.

Marine's Widow Gets Insurance

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP) — A Maryland Marine who was killed on Iwo Jima obviously intended his wife to have his war insurance and so it will be awarded to her, Federal Judge William C. Coleman held today.

The decision ended a lengthy court action brought by 24-year-old Marjorie Snyder Cotter against the Veterans Administration and her father-in-law, Charles Ashton Cotter, Cumberland.

When Richard Cotter joined the Marines he made his father the beneficiary of his $10,000 insurance policy. Then he was married in April, 1943.

Witnesses before Judge Coleman said that upon various occasions before going overseas young Cotter had said he had made his bride the insurance beneficiary.

Testimony in the rare case involved in part the so-called Form 41. This form was a slip of paper which Marines filled out to indicate a change of beneficiary for their six months' gratuity pay in case of death.

Witnesses said several Marines had filled out this form and thought they were naming new insurance beneficiaries.

Judge Coleman asked Leon Rubenstein, counsel for Mrs. Cotter, to check on this phase. The inquiry resulted in obtaining information from a former payroll sergeant and a Marine colonel. Rubenstein also filed with the judge records of five similar cases throughout the country.

Cotter, the father of the Cumberland Marine, resides at 628 Montgomery Avenue, while his daughter-in-law is a resident of Dundalk, near Baltimore.

City To Advertise For Fire Truck

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized Commissioner William V. Keegan to advertise for bids for purchase by the city of one 85-foot, power-operated, tractor-driven ladder fire truck.

The Water Department was given permission to purchase 6,000 feet of six-inch asbestos cement pressure pipe from the Keasney and Mattison Company, Ambler, Pa. The pipe will cost 83 cents a foot.

City officials received an invitation to take part in the Memorial Day parade on Sunday, May 30, from Thomas F. Conlon, chairman of the American Legion committee in charge.

Adult Class Meets

The Adult Education Class of LaVale School will meet tonight in the school, getting underway at 7 o'clock, with Mrs. Anthony Folk as the instructor. The class was previously scheduled to have been held Thursday.

A New Name for a PUBLIC SERVICE

With the approval of its stockholders, the name of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation has been changed to

THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC.

Since the Corporation divested itself of its electrical properties under the provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, the new name becomes more descriptive of the System's functions in public service.

The Corporation and its operating subsidiaries have long been known, unofficially, as the COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM. Now, with the formal approval at the Annual Stockholders Meeting on April 29th at Wilmington, Delaware, the new corporate title becomes official.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM serves 1,000,000 homes, businesses and industries with natural gas directly through its own distribution lines, and another 800,000 customers through wholesale deliveries to other utilities in cities such as Washington, D. C., Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio. Last year the System delivered 231 billion cubic feet of gas through some 31,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines. The System is even now preparing to deliver by 1950 in excess of 300 billion cubic feet of natural gas annually.

Three Colts Show Themselves Ready

BALTIMORE, May 10 — (AP) — While Calumet Farm was forced to renew its game of hide-and-seek with Coaltown, three other colts showed themselves ready today to oppose Citation in Saturday's Peakness.

Calumet's plans to send up Coaltown from Kentucky as insurance for Citation ran afoul of the threatened railroad strike. The second half of the Kentucky Derby winning combination was supposed to leave for Pimlico Wednesday night.

But the unsettled rail situation might leave him high and dry. Trainer Jimmy Jones said he had no idea what the plans would be, but he expressed himself against air transportation for Coaltown.

At Louisville, Ben Jones, general manager of the Warren Wright stable, said he would not allow Coaltown to get caught in a strike.

"We'll just have to wait and see," said Ben.

Bovard Wins Survivor Stakes

Meanwhile, Bovard, Mount Marcy and Vulcan's Force stretched their legs in good style in today's Survivor Stakes. They finished in that order to increase their chances of going after the $100,000 Peakness pot.

Bovard's victory especially enhanced his outlook and stamped the three-year-old son of Bahram as a starter likely to give Citation a tussle.

Bovard, owned by Sylvester W. Labrot, Jr., Annapolis, tangled once before with Citation in the Chesapeake Stakes. He finished a creditable second despite his old tendency to lug in toward the rail.

Bovard won the mile and sixteenth Survivor race by four lengths over Mount Marcy. The C. V. Whitney colt, running as an entry with Vulcan's Forge, came down from New York after two victories, and a second in the Wood Memorial.

He covered today's route over a fast track in one minute, 45 seconds, rewarding $2 supporters at the mutuels with $7.60 to win and $2.20 to place. The Whitney colt returned $2.20 to place. There was no show betting.

New Entries Possible

Bovard's three victories this year, including the Louisiana Derby, all have been at more than one mile so he should be in his element in the mile and three sixteenths Peakness.

Calumet's trouble with Coaltown increased prospects for a fair sized field, at least temporarily. When Calumet first decided after the Derby to keep Coaltown out of the Peakness, there was a rush of owners to get in.

When Ben Jones reversed his stand a few days ago there was a trend in the opposite direction, and several owners called off their Peakness plans.

Besides the trio in today's Survivor Stakes, starters still listed include William Hellis's Salmagundi and King Ranch's Better Self. There might be more, now that Coaltown is uncertain.

While he wouldn't say Coaltown definitely was out, Jones said "we aren't taking any chances on having any of our horses tied up with a strike."

Railroad Plans Bridge Changes

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad plans to remove the center girder of the Washington Street bridge and place buffer curbs on each side, leaving a 26-foot wide driveway between the buffers, City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer informed the Mayor and Council yesterday.

City officials agreed to accept the plan if the railroad provides lighting on the bridge. The span is now lighted by nearby street lights.

Action Follows Accidents

Rizer reported he has had several discussions with E. J. Clopton, Cumberland division engineer, concerning the proposed improvements. Rizer said the railroad wants to begin the project as soon as possible.

Public agitation for improvements to the bridge began after several serious accidents happened on the span.

Marcus R. Reinhard requested the council to allow a railroad siding to be built for Baltimore and Ohio tracks across city-owned property between Paca and Beall Streets for commercial purposes.

The request was referred to City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan and Engineer Rizer.

Routine Reports

Twenty-three cases of communicable diseases were reported in Cumberland during April, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city health officer, told the council in his monthly tabulation.

These cases were listed:

Scarlet fever, five; venereal diseases, four; pneumonia, four; mumps, three; chickenpox and typhoid fever, two each; diptheria, tuberculosis and gastro-enteritis, one each.

Dr. Frantz listed 176 births, 59 deaths and four stillbirths during April. Twenty-six dogs and 12 cats were destroyed, he added.

Rizer To Check Date Of Sign Delivery

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer was instructed by Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday to contact Lyle Signs Incorporated, Minneapolis, regarding the delivery date of 210 street signs ordered last December 1.

When the order was placed, the company said it would probably be six months before the signs could be delivered. That period will be up June 1. Cost of the signs will be $2,000.

The action came after Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan asked Rizer when the street signs were to be installed.

Council Authorizes City Pension Study

Following a motion by Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, the Mayor and Council yesterday decided to request an actuarial survey to determine the cost of pensions for all city employes not attached to the Police and Fire Departments.

This action followed a suggestion last week by State Sen. Robert B. Kimble that the city ask the State Employes' Retirement System to have its actuarial firm survey the city employes not now under a pension fund.

On motion of Commissioner Buchholtz, council voted to send official condolences of the city to Mrs. Edith A. Griminger, widow of Samuel E. Griminger, veteran city clerk, who died last week of a heart attack.

Council fixed the sewer rate of that part of Valentine Avenue donated to the city by the Valentine family at 85 cents a lineal foot.

Fort Cumberland Unit No. 13, American Legion Auxiliary was given permission to sell poppies on streets May 22.

Permits Granted To Build House, Garage

Two building permits for construction work estimated to total $8,000 were granted yesterday to Miss Mary E. Clauson, Route 1, city, in the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

One permit was granted for construction of a two-story six-room house at 749 Payette Street, at an estimated cost of $7,400. The 34 by 25-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick walls and an asphalt shingle roof.

Miss Clauson also received a permit to build a garage at the rear of the same lot, estimated to cost $600. The one-story concrete block structure will measure 12 by 20 feet, with an asphalt shingle roof. The contracting firm which will build both the house and garage is John G. Buckley and Son.

A permit was granted to Miss Ellen Rinker, 627 Elm Street, to enclose a back porch, 6 by 9 feet, with frame walls. Work will be done by James H. Hamilton at an estimated cost of $100.

Naval Reserve Working Minus Two Regular Men

The Naval Reserve headquarters in the Postoffice building announced yesterday that the current campaign drive to secure more enlistments was progressing, even though they were working shorthanded.

Two men are absent from the office, according to Lt. Cmdr. Walter N. Hedrick. One man, Albert M. Stevens, DCWC, has departed for Seattle, Wash., for a 30-day leave and Storekeeper First Class Lewis L. Millholland, Bowling Green, is confined to the Bethesda Naval Hospital for a minor operation.

Hawkers, Circus Measures Passed

The Mayor and Council yesterday passed an ordinance requiring hawkers and peddlers of fresh fruit and vegetables, who are not bona fide producers or growers of the products being sold, to obtain licenses from the city clerk.

A previous ordinance covering hawkers and fruit and vegetable peddlers was killed by the Mayor and Council 13 months ago.

Four Groups Named

The new ordinance classifies the hawkers and peddlers into four groups, setting up license fees for each group, as follows:

Cass 1, selling from horse-drawn wagon—$25 a day, $30 a year.

Class 2, selling from truck weighing not more than a half ton—$25 a day, $30 a year.

Class 3, selling from truck weighing from one half ton to one ton—$25 a day, $100 a year.

Class 4, selling from truck weighing one ton and more—$25 a day, $200 a year.

All bona fide growers or producers must register with the city clerk and pay a fee of 50 cents before they are permitted to peddle in the city, according to the ordinance.

Will Issue Cards

The city clerk will issue a registration card to all persons registering as growers and producers.

Violators of the new ordinance are subject, upon conviction, to fines of from $5 to $100 or jail terms of from five to 100 days.

In a second ordinance passed by the council, the city called upon all circuses and carnivals to apply to the city clerk for a permit to show in Cumberland, and the application must be made 30 days before the date of the showing.

All applications received by the city clerk must be referred to the chief of police, who will investigate "the reputation and character" of the circus or carnival. The chief of police will report his findings to the mayor and council, which shall decide whether or not the permit is to be issued.

Permits will be issued without charge by the city.

Upon conviction, violators of this ordinance are liable to fines of from $10 to $100, if the carnival or circus be unincorporated. If it is a corporation, the show may be stopped immediately by the police.

Marine's Widow Gets Insurance

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP) — A Maryland Marine who was killed on Iwo Jima obviously intended his wife to have his war insurance and so it will be awarded to her, Federal Judge William C. Coleman held today.

The decision ended a lengthy court action brought by 24-year-old Marjorie Snyder Cotter against the Veterans Administration and her father-in-law, Charles Ashton Cotter, Cumberland.

When Richard Cotter joined the Marines he made his father the beneficiary of his $10,000 insurance policy. Then he was married in April, 1943.

Witnesses before Judge Coleman said that upon various occasions before going overseas young Cotter had said he had made his bride the insurance beneficiary.

Testimony in the rare case involved in part the so-called Form 41. This form was a slip of paper which Marines filled out to indicate a change of beneficiary for their six months' gratuity pay in case of death.

Witnesses said several Marines had filled out this form and thought they were naming new insurance beneficiaries.

Judge Coleman asked Leon Rubenstein, counsel for Mrs. Cotter, to check on this phase. The inquiry resulted in obtaining information from a former payroll sergeant and a Marine colonel. Rubenstein also filed with the judge records of five similar cases throughout the country.

Cotter, the father of the Cumberland Marine, resides at 628 Montgomery Avenue, while his daughter-in-law is a resident of Dundalk, near Baltimore.

City To Advertise For Fire Truck

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized Commissioner William V. Keegan to advertise for bids for purchase by the city of one 85-foot, power-operated, tractor-driven ladder fire truck.

The Water Department was given permission to purchase 6,000 feet of six-inch asbestos cement pressure pipe from the Keasney and Mattison Company, Ambler, Pa. The pipe will cost 83 cents a foot.

City officials received an invitation to take part in the Memorial Day parade on Sunday, May 30, from Thomas F. Conlon, chairman of the American Legion committee in charge.

A New Name for a PUBLIC SERVICE

With the approval of its stockholders, the name of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation has been changed to

THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC.

Since the Corporation divested itself of its electrical properties under the provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, the new name becomes more descriptive of the System's functions in public service.

The Corporation and its operating subsidiaries have long been known, unofficially, as the COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM. Now, with the formal approval at the Annual Stockholders Meeting on April 29th at Wilmington, Delaware, the new corporate title becomes official.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM serves 1,000,000 homes, businesses and industries with natural gas directly through its own distribution lines, and another 800,000 customers through wholesale deliveries to other utilities in cities such as Washington, D. C., Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio. Last year the System delivered 231 billion cubic feet of gas through some 31,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines. The System is even now preparing to deliver by 1950 in excess of 300 billion cubic feet of natural gas annually.

Maybe He can give YOU a Tip
The bellhop sees a lot of people . . . hears what they say to say . . . knows what they like to do. Ask him three questions about beer.—Which beer does everybody from everywhere know?—Which beer has an exquisite bouquet and delightful flavor all its own?—Which beer has been called for most often through the years in the best hotel dining rooms? He'll answer your three questions with one word—Budweiser.

MAKE THIS TEST! DRINK Budweiser FOR FIVE DAYS
On the sixth day try to drink a sweet beer
You'll want the distinctive taste of Budweiser thereafter

My Pet Peeve
(Maybe It's Yours, Too!)
Says YES MAN
Chet Coughenour
I guess every one of us has a secret gripe. Something or somebody we can very well do without. My pet peeve is a rude clerk or sales person who thinks you've got to do business with his company and treats you like a poor relative.
Maybe I'm over-sensitive . . . maybe people really don't object to this treatment. But my staff and I have always believed that the customer is doing us a pretty big favor when he enters our office—and, at Personal Finance Co., we're not shy about letting him know how grateful we are that he's chosen us.
And my staff is especially good at showing appreciation because from the day they join PERSONAL, they are trained to treat the customer as they themselves, would like to be treated.
Cumberland folks who want a loan must like the courtesy and friendliness they find at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., because so many of them have recommended us to their friends. Which proves to me, that we've been successful in doing what we set out to do; provide Cumberland folks with a friendly loan service in which honesty and the ability to make monthly payments are the chief requirements to getting a loan.
We never recommend needless borrowing. BUT if you can use $25 to $750 for a worth-while purpose—consolidating bills, repairing your home, paying medical bills—and you want to get the cash in the way that suits you best—on salary, furniture, or car I'd appreciate the chance to say "yes" to YOU . . . just as I do to 4 out of every 5 who apply for a loan here.
Just phone 721 . . . or, if you're in the neighborhood, come in and ask for me—Chet Coughenour. PERSONAL FINANCE CO., is located on the 2nd floor of the Liberty Trust Building. Open Monday thru Friday, 9 until 5. Closed Saturdays. Evenings by appointment.

My Pet Peeve
Says YES MAN
Chet Coughenour

I guess every one of us has a secret gripe. Something or somebody we can very well do without. My pet peeve is a rude clerk or sales person who thinks you've got to do business with his company and treats you like a poor relative.

Maybe I'm over-sensitive . . . maybe people really don't object to this treatment. But my staff and I have always believed that the customer is doing us a pretty big favor when he enters our office—and, at Personal Finance Co., we're not shy about letting him know how grateful we are that he's chosen us.

And my staff is especially good at showing appreciation because from the day they join PERSONAL, they are trained to treat the customer as they themselves, would like to be treated.

Cumberland folks who want a loan must like the courtesy and friendliness they find at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., because so many of them have recommended us to their friends. Which proves to me, that we've been successful in doing what we set out to do; provide Cumberland folks with a friendly loan service in which honesty and the ability to make monthly payments are the chief requirements to getting a loan.

We never recommend needless borrowing. BUT if you can use $25 to $750 for a worth-while purpose—consolidating bills, repairing your home, paying medical bills—and you want to get the cash in the way that suits you best—on salary, furniture, or car I'd appreciate the chance to say "yes" to YOU . . . just as I do to 4 out of every 5 who apply for a loan here.

Just phone 721 . . . or, if you're in the neighborhood, come in and ask for me—Chet Coughenour. PERSONAL FINANCE CO., is located on the 2nd floor of the Liberty Trust Building. Open Monday thru Friday, 9 until 5. Closed Saturdays. Evenings by appointment.

A-A Drops Salary Limit

Johnstown Seeking Berth

Playoffs Netted $3,687

Change Referee System

By C. V. BURNS

The All-American Professional Basketball League hopes to obtain the status of a "big league" next season and to reach this goal the "sky" has been set as the limit on salaries, commencing with the 1948-49 season.

This fact was revealed yesterday by Robert Whip, co-owner of Cumberland's Dukes, who were in the league last season and hope to be there when the bell rings next winter.

Mr. Whip, who believes that professional baseball or basketball is one of the best ways in the world of publicizing any city, returned from the A-A league's meeting in Wheeling on Sunday with some very interesting data.

One of the things Whip succeeded in having other team representatives agree to was the elimination of guarantees paid out by home clubs like last season. Cumberland got a bad deal when the season was cut short and as a result lost a chance to pick up $1,125 when five away-from-home games were cancelled. Each home team was required to dig down to the extent of $225 and fork it over to the visiting quint at each game.

"It is only an exchange of money anyway when an even number of games are played," Whip pointed out, "and no one will be cheated if for some unknown reason a schedule is shortened in the future.

Last year's salary limit was $225 a game for each club but that ruling was violated by the topnotch club with outstanding college and pro stars. To compete with the higher class pro loops there will be no limit on salaries next season.

Each club will be required to post forfeits of $1,500 and this money will be returned at the close of the campaign.

Not only did Whip represent the Dukes at the meeting but he also proved he has a nose for news by jotting down the following facts:

Zanesville, Ohio, is the only one of the six clubs of the past season that called it "quits" and has returned its franchise to the league.

The Columbus, Ohio, franchise has been transferred to Dayton, Ohio, and will be operated by Ellwood Parsons who reports that such stars as "Sweetwater" Clifton and "Duke" Cumberland, the negro stars, will be back with the Metropolitans next season.

Johnstown, Pa., is among the new applicants for a franchise and one of the interested parties from there is our old friend George Cooper, sports editor of the Tribune. 'Tis reported that Nat Hickey, the old Original Celtics and Cleveland Rosenblums cage star, and ex-minor league baseball player, is quitting as coach of the Providence Steamrollers of the BBA to handle the Johnstown team.

"Babe" Mazza, former Columbus player, is interested in putting Huntington, W. Va., in the circuit and other applicants include Hershey, Pa., which sponsors a pro hockey team, Marion, Indiana; Parkersburg, Charleston, and Clarksburg, W. Va. There was even a "feeler" from Toledo, Ohio, whose "Jeeps" have been playing in the National Pro League.

The payroll of the Mets last year amounted to approximately $7,000 a month but that includes more than the league games. It seems that the Ohioans played as many as five times a week and sometimes twice on Sunday.

Mike Valan, Wheeling contractor, league treasurer and backer of the Puritans, reported that he dropped $11,300 on the Wheeling team last season but that won't stop him. He's signed Jules Rivlin of the Toledo "Jeeps" as his player-coach for the 1948-49 season.

The league's share from the Shaughnessy playoffs at the end of the first season was $368.79 or ten per cent of a net amounting to $3,687.90.

During the season the league took in $12,020 and expended $10,999.89, leaving a balance of $1,388.90 which includes the $368.79 from the playoffs.

Columbus is reported to have lost $3,300 before turning over its franchise to the Dayton Mets last season.

Wy Paris reported Altoona was one of the few clubs that finished in the black and the proposition made to them by the Shriners of that city was so good that the team will retain its franchise and play its home games next season at Jaffa Mosque.

Coach Paul Birch, who was always in a "jam" with referees throughout the circuit last season, will get the "gate" at Youngstown, Ohio, and he will likely be succeeded by Leo Mogus, former Youngstown College ace, who played center for the Cubs in 1947-48.

If there are 10 or 12 teams admitted for next season the circuit will operate in two divisions similar to the Basketball Association of America.

Starting next season no referees residing in any of the league cities will be hired. The arbiters will work on a monthly basis and they not only will be required to report to the league prexy after each game but they'll send the box score of each game they handle to the league statistician.

Joe Donnelly, Boston Braves' scout, who heads the league at the present time, will visit the various cities that have filed applications for franchises and make his report at the circuit's next meeting set for June 12-13 at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh. At this meeting league officers will be elected.

Donnelly stated that several major league baseball umpires who officiate pro cage games in the "off" season will be available as A-A league referees next season.

As for Cumberland's future in the league, Whip indicated that approximately $5,000 cash will be needed to start. He already has been assured financial support from three local businessmen and before another season rolls around the local club plans to sell stock and incorporate.

Bob got quite a chuckle at the meeting when the Youngstown representative asked:

"How come your outstanding player, Bob Pence, never showed in Youngstown?"

Fans will recall that Pence never made the trip to Ohio because the jump was too long for him to return in time for his duties as teacher at Allegany High School.

Whip said he realizes that Cumberland must add at least three "name" players who will be available for all games home and away next season.

PIRATES FINED $100 FOR PLAYING PAST SUNDAY DEADLINE

PITTSBURGH, May 10 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today paid a $100 fine for violation of the Pennsylvania Sunday Baseball Law which the club management said was "inadvertent."

The club was fined by the city for permitting yesterday's doubleheader with the Brooklyn Dodgers to continue to 7:40 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time. A section of the law permitting Sunday baseball specifies that the deadline be 7 p. m., daylight time, during the months this time is in effect.

Yanks Hit Three Homers And Sink Chicago Sox, 9-3

DiMaggio Clouts 4th; Embree Registers Win

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Red Embree, who never has lost to Chicago, turned back the White Sox in his first start as a New York Yankee today, 9-3. Homers by Bill Johnson, George Stirnweiss and Joe DiMaggio eased his task.

Although Embree was nicked for a two-run homer by Taft Wright in the sixth and a solo homer by Dave Philley in the seventh, he allowed only six hits. Presumably this performance means he has won a regular starting job. Prior to today Embree was used in relief roles twice.

Lefty Bill Wight, acquired by the Sox in the deal by which Ed Lopat became a Yankee, hooked up in a scoreless battle with Embree for four innings. The Yanks broke the game wide open with a four run blast in the fifth and a five-run spree in the sixth.

A single by Phil Rizzuto and a walk to Tommy Henrich opened the Yankee fifth. After a double steal, Rizzuto scooted home on Johnny Lindell's pop to Floyd Baker in short right. Henrich later scored from third on a wild pitch. DiMaggio doubled and Johnson hit his third homer of the year into the right field seats.

Stirnweiss led off the sixth with his first homer of the season. Successive singles by Embree, Rizzuto and Keller added another run, sending Wight to the showers. After Lindell scored Crosetti, who ran for Rizzuto, with an outfield fly, DiMaggio connected for his fourth homer, a two-run blast.

Henrich plunged into the right field stands, trying for Wright's homer. He was forced to leave the game with a bruised right knee cap. X-Rays will be taken tonight or tomorrow. Box:

Cleveland Tribe Captures Series From Bosox, 12-7

Execute Triple Play; Doby Leads Assault

BOSTON, May 10 — (INS) — Cleveland's league-leading Indians scalped the Red Sox again today by a score of 12 to 7 to sweep the three-game series.

Led by Larry Doby, who hit a homer, double and two singles, the Indians combed Dave Ferriss and rookie southpaws Maurice McDermott and Charlie Stobbs for 12 hits and picked up 12 walks from the trio. Joe Gordon also hit for the circuit for the Tribe.

The Sox, suffering their fifth straight defeat, collected 11 hits and eight walks off Al Gettel, Ted Klieman and Steve Gromek. Stan Spence hit his third homer and Bobby Doerr, after going hitless 22 times, banged out two doubles and a single.

The Indians pulled a triple play in the eighth when pinch-hitter Billy Goodman lined to Lou Boudreau with two on and none out. The Indians' pilot's toss to Gordon doubled Wally Moses off second and the Gordon relay to Ed Robinson at first beat Birdie Tebbetts to the bag to complete the triple killing.

Ferriss was the losing pitcher. Klieman was the winner for the second day in a row. Box:

AHS To Invade Hyndman Today

Fort Hill At Central, LaSalle Host To Beall

Three Bi-State Scholastic Baseball Conference games are on tap for today.

Perhaps the No. 1 game of the day is Allegany's return date with Hyndman High in Hyndman at 4 p. m. The Campers nosed out Hyndman earlier in the campaign by the score of 4-3 and the Keystone Staters would like nothing better than to snap the AHS six-game string that includes three conference triumphs in as many starts. Hyndman has won two and lost one in the league.

Fort Hill, the other undefeated conference team, will be gunning for its 4th victory today when it meets Central High in Lonaconing. The Orange and Black will be striving to break a three - game losing streak.

LaSalle will conclude its two-game series with Beall High of Frostburg today at 4 p. m. at Community Park. LaSalle holds a 9-4 decision over Beall but the Explorers lost 1-0 games to Fort Hill and Allegany. Beall has won one and lost four in the league.

In a game between Potomac Valley Conference teams the Petersburg Vikings will play Keyser High today in Keyser. The Grant countians have lost four in a row while Keyser's record is six wins and five defeats.

The four weight classifications and the 17 events in the junior high division are as follows:

Four Clubs Quit National League For Association

Lambert Also Resigns As Cage Commissioner

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 10 (INS) — The National Basketball League today lost its commissioner, its publicity man, its patience and four of its teams, the last-named quartet jumping en masse to the rival Basketball Association of America while N.B.L. men shouted "war!"

"We have severed relations with the Basketball Association of America," announced Leo Ferris, acting president of the N.B.L. and boss of the Tri-Cities Blackhawks whose signing of Murray Wier last night precipitated howls of dismay from the B.A.A.

The howling, apparently, has just begun. Moments after the four teams—Minneapolis, Rochester, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis—had quit the N.B.L. in favor of the newer, richer B.A.A., National League rulers declared all players of the departed clubs National League property, and said the N.B.L. will redistribute the talent.

This viewpoint, which is interesting if true, would "redistribute" such crowd-pleasing talent as that evinced by large George Mikan, the spidery fellow who brought the N.B.L.'s western division and league titles to Minneapolis last season.

Lose Top Clubs

Rochester won the eastern division crown, so right off the bat the National League loses its two top clubs. N.B.L. officials were quick to say, however, that they have granted a new Chicago franchise to steel man Edward J. McNulty, and are considering "five or six" other franchise applications.

Meanwhile, late this afternoon the resignation of Ward Lambert, the former Purdue coaching wizard who'd been commissioner of the N.B.L. the past two seasons, became official. League publicitor Tom Carnegie withdrew, too; but both were strong in their insistence, even as they departed, that the National League will be a going concern next year.

Lambert, who had another year to go on a contract reportedly calling for $12,500 annually, said he was resigning because he desired to get back into coaching. Carnegie left soon after his native Indianapolis found itself without an N.B.L. franchise.

The Wier deal, in which Iowa's All-American forward was signed by the Tri-Cities club last night despite the joint two-league draft to be conducted today, apparently will stick. This is for the very simple reason that there was no joint draft today. Shortly before it was scheduled to commence there were hot words, hurried comings and goings on commuter schedules, and all existing covenants between the N.B.L. and B.A.A. were thrown out.

To Add Four Clubs

B.A.A. officials said they intend to put their four new clubs in the Western Division with Chicago and St. Louis, a grouping which would leave an Eastern Division composed of Boston, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

At present chronicling, and including the newly-accepted McNulty franchise in Chicago, the N.B.L. has eight clubs. The others are Flint, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Anderson, Tri-Cities, Toledo and Syracuse.

Fort Hill Wins Over Hagerstown In Twelfth, 3-2

Jack Emerick's Blow Decides Long Battle

Jack Emerick's single to left field in the last of the 12th inning produced the run that gave Fort Hill High School's baseball team a 3 to 2 decision over Hagerstown High School yesterday at Fort Hill Field.

With one away in the 12th Ronnie Cage singled to center, moved to second on Hollingsworth's error, advanced to third on Lattimer's infield out and scored the deciding run on Emerick's hit.

Fort Hill scored runs in the first and second inning but Hagerstown tied it up when Don Day walloped a homer to right-center in the 5th and Allan Davis connected for four bases in the 6th, the latter's drive going to deep center.

Robert "Lefty" Appel and Strawsbaugh hooked up in a mound duel for 8⅔ innings when the former was relieved by "Buck" Shaw who received credit for the victory.

Bill Birmingham's catch of Strawsbaugh's foul behind the backstop was the outstanding fielding play.

Folk Defeats Frank Bewack, Portage Boxer

Niland And Mann Win, 652 See Nine Bouts

Lou Kozarek, hard-hitting middleweight of Portage, Pa., marked up his second triumph in a Cumberland ring last night when he gained a split decision over Randall "Skeets" Starkey, local favorite, in the five-round main go of a ten-bout card presented at the State Armory by the Cumberland Amvets.

A recount gave Kozarek the verdict after one of the judges—Gilbert Becker — discovered that his tabulation of points was incorrect.

Becker's final count showed both boys with 43 points and the judge cash his ballot for Starkey. A recheck, however, showed that Becker's final point totals should have read: Kozarek 46, Starkey 43. Becker discovered his own mistake and instead of a decision for Starkey, the Portage fighter was declared the winner. Referee Jim Kelley voted for Kozarek and Judge Jack Rorick scored in favor of Starkey.

On the News score sheet, Starkey was given an edge in the first two rounds but Kozarek was on top in the last three.

The shorter but heavier Kozarek, with his bobbing and weaving style really had Starkey baffled. Starkey's best bet was a left jab to the head but Kozarek's terrific left hooks to the head and right-handed smashes on the jaw jolted the local boy plenty in the last three heats.

Starkey Floored Twice

The only knockdowns of the fight were registered by Kozarek and both were scored in the third round. A right to the jaw put "Skeets" down the first time and a left hook followed by a right to the jaw floored him the second time. On both occasions Starkey was obliged to take a compulsory eight-count, according to the new amateur boxing rules in force here.

Starkey was announced as the winner at first and the decision was greeted by boos. When the mistake was rectified and Kozarek declared the victor the crowd was satisfied.

In a rather tame affair, Joe Niland was declared the winner over Jack Klosterman in a match between local middleweights. It was a split decision.

Jim Stewart, Howard "Red" Bush's light heavyweight, registered his second straight victory when he stopped Al Parks, a green newcomer, in 1 minute and six seconds of the first round. Parks never had a chance and it was all over after he had been floored the second time.

Mann Stops Taranto

Bill Mann added another knockout to his growing list by stopping Frankie Taranto in the second round. Mann was belting Taranto from pillar to post when Referee Jim Kelley stepped in, halted the slaughter and declared Mann the victor on a TKO. Mann was down to 145 pounds and outweighed his opponent by six pounds.

Jim Folk, Royale A. C. featherweight, scored his sixth straight victory by outpunching Frankie Bewack, of Portage, Pa., in what was easily the best fight on the card. In the second round the boys punched it out toe-to-toe and had the crowd on its feet. In fact, Jim and Frankie belted each other so hard and often in the second that both were weary when the gong ended the third and final round.

Mel Washington celebrated his return to the ring by decisioning Jesse Bean, of the D.A.C., in the 7th match on the card. Washington appeared to have the edge in every round and romped off with a 3-0 decision.

Dick Saylor, Amvets' welterweight, survived two knockdowns in the second round, staged a remarkable comeback and won the nod over Henry Stossel of Portage, Pa., in Bout No. 8. Saylor shook the cobwebs from his brain in the third and finished up by giving Stossel an artistic lacing.

In the curtain-raiser Bob Mendelsohn won a split decision over Carl Kaese. Mendelsohn was floored twice in this match.

In another three-round prelim Tommy Odenthal, Portage flyweight, gained a 2-1 decision over Earl Smith, of the Amvets.

Collection Nets $208.98

A collection taken up for the Tommy Kabosky family which has lost three of its members through diphtheria netted the generous sum of $216.26. Fans tossed their coins in the ring and they were gathered up. Tommy Kabosky was a former well known local boxer.

Jim Kelley refereed all bouts, Gilbert Becker, Howard Bush and Jack Rorick, judges; "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Charley Krapf, announcer. The attendance was 652 paid.

The Police Boys' Club will stage a show here next Monday night and will feature a team of Baltimore boxers.

Cards' Win Streak Broken

ST. LOUIS, May 10 (AP)—Johnny Sain, strong-armed right hander of the Boston Braves, snapped the five-game winning streak of the St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 6 to 0. Although giving up 10 hits, nine of them singles, Sain was strong in the clutches and the Birds were never in the game after the Braves took an early lead. Earl Torgeson poled a three-run homer in the third. The score:

Change Referee System

By C. V. BURNS

The All-American Professional Basketball League hopes to obtain the status of a "big league" next season and to reach this goal the "sky" has been set as the limit on salaries, commencing with the 1948-49 season.

This fact was revealed yesterday by Robert Whip, co-owner of Cumberland's Dukes, who were in the league last season and hope to be there when the bell rings next winter.

Mr. Whip, who believes that professional baseball or basketball is one of the best ways in the world of publicizing any city, returned from the A-A league's meeting in Wheeling on Sunday with some very interesting data.

One of the things Whip succeeded in having other team representatives agree to was the elimination of guarantees paid out by home clubs like last season. Cumberland got a bad deal when the season was cut short and as a result lost a chance to pick up $1,125 when five away-from-home games were cancelled. Each home team was required to dig down to the extent of $225 and fork it over to the visiting quint at each game.

"It is only an exchange of money anyway when an even number of games are played," Whip pointed out, "and no one will be cheated if for some unknown reason a schedule is shortened in the future.

Last year's salary limit was $225 a game for each club but that ruling was violated by the topnotch club with outstanding college and pro stars. To compete with the higher class pro loops there will be no limit on salaries next season.

Each club will be required to post forfeits of $1,500 and this money will be returned at the close of the campaign.

Not only did Whip represent the Dukes at the meeting but he also proved he has a nose for news by jotting down the following facts:

Zanesville, Ohio, is the only one of the six clubs of the past season that called it "quits" and has returned its franchise to the league.

The Columbus, Ohio, franchise has been transferred to Dayton, Ohio, and will be operated by Ellwood Parsons who reports that such stars as "Sweetwater" Clifton and "Duke" Cumberland, the negro stars, will be back with the Metropolitans next season.

Johnstown, Pa., is among the new applicants for a franchise and one of the interested parties from there is our old friend George Cooper, sports editor of the Tribune. 'Tis reported that Nat Hickey, the old Original Celtics and Cleveland Rosenblums cage star, and ex-minor league baseball player, is quitting as coach of the Providence Steamrollers of the BBA to handle the Johnstown team.

"Babe" Mazza, former Columbus player, is interested in putting Huntington, W. Va., in the circuit and other applicants include Hershey, Pa., which sponsors a pro hockey team, Marion, Indiana; Parkersburg, Charleston, and Clarksburg, W. Va. There was even a "feeler" from Toledo, Ohio, whose "Jeeps" have been playing in the National Pro League.

The payroll of the Mets last year amounted to approximately $7,000 a month but that includes more than the league games. It seems that the Ohioans played as many as five times a week and sometimes twice on Sunday.

Mike Valan, Wheeling contractor, league treasurer and backer of the Puritans, reported that he dropped $11,300 on the Wheeling team last season but that won't stop him. He's signed Jules Rivlin of the Toledo "Jeeps" as his player-coach for the 1948-49 season.

The league's share from the Shaughnessy playoffs at the end of the first season was $368.79 or ten per cent of a net amounting to $3,687.90.

During the season the league took in $12,020 and expended $10,999.89, leaving a balance of $1,388.90 which includes the $368.79 from the playoffs.

Columbus is reported to have lost $3,300 before turning over its franchise to the Dayton Mets last season.

Wy Paris reported Altoona was one of the few clubs that finished in the black and the proposition made to them by the Shriners of that city was so good that the team will retain its franchise and play its home games next season at Jaffa Mosque.

Coach Paul Birch, who was always in a "jam" with referees throughout the circuit last season, will get the "gate" at Youngstown, Ohio, and he will likely be succeeded by Leo Mogus, former Youngstown College ace, who played center for the Cubs in 1947-48.

If there are 10 or 12 teams admitted for next season the circuit will operate in two divisions similar to the Basketball Association of America.

Starting next season no referees residing in any of the league cities will be hired. The arbiters will work on a monthly basis and they not only will be required to report to the league prexy after each game but they'll send the box score of each game they handle to the league statistician.

Joe Donnelly, Boston Braves' scout, who heads the league at the present time, will visit the various cities that have filed applications for franchises and make his report at the circuit's next meeting set for June 12-13 at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh. At this meeting league officers will be elected.

Donnelly stated that several major league baseball umpires who officiate pro cage games in the "off" season will be available as A-A league referees next season.

As for Cumberland's future in the league, Whip indicated that approximately $5,000 cash will be needed to start. He already has been assured financial support from three local businessmen and before another season rolls around the local club plans to sell stock and incorporate.

Bob got quite a chuckle at the meeting when the Youngstown representative asked:

"How come your outstanding player, Bob Pence, never showed in Youngstown?"

Fans will recall that Pence never made the trip to Ohio because the jump was too long for him to return in time for his duties as teacher at Allegany High School.

Whip said he realizes that Cumberland must add at least three "name" players who will be available for all games home and away next season.

PIRATES FINED $100 FOR PLAYING PAST SUNDAY DEADLINE

PITTSBURGH, May 10 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today paid a $100 fine for violation of the Pennsylvania Sunday Baseball Law which the club management said was "inadvertent."

The club was fined by the city for permitting yesterday's doubleheader with the Brooklyn Dodgers to continue to 7:40 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time. A section of the law permitting Sunday baseball specifies that the deadline be 7 p. m., daylight time, during the months this time is in effect.

DiMaggio Clouts 4th; Embree Registers Win

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Red Embree, who never has lost to Chicago, turned back the White Sox in his first start as a New York Yankee today, 9-3. Homers by Bill Johnson, George Stirnweiss and Joe DiMaggio eased his task.

Although Embree was nicked for a two-run homer by Taft Wright in the sixth and a solo homer by Dave Philley in the seventh, he allowed only six hits. Presumably this performance means he has won a regular starting job. Prior to today Embree was used in relief roles twice.

Lefty Bill Wight, acquired by the Sox in the deal by which Ed Lopat became a Yankee, hooked up in a scoreless battle with Embree for four innings. The Yanks broke the game wide open with a four run blast in the fifth and a five-run spree in the sixth.

A single by Phil Rizzuto and a walk to Tommy Henrich opened the Yankee fifth. After a double steal, Rizzuto scooted home on Johnny Lindell's pop to Floyd Baker in short right. Henrich later scored from third on a wild pitch. DiMaggio doubled and Johnson hit his third homer of the year into the right field seats.

Stirnweiss led off the sixth with his first homer of the season. Successive singles by Embree, Rizzuto and Keller added another run, sending Wight to the showers. After Lindell scored Crosetti, who ran for Rizzuto, with an outfield fly, DiMaggio connected for his fourth homer, a two-run blast.

Henrich plunged into the right field stands, trying for Wright's homer. He was forced to leave the game with a bruised right knee cap. X-Rays will be taken tonight or tomorrow. Box:

Cleveland Tribe Captures Series From Bosox, 12-7

Execute Triple Play; Doby Leads Assault

BOSTON, May 10 — (INS) — Cleveland's league-leading Indians scalped the Red Sox again today by a score of 12 to 7 to sweep the three-game series.

Led by Larry Doby, who hit a homer, double and two singles, the Indians combed Dave Ferriss and rookie southpaws Maurice McDermott and Charlie Stobbs for 12 hits and picked up 12 walks from the trio. Joe Gordon also hit for the circuit for the Tribe.

The Sox, suffering their fifth straight defeat, collected 11 hits and eight walks off Al Gettel, Ted Klieman and Steve Gromek. Stan Spence hit his third homer and Bobby Doerr, after going hitless 22 times, banged out two doubles and a single.

The Indians pulled a triple play in the eighth when pinch-hitter Billy Goodman lined to Lou Boudreau with two on and none out. The Indians' pilot's toss to Gordon doubled Wally Moses off second and the Gordon relay to Ed Robinson at first beat Birdie Tebbetts to the bag to complete the triple killing.

Ferriss was the losing pitcher. Klieman was the winner for the second day in a row. Box:

AHS To Invade Hyndman Today

Fort Hill At Central, LaSalle Host To Beall

Three Bi-State Scholastic Baseball Conference games are on tap for today.

Perhaps the No. 1 game of the day is Allegany's return date with Hyndman High in Hyndman at 4 p. m. The Campers nosed out Hyndman earlier in the campaign by the score of 4-3 and the Keystone Staters would like nothing better than to snap the AHS six-game string that includes three conference triumphs in as many starts. Hyndman has won two and lost one in the league.

Fort Hill, the other undefeated conference team, will be gunning for its 4th victory today when it meets Central High in Lonaconing. The Orange and Black will be striving to break a three-game losing streak.

LaSalle will conclude its two-game series with Beall High of Frostburg today at 4 p. m. at Community Park. LaSalle holds a 9-4 decision over Beall but the Explorers lost 1-0 games to Fort Hill and Allegany. Beall has won one and lost four in the league.

In a game between Potomac Valley Conference teams the Petersburg Vikings will play Keyser High today in Keyser. The Grant countians have lost four in a row while Keyser's record is six wins and five defeats.

Six Junior High Schools Vie In Track Meet Today

115 Boy Enter 17 Events At Stadium

One hundred and fifteen boys from six schools will compete in the 17 events comprising the Junior High School Division of the Allegany County public school track and field meet today at 2 o'clock in the Fort Hill Stadium.

This is the third straight year that Junior High Schools—Grades 7-8-9—will compete in this own class for county honors. In 1946 Allegany won first place with 62½ points followed by Fort Hill with 58, Beall 37, Cresaptown 32 5/6, Bruce 17½, Mt. Savage 12 and Central ½. Junior High honors went to Fort Hill last year. The Hilltoppers amassed 92 points to 46½ for Beall, 33½ for Cresaptown, 20 each for Mt. Savage and Allegany, 17 for Bruce and two for Central.

Six Schools To Vie

The schools competing today are Allegany, Bruce, Fort Hill, Mt. Savage, Cresaptown and Barton. Beall of Frostburg and Central of Lonaconing failed to enter boys in either the senior or junior high events this year.

Allegany High tops the entry list with 38 boys. Fort Hill has 29, Bruce 27, Cresaptown and Mt. Savage 22 each and Barton 17.

The four weight classifications and the 17 events in the junior high division are as follows:

80 Pounds—80 yards dash, 440 yards relay, broad jump and high jump.

95 Pounds—80 yards dash, 440 yards relay, broad jump and high jump.

115 Pounds—100 yards dash, 440 yards relay, broad jump and high jump.

Junior Unlimited—100 yards dash, 440 yards relay, broad jump, high jump and 8 pound shot put.

How Points Are Scored

Scoring in the four relay events will be 10, 6, 4, and 2 for first, second, third and fourth places. For individual events the points will be scored 5, 3, 2 and 1. Each school is limited to two entries in each individual event and one team in each relay. The coach of each school will determine the number of events in which any boy may compete.

Arthur G. Ramey, of the Allegany County Board of Education, is director of the meet.

Four Clubs Quit National League For Association

Lambert Also Resigns As Cage Commissioner

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 10 (INS) — The National Basketball League today lost its commissioner, its publicity man, its patience and four of its teams, the last-named quartet jumping en masse to the rival Basketball Association of America while N.B.L. men shouted "war!"

"We have severed relations with the Basketball Association of America," announced Leo Ferris, acting president of the N.B.L. and boss of the Tri-Cities Blackhawks whose signing of Murray Wier last night precipitated howls of dismay from the B.A.A.

The howling, apparently, has just begun. Moments after the four teams—Minneapolis, Rochester, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis—had quit the N.B.L. in favor of the newer, richer B.A.A., National League rulers declared all players of the departed clubs National League property, and said the N.B.L. will redistribute the talent.

This viewpoint, which is interesting if true, would "redistribute" such crowd-pleasing talent as that evinced by large George Mikan, the spidery fellow who brought the N.B.L.'s western division and league titles to Minneapolis last season.

Lose Top Clubs

Rochester won the eastern division crown, so right off the bat the National League loses its two top clubs. N.B.L. officials were quick to say, however, that they have granted a new Chicago franchise to steel man Edward J. McNulty, and are considering "five or six" other franchise applications.

Meanwhile, late this afternoon the resignation of Ward Lambert, the former Purdue coaching wizard who'd been commissioner of the N.B.L. the past two seasons, became official. League publicitor Tom Carnegie withdrew, too; but both were strong in their insistence, even as they departed, that the National League will be a going concern next year.

Lambert, who had another year to go on a contract reportedly calling for $12,500 annually, said he was resigning because he desired to get back into coaching. Carnegie left soon after his native Indianapolis found itself without an N.B.L. franchise.

The Wier deal, in which Iowa's All-American forward was signed by the Tri-Cities club last night despite the joint two-league draft to be conducted today, apparently will stick. This is for the very simple reason that there was no joint draft today. Shortly before it was scheduled to commence there were hot words, hurried comings and goings on commuter schedules, and all existing covenants between the N.B.L. and B.A.A. were thrown out.

To Add Four Clubs

B.A.A. officials said they intend to put their four new clubs in the Western Division with Chicago and St. Louis, a grouping which would leave an Eastern Division composed of Boston, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

At present chronicling, and including the newly-accepted McNulty franchise in Chicago, the N.B.L. has eight clubs. The others are Flint, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Anderson, Tri-Cities, Toledo and Syracuse.

Fort Hill Wins Over Hagerstown In Twelfth, 3-2

Jack Emerick's Blow Decides Long Battle

Jack Emerick's single to left field in the last of the 12th inning produced the run that gave Fort Hill High School's baseball team a 3 to 2 decision over Hagerstown High School yesterday at Fort Hill Field.

With one away in the 12th Ronnie Cage singled to center, moved to second on Hollingsworth's error, advanced to third on Lattimer's infield out and scored the deciding run on Emerick's hit.

Fort Hill scored runs in the first and second inning but Hagerstown tied it up when Don Day walloped a homer to right-center in the 5th and Allan Davis connected for four bases in the 6th, the latter's drive going to deep center.

Robert "Lefty" Appel and Strawsbaugh hooked up in a mound duel for 8⅔ innings when the former was relieved by "Buck" Shaw who received credit for the victory.

Bill Birmingham's catch of Strawsbaugh's foul behind the backstop was the outstanding fielding play.

Niland And Mann Win, 652 See Nine Bouts

Lou Kozarek, hard-hitting middleweight of Portage, Pa., marked up his second triumph in a Cumberland ring last night when he gained a split decision over Randall "Skeets" Starkey, local favorite, in the five-round main go of a ten-bout card presented at the State Armory by the Cumberland Amvets.

A recount gave Kozarek the verdict after one of the judges—Gilbert Becker — discovered that his tabulation of points was incorrect.

Becker's final count showed both boys with 43 points and the judge cash his ballot for Starkey. A recheck, however, showed that Becker's final point totals should have read: Kozarek 46, Starkey 43. Becker discovered his own mistake and instead of a decision for Starkey, the Portage fighter was declared the winner. Referee Jim Kelley voted for Kozarek and Judge Jack Rorick scored in favor of Starkey.

On the News score sheet, Starkey was given an edge in the first two rounds but Kozarek was on top in the last three.

Starkey Floored Twice

The only knockdowns of the fight were registered by Kozarek and both were scored in the third round. A right to the jaw put "Skeets" down the first time and a left hook followed by a right to the jaw floored him the second time. On both occasions Starkey was obliged to take a compulsory eight-count, according to the new amateur boxing rules in force here.

Starkey was announced as the winner at first and the decision was greeted by boos. When the mistake was rectified and Kozarek declared the victor the crowd was satisfied.

In a rather tame affair, Joe Niland was declared the winner over Jack Klosterman in a match between local middleweights. It was a split decision.

Jim Stewart, Howard "Red" Bush's light heavyweight, registered his second straight victory when he stopped Al Parks, a green newcomer, in 1 minute and six seconds of the first round. Parks never had a chance and it was all over after he had been floored the second time.

Mann Stops Taranto

Bill Mann added another knockout to his growing list by stopping Frankie Taranto in the second round. Mann was belting Taranto from pillar to post when Referee Jim Kelley stepped in, halted the slaughter and declared Mann the victor on a TKO. Mann was down to 145 pounds and outweighed his opponent by six pounds.

Jim Folk, Royale A. C. featherweight, scored his sixth straight victory by outpunching Frankie Bewack, of Portage, Pa., in what was easily the best fight on the card. In the second round the boys punched it out toe-to-toe and had the crowd on its feet. In fact, Jim and Frankie belted each other so hard and often in the second that both were weary when the gong ended the third and final round.

Mel Washington celebrated his return to the ring by decisioning Jesse Bean, of the D.A.C., in the 7th match on the card. Washington appeared to have the edge in every round and romped off with a 3-0 decision.

Dick Saylor, Amvets' welterweight, survived two knockdowns in the second round, staged a remarkable comeback and won the nod over Henry Stossel of Portage, Pa., in Bout No. 8. Saylor shook the cobwebs from his brain in the third and finished up by giving Stossel an artistic lacing.

In the curtain-raiser Bob Mendelsohn won a split decision over Carl Kaese. Mendelsohn was floored twice in this match.

In another three-round prelim Tommy Odenthal, Portage flyweight, gained a 2-1 decision over Earl Smith, of the Amvets.

Collection Nets $208.98

A collection taken up for the Tommy Kabosky family which has lost three of its members through diphtheria netted the generous sum of $216.26. Fans tossed their coins in the ring and they were gathered up. Tommy Kabosky was a former well known local boxer.

Jim Kelley refereed all bouts, Gilbert Becker, Howard Bush and Jack Rorick, judges; "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Charley Krapf, announcer. The attendance was 652 paid.

WELL KNOWN SINGER--Shown above is Francis Davies, 82, well-known retired coal miner of Frostburg who has taken an active part in musical activities in that community and Cumberland as a bass singer. He was born in Rhonda Valley, Glamorganshire, South Wales, a coal mining district made famous by the motion picture "How Green Was My Valley."

Francis Davies, 82-Year-Old Retired Miner, Noted For Musical Activities

Frostburg Man Is Native Of Wales

FROSTBURG — Among the retired coal miners of Frostburg, none is better known than Francis Davies, 82, a native of Rhonda Valley, Glamorganshire, South Wales, a coal mining district made famous by the motion picture "How Green Was My Valley."

Mr. Davies was born August 3, 1866, and remained in his native land until he was 21 years of age, when he came to America and settled in Carbondale, Pa. Three years after his arrival in America he married Miss Elizabeth Ellen Reese and took her back to Rhonda Valley. The couple returned to America 10 months later and settled on Welsh Hill, Frostburg.

An experienced coal miner, he worked in the Carlos mine of the Hitchins Brothers Company for two years and then worked in the Midlothian mine of the Borden Mining Company for three years. After giving up his job at Midlothian his coal mining career consisted of two years in the Keeley mine of the New York Mining Company, two years at a mine near the old "Y" of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Coal Railroad Company producing coal for railroad engines, three years at Klondyke under the late Superintendent Jonathan Jenkins, and four years at the Hoffman mine of the Consolidation Coal Company.

Being a bass singer of more than usual ability and finding that coal mining was affecting his breathing, Mr. Davies gave up digging coal shortly after the termination of World War I and worked for the State Roads Commission in various sections of the county until accepting a position as custodian of the Davis J. Lewis apartment house on Fayette Street, Cumberland. After holding this job for 13 years he retired at the age of 70 and resumed his residence in Frostburg. He is now residing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ellen D. Brode, 54 Linden Street.

Mr. Davies is probably best known to most Frostburgers for his activities in musical circles. In his younger days here he was a member of St. David's Glee Club, made up largely of Welsh coal miners. While a resident of Cumberland he sang at meetings of the Duke Memorial Bible Class and with other Cumberland choral groups.

His singing career, Mr. Davies says, began at the age of 8. After his arrival in Frostburg, he recalled that he was greatly assisted in his efforts to improve his voice by the late Prof. Richard Harris, this city, and William L. Morgan, Cumberland.

One of Mr. Davies' greatest treasures is a photograph of St. David's Glee Club, taken about 1901. Among the members of the club still living are Jack Jones, now a resident of Homestead, Pa.; David Bradley, South Cumberland; William Bradley, now a resident of Van Lear, Ky.; Joshua Davies; Former City Commissioner Edwin Elias; James Grose, Bowery Street; and Walter A. Cook, 24 Beall Street.

Besides Mrs. Brode, with whom he resides, Mr. Davies has seven other children, Wentling Davies, Mrs. Charles Hager and Miss Blodlyn Davies, this city; William R. Davies, Indianapolis, Ind.; Walter Davies, New Palace, Ohio; Morgan Davies, Boston, Ind., and Mrs. Carl Phelps, Fountain City, Ind. He has 21 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. His wife died many years ago.

His grandson, Pfc. Oliver L. Hager, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hager, 124 Pine Street, was killed in action in France October 29, 1944 while serving with an infantry division.

Hitchins, G. W. McElfish, Prof. Raymond Staley and Clifton D. Jeffries, took 28 boys of the 1925 class of Beall High School, and Prof. James E. The club offered a first, second and third prize to the boys writing the best essay on the trip and the tour of the battlefield. The winners were Carl Bender, first; Robert Gerson, second and Ralph Race, third. They were entertained at a club luncheon Monday, January 5, 1925 and presented with gifts. He was born in Rhonda Valley, Glamorganshire, South Wales, a coal mining district made famous by the motion picture "How Green Was My Valley."

Francis Davies, 82-Year-Old Retired Miner, Noted For Musical Activities

Frostburg Man Is Native Of Wales

FROSTBURG — Among the retired coal miners of Frostburg, none is better known than Francis Davies, 82, a native of Rhonda Valley, Glamorganshire, South Wales, a coal mining district made famous by the motion picture "How Green Was My Valley."

Mr. Davies was born August 3, 1866, and remained in his native land until he was 21 years of age, when he came to America and settled in Carbondale, Pa. Three years after his arrival in America he married Miss Elizabeth Ellen Reese and took her back to Rhonda Valley. The couple returned to America 10 months later and settled on Welsh Hill, Frostburg.

An experienced coal miner, he worked in the Carlos mine of the Hitchins Brothers Company for two years and then worked in the Midlothian mine of the Borden Mining Company for three years. After giving up his job at Midlothian his coal mining career consisted of two years in the Keeley mine of the New York Mining Company, two years at a mine near the old "Y" of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Coal Railroad Company producing coal for railroad engines, three years at Klondyke under the late Superintendent Jonathan Jenkins, and four years at the Hoffman mine of the Consolidation Coal Company.

Being a bass singer of more than usual ability and finding that coal mining was affecting his breathing, Mr. Davies gave up digging coal shortly after the termination of World War I and worked for the State Roads Commission in various sections of the county until accepting a position as custodian of the Davis J. Lewis apartment house on Fayette Street, Cumberland. After holding this job for 13 years he retired at the age of 70 and resumed his residence in Frostburg. He is now residing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ellen D. Brode, 54 Linden Street.

Mr. Davies is probably best known to most Frostburgers for his activities in musical circles. In his younger days here he was a member of St. David's Glee Club, made up largely of Welsh coal miners. While a resident of Cumberland he sang at meetings of the Duke Memorial Bible Class and with other Cumberland choral groups.

His singing career, Mr. Davies says, began at the age of 8. After his arrival in Frostburg, he recalled that he was greatly assisted in his efforts to improve his voice by the late Prof. Richard Harris, this city, and William L. Morgan, Cumberland.

One of Mr. Davies' greatest treasures is a photograph of St. David's Glee Club, taken about 1901. Among the members of the club still living are Jack Jones, now a resident of Homestead, Pa.; David Bradley, South Cumberland; William Bradley, now a resident of Van Lear, Ky.; Joshua Davies; Former City Commissioner Edwin Elias; James Grose, Bowery Street; and Walter A. Cook, 24 Beall Street.

Besides Mrs. Brode, with whom he resides, Mr. Davies has seven other children, Wentling Davies, Mrs. Charles Hager and Miss Blodlyn Davies, this city; William R. Davies, Indianapolis, Ind.; Walter Davies, New Palace, Ohio; Morgan Davies, Boston, Ind., and Mrs. Carl Phelps, Fountain City, Ind. He has 21 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. His wife died many years ago.

His grandson, Pfc. Oliver L. Hagger, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hager, 124 Pine Street, was killed in action in France October 29, 1944 while serving with an infantry division.

The memorial service was held at the Race Hotel in memory of the late President Warren G. Harding, the speakers being the late Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland and the late Judge Albert A. Doub. The late George Stern, founder of the club, presided.

The first Boys Work project sponsored by the club was October 20, 1924, when a committee of the club consisting of D. D. Price, club president, G. Marshall Gillette, Rudolph Nickel, W. E. G. Hitchins, G. W. McElfish, Prof. Raymond Staley and Clifton D. Jeffries, took 28 boys of the 1925 class of Beall High School, and Prof. James E. Spitznas, then a history teacher at the school, on a tour of the Gettysburg battlefield.

The club offered a first, second and third prize to the boys writing the best essay on the trip and the tour of the battlefield. The winners were Carl Bender, first; Robert Gerson, second and Ralph Race, third. They were entertained at a club luncheon Monday, January 5, 1925 and presented with gifts. Bender was awarded a copy of "The American Commonwealth," by James Bryce; Gerson was presented with a fountain pen and Race received a silver pencil.

Voters in the 55 counties tomorrow will choose nominees for United States Senate, governor, Congress, Supreme Court, State Board of Public Works, Legislature and county offices.

Holt Seeks Nomination

Among five contenders for the Democratic senatorial nomination is 42-year-old Rush Dew Holt, the "Boy Senator" of early New Deal days. He was elected in 1934 but had to wait until July, 1935, before he was 30 years old and eligible to take his seat.

Also in the race is 73-year-old Matthew Mansfield Neely, veteran of more than 30 years in the House and Senate and governor from 1941 to 1945.

Neely and Holt were once staunch political allies but after the Boy Senator took office differences developed and soon reached a bitter crescendo.

Others after the nomination are R. Bruce Hoff, Parkersburg attorney and one-time candidate for Supreme Court judge; J. Buhl Shahan, Elkins, former state senator who was state purchasing agent when Neely was governor; and State Sen. Forest McNeer, Hinton.

Sen. Chapman Revercomb, Republican, who defeated Neely for the Senate in 1943, is opposed for renomination by John Alderson Sims, a Charleston chemical engineer.

A torrid Democratic campaign for the nomination for governor has sharply divided the party.

Meadows Supports Patteson

Okey Patteson, former executive assistant to Gov. Clarence W. Meadows, is running with the full support of Meadows, who is ineligible to succeed himself.

James Kay Thomas, former speaker of the House and former attorney general, is after the nomination with the backing of some high party figures. He also has the support of the Charleston Gazette.

Robert L. Bailey, Pineville, former circuit judge, is the third candidate. He remained aloof from the factional squabbling which marked the Patteson-Thomas campaign.

The Republican race has five men out—State Sen. Herbert L. Boreman, Parkersburg; Haymond Maxwell, Clarksburg, a former Supreme Court judge; Edgar C. Lawson, Charleston, former state auditor; Paul O. Fiedler, former mayor of Huntington, and Rev. Paul R. Maness, Kingwood, a member of the House of Delegates.

Three of the six incumbent congressmen will be renominated without opposition. They are Melvin C. Snyder, Republican, second district; Hubert Ellis, Republican, fourth, and John Kee, Democrat, fifth.

Reps. Francis J. Love, Republican, first; E. G. Rohrbough, Republican, third, and E. H. Hedrick, Democrat, sixth, all have opposition.

W. Va. Democrats To Select Their Nominees Today

Stassen Will Seek Preference Votes

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 10 (AP)—Two Democratic Party foes who a dozen years ago aired their differences on the United States Senate floor squared off again today to see how they would fare in West Virginia's primary election.

Voters in the 55 counties tomorrow will choose nominees for United States Senate, governor, Congress, Supreme Court, State Board of Public Works, Legislature and county offices.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

Lorella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 10 (INS)—Perhaps you read about Thomas Savage, author, who tried to borrow $500 from a Boston bank and was called a bad risk. The next day he received a check for $50,000 for the film rights to his novel, "Lona Hanson."

Well, Mr. Savage will be additionally thrilled, I know, to hear that Rita Hayworth starts "Lona Hanson," as her next picture, in six weeks. It is a western with everyone going western except Rita, who plays a city gal who inherits a Montana ranch.

S. Sylvan Simon took an option on the book and sold it to Harry Cohn and Beckworth Pictures. He will produce it at Columbia. This means that Rita will not make "Anna Lucasta."

Do you remember "Singing In the Rain," the marvelous tune Cliff Edwards sang in the original "Broadway Melody?" It was writen by Arthur Freed and Nacio Herb Brown. In those days, Brown was the top song writer on the MGM lot.

Well, Brown is back again, and with Arthur Freed is writing a musical based on that one song, "Singing In the Rain." The whole line-up of MGM stars—Judy Garland, Gene Kelly, and all the rest—will take part in this, which will be made on the order of "Easter Parade," a beeg, beeg revue.

Eleanor Parker and Bert Friendlob were in London, of course, to welcome Lana Turner and Bob Topping. Eleanor writes that the English fans were very excited about Lana.

"Bert and I were driving from the station to our hotel, and all along the way fans were sticking their heads in the windows saying: 'Tell us about Lana—is she as beautiful as her pictures?' "

Nor is there any visible evidence that the London press, or the fans, are as sarcastic and derogatory about the newlyweds as the American press. MGM, not immune to the Turner girl's popularity in England, may keep her there for one of the many movies lined up for London production.

Talk about the luck of Howard Hawks, that man just doesn't know his luck, holding as he does, Montgomery Clift's contract.

Although "Red River," a swell western with Clift, hasn't yet been released, he is so good in "The Search" that Howard has had offers from every studio for the loan out of the young man.

Personally, I think Clift is the male discovery of 1948.

By the time this is printed Ruby Keeler will probably have her baby. She expects it momentarily.

Cara Williams and Gene Wesson, who were on the verge of eloping to Las Vegas, suddenly changed their mind and Gene has gone to New Orleans to fulfill a dancing engagement.

Cobina Wright Sr. and Turhan Bey out on the town and having fun at the Manhattan Supper Club.

Andre De Toth is back from Australia with news that he will not make those six pictures with Veronica Lake there. The reason is the money situation—it is tighter than it is in England.

Bette Davis is having more fun scooting around town in one of those new English cars, not bigger than a bug.

Joe Pasternak sails Wednesdsy for Honolulu to combine pleasure and business. He'll look for a location for a musical he is to make there. The Charlie Morrisons give a farewell party for the Pasternaks tonight.

George Sanders leaves London next week for Bermuda where he'll spend three weeks before returning to Hollywood. No, I'm sorry, the reconciliation is all off between him and his wife.

Jose Ferrer will play Sesare Borgia in "Prince Of Foxes."

Marilyn Nash, whose one brief picture, "Monsieur Verdoux," was not too happy an experience as far as reviews were concerned, still wants to be an actress and is studying dramatic art.

This, I think, is interesting. Ernie Pyle's movie "G. I. Joe," has had a big revival in Italy.

Mrs. Eleanor Gehrig, widow of Lou, is moving to Hollywood. She likes the climate and the people.

That's all today.

Wallace Address At Presidential Rally Goes On Air

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, MAY 10—Henry A. Wallace, candidate for president, is to broadcast on NBC at 10:30 Tuesday night. The talk will be made at Madison Square Garden in New York at a rally under auspices of the Wallace For President Committee.

Because of this broadcast, Red Skelton's regular program has been cancelled. Wallace is to be introduced by Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, vice presidential candidate on his ticket.

Now comes another change for Studio One of CBS, the hour drama at 10. The first word was that it would be "Sun in Capricon." Now the second word is that it instead will be "Wine of the Country." However, the correction didn't change the fact that Robert Mitchum is to do the lead roling.

Broadcast from Cleveland will produce the Town Meeting for its weekly appearance on ABC at 8:30. Topic up for discussion is "Should We Extend the Present Reciprocal Trade Agreements." Three of the speakers will be heard direct from Cleveland, with the fourth to be cut in from Chicago.

NBC announces a symposium on "Strengthening Spiritual Foundations" for 1 p.m., to come from the annual conference of the Chaplains Association of the Army and Navy. There will be four speakers.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

"What Ever Happened To Leon Janney?"

John Crosby

Recently Louis Sobol, the ink-stained wretch who writes for "The New York Journal American," waxed sentimental over the closing of the old Palace in 1932, an event regarded as the official death knell of vaudeville. "What ever happened to Leon Janney?" Mr. Sobel wondered. Janney, former child movie star, was the headliner at the Palace when it closed.

"I've been a has-been more times than any one," sighed Mr. Janney when he read it.

Janney, who describes himself variously as "the oldest living child actor" or that "balding juvenile," now has an audience probably ten times the size of that of his movie or vaudeville days. Any one who owns a radio would find it difficult to avoid Janney though few people ever heard of him. In fact, Janney may easily be heard by twice as many people each week as hear Jack Benny.

• — • — •

Janney is all things to all radio programs. He is the blustering landlord in "Tales of Willie Piper" and also Mervin on the same show. Mondays through Fridays 3:45 p. m. E.D.T. Janney is the steely-eyed Assistant District Attorney on "Right to Happiness" and at 5 p. m. the same days, with no apparent discomfort, he is the slimy blackmailer, Chuck Brooks, on "When a Girl Marries." On Monday evenings he is simple, naive and Chinese as Charlie Chan's number one son and on Saturday evenings he is lazy, fast-talking and unscrupulous as Goodman's Ace brother-in-law in "mr. ace and JANE," one of his two favorite programs. "House of Mystery" Sunday afternoons, Janney is invariably present but never quite the same guy or guys. In a single half hour of "House of Mystery" he has been a Russian gypsy violinist, a young boy and a room clerk in a hotel.

Janney is also heard fairly regularly on "The Listening Post" and on "Grand Central Station." About twice a month he's on "The Eternal Light," his other favorite program. Every other week he's one of the freaks on "Believe It or Not." On N.B.C.'s "Living—1948" he has played five or six different parts in a single show. Those are his more or less regular chores. Periodically Janney keeps in trim with appearances in "Mr. District Attorney," "Theater Guild of the Air," "Studio One," "The Shadow," "Boston Blackie" on which he plays mugs, "Superman" and "Adventure Parade."

• — • — •

Janney is one of the acting phenomena developed by radio and peculiar to its requirements. He can play anything that talks or croaks—the young and old, the wise and dim-witted, knaves, fools or knights in shining armor. On a single half-hour program, the Jim Backus show, he has been an unctuous quizmaster, King Arthur, an Irishman and one of those radio dopes like Finnegan. On a single "Quick as a Flash" program he was Captain John Smith, a G.I. in the trenches and a painter foreman.

In 1944 and 1945, in Chick Carter, Boy Detective, a fifteen minute five-a-week sustainer, he was the Boy Detective and also all the villains in the show. Sometimes when Chick and a heavy were snarling at each other he had the microphone all to himself for pages at a time.

Until recently Janney had played every variety of dialect known except Swedish. Not long ago he took on Swedish too when he was rushed into a sports newsreel to play the late Torger Torkle, the ski jumper who was killed in the war, who wasn't Swedish but Norwegian.

• — • — •

How much money this wide variety of roles brings in is Janney's own secret. Obviously he isn't starving. Janney is what is known as a "combination scale and over-scale" actor, which means he can be had for union scale rates—which are quite handsome—but is frequently paid more. On Chick Carter, a five-a-week show, he was paid scale. $105 a week. For a half-hour sustaining show, he gets $33. If the show is sponsored, he gets $45. If he plays three or more parts on a straight dramatic show, the fee is doubled.

Janney's week is a mad scramble from network to network in which he does about thirty to forty hours work including rehearsals and, to the outsider, it seems amazing he can keep all his parts and programs straight in his mind. In spite of what appears a fairly rigid schedule in radio, Janney occupies himself with other things too. He does all the spot commercials made for Universal-International, Eagle Lion, and J. Arthur Rank pictures. To keep from dying of boredom he's doing the narration of a forthcoming Pathe documentary. He's on the board of directors of a record company and owns a piece of New Stages, the Greenwich Village experimental theater which produced Jean Paul Sartre's "Respectful Prostitute."

Wallace Address At Presidential Rally Goes On Air

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, MAY 10—Henry A. Wallace, candidate for president, is to broadcast on NBC at 10:30 Tuesday night. The talk will be made at Madison Square Garden in New York at a rally under auspices of the Wallace For President Committee.

Because of this broadcast, Red Skelton's regular program has been cancelled. Wallace is to be introduced by Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, vice presidential candidate on his ticket.

Now comes another change for Studio One of CBS, the hour drama at 10. The first word was that it would be "Sun in Capricon." Now the second word is that it instead will be "Wine of the Country." However, the correction didn't change the fact that Robert Mitchum is to do the lead roling.

Broadcast from Cleveland will produce the Town Meeting for its weekly appearance on ABC at 8:30. Topic up for discussion is "Should We Extend the Present Reciprocal Trade Agreements." Three of the speakers will be heard direct from Cleveland, with the fourth to be cut in from Chicago.

NBC announces a symposium on "Strengthening Spiritual Foundations" for 1 p.m., to come from the annual conference of the Chaplains Association of the Army and Navy. There will be four speakers.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

"What Ever Happened To Leon Janney?"

John Crosby

Recently Louis Sobol, the ink-stained wretch who writes for "The New York Journal American," waxed sentimental over the closing of the old Palace in 1932, an event regarded as the official death knell of vaudeville. "What ever happened to Leon Janney?" Mr. Sobel wondered. Janney, former child movie star, was the headliner at the Palace when it closed.

"I've been a has-been more times than any one," sighed Mr. Janney when he read it.

Janney, who describes himself variously as "the oldest living child actor" or that "balding juvenile," now has an audience probably ten times the size of that of his movie or vaudeville days. Any one who owns a radio would find it difficult to avoid Janney though few people ever heard of him. In fact, Janney may easily be heard by twice as many people each week as hear Jack Benny.

Janney is all things to all radio programs. He is the blustering landlord in "Tales of Willie Piper" and also Mervin on the same show. Mondays through Fridays 3:45 p. m. E.D.T. Janney is the steely-eyed Assistant District Attorney on "Right to Happiness" and at 5 p. m. the same days, with no apparent discomfort, he is the slimy blackmailer, Chuck Brooks, on "When a Girl Marries." On Monday evenings he is simple, naive and Chinese as Charlie Chan's number one son and on Saturday evenings he is lazy, fast-talking and unscrupulous as Goodman's Ace brother-in-law in "mr. ace and JANE," one of his two favorite programs. "House of Mystery" Sunday afternoons, Janney is invariably present but never quite the same guy or guys. In a single half hour of "House of Mystery" he has been a Russian gypsy violinist, a young boy and a room clerk in a hotel.

Janney is also heard fairly regularly on "The Listening Post" and on "Grand Central Station." About twice a month he's on "The Eternal Light," his other favorite program. Every other week he's one of the freaks on "Believe It or Not." On N.B.C.'s "Living—1948" he has played five or six different parts in a single show. Those are his more or less regular chores. Periodically Janney keeps in trim with appearances in "Mr. District Attorney," "Theater Guild of the Air," "Studio One," "The Shadow," "Boston Blackie" on which he plays mugs, "Superman" and "Adventure Parade."

Janney is one of the acting phenomena developed by radio and peculiar to its requirements. He can play anything that talks or croaks—the young and old, the wise and dim-witted, knaves, fools or knights in shining armor. On a single half-hour program, the Jim Backus show, he has been an unctuous quizmaster, King Arthur, an Irishman and one of those radio dopes like Finnegan. On a single "Quick as a Flash" program he was Captain John Smith, a G.I. in the trenches and a painter foreman.

In 1944 and 1945, in Chick Carter, Boy Detective, a fifteen minute five-a-week sustainer, he was the Boy Detective and also all the villains in the show. Sometimes when Chick and a heavy were snarling at each other he had the microphone all to himself for pages at a time.

Until recently Janney had played every variety of dialect known except Swedish. Not long ago he took on Swedish too when he was rushed into a sports newsreel to play the late Torger Torkle, the ski jumper who was killed in the war, who wasn't Swedish but Norwegian.

How much money this wide variety of roles brings in is Janney's own secret. Obviously he isn't starving. Janney is what is known as a "combination scale and overscale" actor, which means he can be had for union scale rates—which are quite handsome—but is frequently paid more. On Chick Carter, a five-a-week show, he was paid scale. $105 a week. For a half-hour sustaining show, he gets $33. If the show is sponsored, he gets $45. If he plays three or more parts on a straight dramatic show, the fee is doubled.

Janney's week is a mad scramble from network to network in which he does about thirty to forty hours work including rehearsals and, to the outsider, it seems amazing he can keep all his parts and programs straight in his mind. In spite of what appears a fairly rigid schedule in radio, Janney occupies himself with other things too. He does all the spot commercials made for Universal-International, Eagle Lion, and J. Arthur Rank pictures. To keep from dying of boredom he's doing the narration of a forthcoming Pathe documentary. He's on the board of directors of a record company and owns a piece of New Stages, the Greenwich Village experimental theater which produced Jean Paul Sartre's "Respectful Prostitute."

Stocks Stage Late Rally On Revived Hopes Rail Strike Will Be Averted

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Stocks churned indecisively in most of today's market but negotiated a brisk comeback in the final hour on revived hopes for calling off the threatened rail strike.

Few if any weak spots appeared when the President authorized the Army to take over the roads. Assorted rails, industrials and utilities then began to harden. While minus signs persisted at the close for pivotals, advances of fractions to two points predominated.

Dealings quickened at intervals and transfers for the full proceedings amounted to 1,440,000 shares against 1,670,000 Friday.

Touching peaks for 1948 were Studebaker, which finished up 1¼ at 25; Western Union three-quarters at 23¾, Commonwealth and Southern one-quarter at 3¼ (the most active stock on blocks of as much as 80,000 shares in reflection of the consideration or reorganization program amendments), Sinclair Oil one-quarter at 24¾ and Socony one-quarter at 20⅛.

Ahead one to two points were Chrysler at 58⅞, Youngstown Sheet 77½, Santa Fe 107½, Central Railroad of N. J. 29¼, Southern Pacific 55½, Goodyear 45½, International Harvester 97¼, Wilson and Company 16 and Phelps Dodge 54⅝.

Improved were Republic Steel, Goodrich, United States Rubber, New York Central, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Gulf Oil, Mission Corporation, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Electric Power and Light, International Telephone, Anaconda, General Electric, Oliver Corporation, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, Schenley, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco,Standard Oil (N.J.), Atlantic Coast Line and Chesapeake and Ohio.

The bond market had its slowest day in more than a month despite a little late-session activity.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, May 10. (AP)—The railroad strike threat had complete control of the grain market today. As a result, grain futures mostly advanced under the leadership of May contracts while cash prices declined. Trading in futures was light in view of the uncertain railroad situation. Closing prices:

Stocks Stage Late Rally On Revived Hopes Rail Strike Will Be Averted

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Stocks churned indecisively in most of today's market but negotiated a brisk comeback in the final hour on revived hopes for calling off the threatened rail strike.

Few if any weak spots appeared when the President authorized the Army to take over the roads. Assorted rails, industrials and utilities then began to harden. While minus signs persisted at the close for pivotals, advances of fractions to two points predominated.

Dealings quickened at intervals and transfers for the full proceedings amounted to 1,440,000 shares against 1,670,000 Friday.

Touching peaks for 1948 were Studebaker, which finished up 1¼ at 25; Western Union three-quarters at 23¾, Commonwealth and Southern one-quarter at 3¼ (the most active stock on blocks of as much as 80,000 shares in reflection of the consideration or reorganization program amendments), Sinclair Oil one-quarter at 24¾ and Socony one-quarter at 20⅛.

Ahead one to two points were Chrysler at 58⅞, Youngstown Sheet 77½, Santa Fe 107½, Central Railroad of N. J. 29¼, Southern Pacific 55½, Goodyear 45½, International Harvester 97¼, Wilson and Company 16 and Phelps Dodge 54⅝.

Improved were Republic Steel, Goodrich, United States Rubber, New York Central, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Gulf Oil, Mission Corporation, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Electric Power and Light, International Telephone, Anaconda, General Electric, Oliver Corporation, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, Schenley, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, Standard Oil (N.J.), Atlantic Coast Line and Chesapeake and Ohio.

The bond market had its slowest day in more than a month despite a little late-session activity.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, May 10. (AP)—The railroad strike threat had complete control of the grain market today. As a result, grain futures mostly advanced under the leadership of May contracts while cash prices declined. Trading in futures was light in view of the uncertain railroad situation. Closing prices:

B & O Railroad Furloughs Are All Cancelled

Trains Will Run As Usual Today

All Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employes, slated for furlough this morning because of a threatened strike of enginemen, firemen and switchmen, have been ordered to report to work as the furlough was cancelled by Roy B. White, president of the system, last night.

The announcement of the cancellation of the furlough came several hours before a spokesman for the three railroad unions stated at 9:20 p. m. (EST) that they "will comply with the judge's order," to call off the nation-wide rail strike they had scheduled for this morning. The spokesman referred to a court order signed yesterday by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough.

White's announcement cancelled previous orders abolishing assignments for enginemen, firemen, conductors, trainmen and yardmen, and all train and yard crews, together with other personnel ordered to report for regular services today.

H. F. Wyatt, division superintendent, said last night, that White's order cancels all scheduled furloughs, and before another furlough can be called, the customary four-day notice must be given.

At a late hour last night, no official word had been received here from union representatives of the enginemen, firemen and switchmen, as to their intentions. However, it was assumed here by railroad officials that the men who had threatened to tie up the system would continue on the job.

Observers point out that it has been the custom of unions generally to "refrain from striking against the government."

On May 6, White announced that an estimated 50,000 employes throughout the 11-state B and O system would be furloughed if the walkout came to pass. Wyatt estimated Friday that about 5,000 of the Cumberland Division's 6,900 employes here, at Martinsburg and Keyser, W. Va., were to be laid off.

White's announcement said, "All employes have been instructed to continue at work."

Mail To Move

With the Government expected to take over the railroads in the nation this morning, local postal authorities expected mail would move on schedule, with no delay, C. William McDermott, acting postmaster, announced yesterday.

Plans had been made to haul the mail in trucks to Elkins, W. Va., and Connellsville, Pa., where airmail pickup could be arranged. It was possible that a mail plane may have been secured to stop over at the local airport, if the strike went through as planned. Additional mail would have been dispatched via Western Maryland Railway to Elkins and Baltimore.

Labor Situation Still Unsettled

Although the weatherman granted sunny skies and summer temperatures to the Cumberland area over the weekend, the improved weather did nothing to clarify the cloudy labor situation here.

In spite of a meeting yesterday between labor leaders and heads of two of this city's major general contractors, the construction "holiday" picture remained unchanged with both sides reporting "no change" from the meeting.

Picketing at the Cement Products Company plant on Henderson avenue continued. The company has reported "normal operations" for several days.

No break was reported yesterday in the strike which halted operations of the Emery Motor Coach Lines in this area last Wednesday. Drivers of the line reported free service being operated by drivers for runs to the Celanese plant was good.

A company spokesman, confirming the lack of developments said R. L. Emery, operator of the line, will meet with a federal conciliator this week, but said he understood that a meeting could not be held before tomorrow.

The Weather

Summer-like weather prevailed in Cumberland yesterday as the mercury hit a new high for the year, My, wasn't it hot? But, it's weather like this that will make the crops grow and hurry the swimming pool managers in making ready for an early opening. The high for the day was 88 degrees, two more than the high for the year. The low for the 24-hour period was 61 and at 11 o'clock last night it was 71, and standing sorta stationary. For today, the weather is disappointing, as ye ole weatherman is again saying there will be lots of clouds, and thunderstorms in the late afternoon are anticipated.

NEW COURT DEPUTIES-- Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden, who succeeded the late Robert Jackson by appointment of Circuit Court judges, yesterday announced the appointment of his deputy clerks. The four deputies to serve under Boden are (standing, left to right) Merwin R. Hast, 537 Rose Hill Avenue; Charles Kingsley McDonald, Barton; and G. At last night's meeting, which was conducted by Barbara Bright, president, the council decided to hold an officers' training conference early in September at the Pleasant Valley recreation area in Garrett County.

The eight clubs in the council voted to donate $125 to the World Youth Fund, which will be used to re-establish YMCA work in war-devastated countries.

The meeting ended with the showing of a Colonel Stoopnagle comedy film on "How Not To Conduct A Club Meeting."

Archbishop Keough Will Return Here For SS. Peter And Paul Centennial

Most Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, Archbishop of Baltimore, who confirmed a large class of candidates at SS. Peter and Paul Church last night, will return here in October to officiate at ceremonies planned to celebrate the centennial of SS. Peter and Paul Church.

Rev. Alban Hammal, O. F. M. Cap., pastor of the church, said Archbishop Keough will officiate at a pontifical high mass to be held in SS. Peter and Paul Church October 17 at 10 a. m.

SS. Peter and Paul Church was established here a century ago to meet the spiritual needs of the German Catholics of the Cumberland area.

The cornerstone of the original church was laid June 4, 1848, and the edifice dedicated September 23, 1849 in honor of the Apostles Peter and Paul.

The historic church was established by the Redemptorist fathers who were succeeded in 1866 by the Carmelites who labored here until June 17, 1875.

The Order of Friars Minor, Capuchin, founded by St. Francis of Assisi, came to Cumberland in July, 1875, after the restrictions of the Prussian May laws caused the Westphalian Capuchins to seek refuge in the United States.

The parish last year embarked upon an elaborate redecorating and repair program in preparation for the centennial celebration.

STORE HEADS WILL CONSIDER PROPOSED NEW CONSTITUTION

The Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in Central YMCA to discuss the adoption of a new constitution, Harold W. Smith, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced.

The proposed constitution, he added, clarifies several points upon which there has been some misunderstanding. Also slated for discussion and action are:

A report from the advisory committee on procedure to be followed in adjusting store hours here. The study follows the presentation of a petition asking the group to discuss the adjustment of hours to include a night opening, preferably Monday night.

Action on closing of stores here on May 31 and July 5, since Memorial Day and Independence Day fall on Sundays.

Recognition of July 28 as Cumberland Day at the Cumberland Roces and action on closing local stores at 12 noon on that date.

Max W. Bastian, chairman of the Mercantile Bureau, will be in charge of the meeting.

Three Withdrawal Requests Received

Two local residents and a Frostburg man have requested that their names be withdrawn from a recently published list of 232 Allegany County residents who signed a Wallace for President petition.

RICHARD M. TWIGG and MRS. SARAH TWIGG, both of 1500 Virginia Avenue, signed identical requests, which read, "Please withdraw my name from the list of signers for Wallace."

EZRA MORGAN, Route 1, Frostburg, wrote:

"Please remove my name from that petition that I signed as I don't want any parts of the Communist party. I did not know what I was signing as I don't want any parts of it."

Despite numerous requests for withdrawal of names, which would cut the list of signers to less than 200, the Secretary of State has recalled an old state law which provides that the names, when signed, must remain on the petitions.

Park Concession Bids To Be Asked

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan said yesterday the city plans to advertise for bids for the soft drink and food concession at the Constitution Park Casino.

The lease agreement under which Anton Anthony has operated the concession since June, 1940, will expire May 31.

Decision to ask for bids was reached at a conference yesterday attended by Mayor Thomas S. Post, Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds and Finan.

This will be the first time that bids have been asked since Anthony secured the concession eight years ago.

The lease agreement, originally for two years, was extended for three years in 1942, and one-year extensions have been granted since 1945. Anthony paid an annual rental of $250 until June, 1946, when the rental was raised to $350.

City officials said yesterday that Anthony has not as yet made formal application for renewal of the lease.

County Prisoner Wanted In Kansas

Held in Allegany County Jail since April 27, when he was arrested on a charge of passing a worthless check, Francis Dietz, who gave a Johnstown, Pa., address, last night was ordered held for authorities in the State of Kansas.

County authorities said they received a message yesterday informing them that Dietz is wanted in Kansas on a charge of violating a three-year parole.

Informed of the detainer, Dietz, jail attendants said, declared he has not been in Kansas for 23 years. He admitted that he was paroled in that state but said he remained there until the parole time expired.

Local authorities said the man was arrested here on a charge of passing a worthless check drawn on the United States National Bank, Johnstown, which Harry W. Stottlemyer cashed.

The case was not prosecuted, according to authorities, when Dietz promised to make restitution for the check.

Jury Upholds Magistrate In Car Appeal Case

James McGee Loses Appeal Against Green

A Circuit Court jury returned a verdict in favor of Anderson J. Green, Frostburg, yesterday against James McGee, this city, in a case involving a car crash last November 24, near Lonaconing.

Green originally sued McGee in Trial Magistrates Court here and was awarded $118.35 damages by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

McGee appealed the verdict to Circuit Court and filed a counter suit, claiming $5,000 damages from Green.

The jury, with Griffin A. McGinn as foreman upheld the decision of Magistrate Bruce and awarded Green $118.35. The jury also returned a verdict for the defendant in McGee's suit against Green.

William H. Geppert, attorney for McGee told the jury that his client was operating his car at a speed of between 30 and 35 miles an hour and that Green's car was over the center line of the road.

Edward J. Ryan, counsel for Green, told the jurors that McGee was traveling at least 40 miles an hour as he sideswiped Green's machine and then careened along the road to strike another machine operated by a man named Whitehead. He also pointed out that McGee was traveling on the inside of a curve at that point and the force of gravity would throw him into the path of Green's car.

Archbishop Asks All To Observe Christian Piety

SS. Peter And Paul Confirmation Held

The graces bestowed through the Sacrament of Confirmation, Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, Archbishop of Baltimore, told a confirmation class of 200 candidates at SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church last night, will make you "perfect Christians and Soldiers of Christ."

Archbishop Keough, in a brief address, related the history of Pentecost and explained that the graces bestowed by the sacrament are sufficient to last throughout one's life.

He appealed for the observation of simple Christian piety and asked especially that families of the parish unite in prayer through the use of the Rosary.

You must never blush for your religion, he added, for to deny your faith is to become a traitor.

Assisting in the Confirmation ceremonies were Rev. Alban Hammal, O. F. M. Cap., pastor of the church, Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, and Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's Church. Father Ervan and Antonine, both of SS. Peter and Paul, served as deacon and sub-deacon.

Men To Be Quizzed In Shooting Case

Two men who are held in city jail in connection with a dispute Sunday morning at the Bolt and Forge Restaurant, Williams Street, that ended in a gun being fired and a local waitress being injured, will be questioned in the State's Attorney's office today, City Police said.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said investigating officers told him that Rose Arbogast, 52, 214 Columbia Street, the waitress, was treated in Memorial Hospital for flesh wounds on the head.

According to police, Bernard Tucker, Queen City Hotel, who is employed at the resaurant, fired the shot after George Stewart, 210 Fifth Street, hit him with a cup. Both men are held in city jail.

Police said the revolver allegedly used by Tucker was surrendered at police station by a witness who said he saw the shooting. Both Tucker and the Arbogast woman were taken to the hospital following the incident. Tucker, police said, denies firing the weapon.

Lt. Caswell To Speak

Lt. Kenneth Caswell, U.S.N.R. will speak at the Lions Club's weekly luncheon Wednesday at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. Lt. Caswell was recently called to active duty for a brief period to deliver several addresses on the Naval recruiting program.

37 Members Of Memorial Hospital Nursing Class Receive Diplomas

Thirty-seven members of the graduating class of the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing received their diplomas and pins last night at ceremonies in the auditorium of Fort Hill High School, attended by over 300 persons.

Two special awards were presented by Benjamin W. Wright, superintendent, who presided, to Miss Mary M. Haer and Miss Vivian Alleen Strieby.

Miss Haer received the Frank M. Wilson award of $50 for excellence in the operating room at the surgical table; and Miss Strieby received the Blane Schindler award of $25 for the best medical nursing bedside care.

He stated that the need for nurses was never greater than at present, pointing out that in Maryland alone, specialized hospitals are understaffed. The shortage is due in large part to demands for nurses by Veterans Administration hospitals, public health and industry, McMillin said.

He urged the graduating class to "live" their ideals, not just "dream them."

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of county schools and a member of the Memorial Hospital Board of Governors, presented diplomas to the 37 young women, who are now eligible to take state board examinations to become registered nurses.

Miss Frances L. Loftus, R. N., director of nurses at the hospital,

Foresters Battle 150-Acre Blaze Near Savage Dam

Flames Under Control Late Last Night

A forest fire on Savage Mountain, near the Savage River Dam, which started about 1:15 p. m. Sunday, was reported under control late last night after it had burned over about 150 acres, according to District Forester William A. Parr.

In an area that is extremely rocky and made up mostly of steep mountain slopes, the growth is about 50 per cent brush and about 50 per cent medium-sized timber, Parr said.

Forestry men from Allegany and Garrett counties worked on the fire in an effort to control it for nearly 36 hours, Parr said, and it appeared that it was confined to the 150 acre area.

Fighting the blaze of undetermined but possible incendiary origin was a difficult task because of the rugged nature of the area. It was impossible to get tractors, pumps or other forest fire-fighting equipment into the area, and men working the blaze walked two miles through the woods to reach it from the nearest passable road.

A crew of 35 men including 16 boys who are members of the Triple Forest Fire Service at Bruce High School, Westernport, went to the scene yesterday and fought the flames. They were finally relieved late yesterday afternoon by a crew from Oakland and another from Rawlings, Parr stated.

Late last night there were 30 men on the blaze, with one crew working around one side, and another crew cutting lanes and blocking the flames on the other. Myrl Wilt, forest supervisor in Garrett County, and Brook Bodkin, forest supervisor in this county, were in charge of operations.

Recent rains which left much moisture in the ground slowed the progress of the flames, but the fire spread rapidly as flames leaped from one tree top to another. Forestry men said, "It was a hot fire, and difficult to control."

This same area was burned over in 1930, forestry men recalled.

2 Men Sought In Attack On Negress

Two unidentified white men who allegedly jumped from a truck and attacked a local negress on Wineow Street early Sunday morning and took $4 from her are being sought, according to City Police.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn identified the woman as Annetta Frisby, 232 Frederick Street, and said the woman reported the incident to Police Headquarters at 2:45 a. m. Sunday.

The woman was quoted by police as saying she was walking down Wineow Street toward Grape Alley when the two men alighted from a truck and seized her. The investigating officer said her clothing was torn.

Police said that according to the victim the men were operating a "stake body" truck.

B & O Railroad Furloughs Are All Cancelled

Trains Will Run As Usual Today

All Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employes, slated for furlough this morning because of a threatened strike of enginemen, firemen and switchmen, have been ordered to report to work as the furlough was cancelled by Roy B. White, president of the system, last night.

The announcement of the cancellation of the furlough came several hours before a spokesman for the three railroad unions stated at 9:20 p. m. (EST) that they "will comply with the judge's order," to call off the nation-wide rail strike they had scheduled for this morning. The spokesman referred to a court order signed yesterday by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough.

White's announcement cancelled previous orders abolishing assignments for enginemen, firemen, conductors, trainmen and yardmen, and all train and yard crews, together with other personnel ordered to report for regular services today.

H. F. Wyatt, division superintendent, said last night, that White's order cancels all scheduled furloughs, and before another furlough can be called, the customary four-day notice must be given.

At a late hour last night, no official word had been received here from union representatives of the enginemen, firemen and switchmen, as to their intentions. However, it was assumed here by railroad officials that the men who had threatened to tie up the system would continue on the job.

Observers point out that it has been the custom of unions generally to "refrain from striking against the government."

On May 6, White announced that an estimated 50,000 employes throughout the 11-state B and O system would be furloughed if the walkout came to pass. Wyatt estimated Friday that about 5,000 of the Cumberland Division's 6,900 employes here, at Martinsburg and Keyser, W. Va., were to be laid off.

White's announcement said, "All employes have been instructed to continue at work."

Mail To Move

With the Government expected to take over the railroads in the nation this morning, local postal authorities expected mail would move on schedule, with no delay, C. William McDermott, acting postmaster, announced yesterday.

Plans had been made to haul the mail in trucks to Elkins, W. Va., and Connellsville, Pa., where airmail pickup could be arranged. It was possible that a mail plane may have been secured to stop over at the local airport, if the strike went through as planned. Additional mail would have been dispatched via Western Maryland Railway to Elkins and Baltimore.

Labor Situation Still Unsettled

Although the weatherman granted sunny skies and summer temperatures to the Cumberland area over the weekend, the improved weather did nothing to clarify the cloudy labor situation here.

In spite of a meeting yesterday between labor leaders and heads of two of this city's major general contractors, the construction "holiday" picture remained unchanged with both sides reporting "no change" from the meeting.

Picketing at the Cement Products Company plant on Henderson avenue continued. The company has reported "normal operations" for several days.

No break was reported yesterday in the strike which halted operations of the Emery Motor Coach Lines in this area last Wednesday. Drivers of the line reported free service being operated by drivers for runs to the Celanese plant was good.

A company spokesman, confirming the lack of developments said R. L. Emery, operator of the line, will meet with a federal conciliator this week, but said he understood that a meeting could not be held before tomorrow.

The Weather

Summer-like weather prevailed in Cumberland yesterday as the mercury hit a new high for the year. My, wasn't it hot? But, it's weather like this that will make the crops grow and hurry the swimming pool managers in making ready for an early opening. The high for the day was 88 degrees, two more than the high for the year. The low for the 24-hour period was 61 and at 11 o'clock last night it was 71, and standing sorta stationary. For today, the weather is disappointing, as ye ole weatherman is again saying there will be lots of clouds, and thunderstorms in the late afternoon are anticipated.

NEW COURT DEPUTIES--Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden, who succeeded the late Robert Jackson by appointment of Circuit Court judges, yesterday announced the appointment of his deputy clerks. The four deputies to serve under Boden are (standing, left to right) Merwin R. Hast, 537 Rose Hill Avenue; Charles Kingsley McDonald, Barton; and G. Walter Fisher, 215 Saratoga Street, and (seated) Mrs. Elizabeth Screen Wiebel, 433 Franklin Street. Hast assumes the duties of equity docket clerk, formerly handled by Boden. He has been in the clerk's office 18 years and was city clerk here for 14 years under Dr. Thomas W. Koon, mayor. McDonald, who has been law docket clerk for 10 years, retains his job; and Fisher, in charge of the land records and recording office for 18 years, retains his position. Mrs. Weibel will be secretary to Boden and continue to handle passports and naturalization papers. She has been in the office for almost 26 years. All the deputies to the new clerk have been lifelong residents and members of the Republican party.

Outstanding Seniors To Receive Emblems

Plans were made last night at a meeting of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Council for the annual banquet of the organization, to be held Monday, May 24, at 6:15 p. m. in the gymnasium of Central YMCA.

Approximately 275 members of the eight clubs at Allegany, Fort Hill, Bruce and Beall High Schools are expected to attend, according to Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary of the "Y."

Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney of Allegany County, will be the principal speaker.

Five outstanding seniors selected by each club will receive Hi-Y or Tri-Hi-Y emblems, to be presented by Adam.

William Price, secretary of Allegany Hi-Y, will act as toastmaster. The invocation will be given by Patty Close, chaplain of the Fort Hill Junior Tri-Hi-Y.

An address of welcome will be given by Don Sensabaugh, president of the Fort Hill Hi-Y. Musical selections will be presented by the Allegany High School Octet, directed by Miss Joyce Bestwick. Miss Bestwick will also lead group singing.

Ralph Dayton, chaplain of the Bruce Hi-Y, will give the benediction.

During intermission, a technicolor film, "The Shortest Way Home," describing the experiences of a returned veteran, will be shown. The program will be concluded with dancing to the music of the Top Hats.

Jeanne Marquis, vice president of Allegany Tri-Hi-Y, is chairman of the committee in charge. She will be assisted by Norman Evans of Fort Hill, Martha Fortney of Bruce, and Demos Carros of Allegany.

At last night's meeting, which was conducted by Barbara Bright, president, the council decided to hold an officers' training conference early in September at the Pleasant Valley recreation area in Garrett County.

Archbishop Keough Will Return Here For SS. Peter And Paul Centennial

Most Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, Archbishop of Baltimore, who confirmed a large class of candidates at SS. Peter and Paul Church last night, will return here in October to officiate at ceremonies planned to celebrate the centennial of SS. Peter and Paul Church.

Rev. Alban Hammal, O. F. M. Cap., pastor of the church, said Archbishop Keough will officiate at a pontifical high mass to be held in SS. Peter and Paul Church October 17 at 10 a. m.

SS. Peter and Paul Church was established here a century ago to meet the spiritual needs of the German Catholics of the Cumberland area.

The cornerstone of the original church was laid June 4, 1848, and the edifice dedicated September 23, 1849 in honor of the Apostles Peter and Paul.

The historic church was established by the Redemptorist fathers who were succeeded in 1866 by the Carmelites who labored here until June 17, 1875.

The Order of Friars Minor, Capuchin, founded by St. Francis of Assisi, came to Cumberland in July, 1875, after the restrictions of the Prussian May laws caused the Westphalian Capuchins to seek refuge in the United States.

The parish last year embarked upon an elaborate redecorating and repair program in preparation for the centennial celebration.

STORE HEADS WILL CONSIDER PROPOSED NEW CONSTITUTION

The Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in Central YMCA to discuss the adoption of a new constitution, Harold W. Smith, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced.

The proposed constitution, he added, clarifies several points upon which there has been some misunderstanding. Also slated for discussion and action are:

A report from the advisory committee on procedure to be followed in adjusting store hours here. The study follows the presentation of a petition asking the group to discuss the adjustment of hours to include a night opening, preferably Monday night.

Action on closing of stores here on May 31 and July 5, since Memorial Day and Independence Day fall on Sundays.

Recognition of July 28 as Cumberland Day at the Cumberland Roces and action on closing local stores at 12 noon on that date.

Max W. Bastian, chairman of the Mercantile Bureau, will be in charge of the meeting.

Three Withdrawal Requests Received

Two local residents and a Frostburg man have requested that their names be withdrawn from a recently published list of 232 Allegany County residents who signed a Wallace for President petition.

RICHARD M. TWIGG and MRS. SARAH TWIGG, both of 1500 Virginia Avenue, signed identical requests, which read, "Please withdraw my name from the list of signers for Wallace."

EZRA MORGAN, Route 1, Frostburg, wrote:

"Please remove my name from that petition that I signed as I don't want any parts of the Communist party. I did not know what I was signing as I don't want any parts of it."

Despite numerous requests for withdrawal of names, which would cut the list of signers to less than 200, the Secretary of State has recalled an old state law which provides that the names, when signed, must remain on the petitions.

Park Concession Bids To Be Asked

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan said yesterday the city plans to advertise for bids for the soft drink and food concession at the Constitution Park Casino.

The lease agreement under which Anton Anthony has operated the concession since June, 1940, will expire May 31.

Decision to ask for bids was reached at a conference yesterday attended by Mayor Thomas S. Post, Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds and Finan.

This will be the first time that bids have been asked since Anthony secured the concession eight years ago.

The lease agreement, originally for two years, was extended for three years in 1942, and one-year extensions have been granted since 1945. Anthony paid an annual rental of $250 until June, 1946, when the rental was raised to $350.

City officials said yesterday that Anthony has not as yet made formal application for renewal of the lease.

County Prisoner Wanted In Kansas

Held in Allegany County Jail since April 27, when he was arrested on a charge of passing a worthless check, Francis Dietz, who gave a Johnstown, Pa., address, last night was ordered held for authorities in the State of Kansas.

County authorities said they received a message yesterday informing them that Dietz is wanted in Kansas on a charge of violating a three-year parole.

Informed of the detainer, Dietz, jail attendants said, declared he has not been in Kansas for 23 years. He admitted that he was paroled in that state but said he remained there until the parole time expired.

Local authorities said the man was arrested here on a charge of passing a worthless check drawn on the United States National Bank, Johnstown, which Harry W. Stottlemyer cashed.

The case was not prosecuted, according to authorities, when Dietz promised to make restitution for the check.

Jury Upholds Magistrate In Car Appeal Case

James McGee Loses Appeal Against Green

A Circuit Court jury returned a verdict in favor of Anderson J. Green, Frostburg, yesterday against James McGee, this city, in a case involving a car crash last November 24, near Lonaconing.

Green originally sued McGee in Trial Magistrates Court here and was awarded $118.35 damages by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

McGee appealed the verdict to Circuit Court and filed a counter suit, claiming $5,000 damages from Green.

The jury, with Griffin A. McGinn as foreman upheld the decision of Magistrate Bruce and awarded Green $118.35. The jury also returned a verdict for the defendant in McGee's suit against Green.

William H. Geppert, attorney for McGee told the jury that his client was operating his car at a speed of between 30 and 35 miles an hour and that Green's car was over the center line of the road.

Edward J. Ryan, counsel for Green, told the jurors that McGee was traveling at least 40 miles an hour as he sideswiped Green's machine and then careened along the road to strike another machine operated by a man named Whitehead. He also pointed out that McGee was traveling on the inside of a curve at that point and the force of gravity would throw him into the path of Green's car.

Archbishop Asks All To Observe Christian Piety

SS. Peter And Paul Confirmation Held

The graces bestowed through the Sacrament of Confirmation, Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, Archbishop of Baltimore, told a confirmation class of 200 candidates at SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church last night, will make you "perfect Christians and Soldiers of Christ."

Archbishop Keough, in a brief address, related the history of Pentecost and explained that the graces bestowed by the sacrament are sufficient to last throughout one's life.

He appealed for the observation of simple Christian piety and asked especially that families of the parish unite in prayer through the use of the Rosary.

You must never blush for your religion, he added, for to deny your faith is to become a traitor.

Assisting in the Confirmation ceremonies were Rev. Alban Hammal, O. F. M. Cap., pastor of the church, Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, and Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's Church. Father Ervan and Antonine, both of SS. Peter and Paul, served as deacon and sub-deacon.

Two men who are held in city jail in connection with a dispute Sunday morning at the Bolt and Forge Restaurant, Williams Street, that ended in a gun being fired and a local waitress being injured, will be questioned in the State's Attorney's office today, City Police said.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said investigating officers told him that Rose Arbogast, 52, 214 Columbia Street, the waitress, was treated in Memorial Hospital for flesh wounds on the head.

According to police, Bernard Tucker, Queen City Hotel, who is employed at the resaurant, fired the shot after George Stewart, 210 Fifth Street, hit him with a cup. Both men are held in city jail.

Police said the revolver allegedly used by Tucker was surrendered at police station by a witness who said he saw the shooting. Both Tucker and the Arbogast woman were taken to the hospital following the incident. Tucker, police said, denies firing the weapon.

Foresters Battle 150-Acre Blaze Near Savage Dam

Flames Under Control Late Last Night

A forest fire on Savage Mountain, near the Savage River Dam, which started about 1:15 p. m. Sunday, was reported under control late last night after it had burned over about 150 acres, according to District Forester William A. Parr.

In an area that is extremely rocky and made up mostly of steep mountain slopes, the growth is about 50 per cent brush and about 50 per cent medium-sized timber, Parr said.

Forestry men from Allegany and Garrett counties worked on the fire in an effort to control it for nearly 36 hours, Parr said, and it appeared that it was confined to the 150 acre area.

Fighting the blaze of undetermined but possible incendiary origin was a difficult task because of the rugged nature of the area. It was impossible to get tractors, pumps or other forest fire-fighting equipment into the area, and men working the blaze walked two miles through the woods to reach it from the nearest passable road.

A crew of 35 men including 16 boys who are members of the Triple Forest Fire Service at Bruce High School, Westernport, went to the scene yesterday and fought the flames. They were finally relieved late yesterday afternoon by a crew from Oakland and another from Rawlings, Parr stated.

Late last night there were 30 men on the blaze, with one crew working around one side, and another crew cutting lanes and blocking the flames on the other. Myrl Wilt, forest supervisor in Garrett County, and Brook Bodkin, forest supervisor in this county, were in charge of operations.

Recent rains which left much moisture in the ground slowed the progress of the flames, but the fire spread rapidly as flames leaped from one tree top to another. Forestry men said, "It was a hot fire, and difficult to control."

This same area was burned over in 1930, forestry men recalled.

2 Men Sought In Attack On Negress

Two unidentified white men who allegedly jumped from a truck and attacked a local negress on Wineow Street early Sunday morning and took $4 from her are being sought, according to City Police.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn identified the woman as Annetta Prisby, 232 Frederick Street, and said the woman reported the incident to Police Headquarters at 2:45 a. m. Sunday.

The woman was quoted by police as saying she was walking down Wineow Street toward Grape Alley when the two men alighted from a truck and seized her. The investigating officer said her clothing was torn.

Police said that according to the victim the men were operating a "stake body" truck.

37 Members Of Memorial Hospital Nursing Class Receive Diplomas

Thirty-seven members of the graduating class of the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing received their diplomas and pins last night at ceremonies in the auditorium of Fort Hill High School, attended by over 300 persons.

Two special awards were presented by Benjamin W. Wright, superintendent, who presided, to Miss Mary M. Haer and Miss Vivian Alleen Strieby.

Miss Haer received the Frank M. Wilson award of $50 for excellence in the operating room at the surgical table; and Miss Strieby received the Blane Schindler award of $25 for the best medical nursing bedside care.

He stated that the need for nurses was never greater than at present, pointing out that in Maryland alone, specialized hospitals are understaffed. The shortage is due in large part to demands for nurses by Veterans Administration hospitals, public health and industry, McMillin said.

He urged the graduating class to "live" their ideals, not just "dream them."

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of county schools and a member of the Memorial Hospital Board of Governors, presented diplomas to the 37 young women, who are now eligible to take state board examinations to become registered nurses.

Miss Frances L. Loftus, R. N., director of nurses at the hospital,
